JOSEPHSON'S.

Hon. Henry Beckley Dead.

Hon. Henry Beckley, of Elktion, died at The Dalles, shortly after midnight Saturday morning. He left home a few days ago, in company with his daughters Misses Mollie and Susie Beckley, and two nieces, Misses Grace Beckley and Leona Corbin, on a visit to his old home, in Missouri. The party were joined at Portland by Mr. Beckley's son, James, who accompanied them East. Mr. Beckley was taken sick shortly after leaving Portland, and when the train arrived at The Dalles he left the train in order to have the services of a physician, but he died shortly after leaving the train. The remains were brought back to Elktion, where the funeral and interment took place yesterday. Mr. Beckley was a pioneer of Douglas county, having come to Oregon in 1853. He was born in Switzerland county, Indiana, January 10, 1822, and removed to Missouri, from which place he came to Oregon. He was married to Miss Mary Woodson at Yoncalla, this county, January 10th, 1861. He was the father of thirteen children, eleven of whom survive him. Mr. Beckley took an active part in county affairs, and at different times was elected county commissioner, representative and state senator. He was one of the most successful business men in the county, and leaves considerable property, as a result of a life of industry and honesty. He leaves a host of friends, who mourn his death.

Amount of Wool Used.

Oregon and Washington Have Seventeen Millions on Hand.

PORTLAND, E. O.: Woolmen, although they have been tending towards advising growers to consign their clip, are not yet securing any large amount of wool. Practically no wool moving, and growers remain undecided as to the advisability of accepting the offers made by houses that want consigned wool. It is understood that several deals are being figured on, and may fructify in something definite before many days have gone by. Woolmen were figuring today on the clips of Oregon and Washington, and figures obtained for the various points in Oregon were:

The Dalles, 5,000,000 pounds
 Arlington, 1,500,000 pounds
 Heppner, 3,000,000 pounds
 Pendleton, 2,000,000 pounds
 Baker City, 600,000 pounds
 Eglin, 1,000,000 pounds
 La Grande, 1,000,000 pounds
 Lewiston, where is handled much wool from Oregon sheep, 600,000 pounds.
 Willamette valley, 600,000 pounds.
 Total for Oregon, 16,300,000 pounds.

When Washington's clip is added, the total swells to about 20,000,000 pounds. It was thought that at least 17,000,000 pounds were remaining in Oregon and Washington, from this year's clip.

E. H. Clarke, representing Sibirman Brothers, said today that absolutely nothing has been done for weeks, beyond the consigning of some wool to the East.

A Turtle Farm.

Four miles north of Junction on the road running between Monroe and Harrisburg, is a turtle farm of which but little has been said, yet from whose ponds there has been shipped to city markets a good many turtles, whose delicate flesh has added to the flavor of the much loved consommé. The farm is owned and managed by O. J. Campbell, and he has been engaged in the enterprise for nearly three years. Mr. Campbell raises the native Oregon turtle and has on hand at present about 3500, of which 1500 may be said to be young. Every year he sends men out to the ponds of Lane, Linn and Douglas counties armed with nets and other devices for catching the turtles.—Eugene Guard.

Accidentally Shot.

Mrs. W. A. Pearson, who is operator at the station at West Ford, during her husband's absence while he is officiating as S. P. station agent at Glendale, took a spin on her bicycle, Tuesday, along the track for a few miles, and had a pistol in the pocket of her dress for protection on the trip. When a short distance from the West Fork station, on her return, the pistol fell to the ground, and in striking went off, and the ball made an ugly flesh wound in the leg and arm of the lady. She was taken to the station and her injuries attended to.—Ashland Tidings.

BINGER HERMANN HONORED.

Union League Tenders Him a Banquet and Reception.

Binger Hermann, Commissioner of the General Land Office, was the guest of honor at a banquet and reception given by the Union League Club last evening. The banquet was given in the Conservatory Hall of the Palace Hotel. This was followed by a reception in the rooms of the Union League Club, which was attended by the members of the newly organized Union League Drill Corps as well as the club members. It was quite a large gathering, and the assembly hall of the club was comfortably filled with guests.

Commissioner Hermann was introduced to the gathering by General N. P. Chipman, who testified to all the good works accomplished for California and the Pacific Coast by the gentleman when he represented his district in Oregon in the House of Representatives. Commissioner Hermann responded with a happy prediction of success for the republican party at the polls in November and with an eulogy of the administration and President McKinley. Other addresses were made by M. M. Eate, General W. H. L. Barnes and J. C. Campbell. Introductions and handshaking followed the oratory.—San Francisco Chronicle.

"Remember the Maine"

That the above caption is engraved on the heart of every American citizen is exemplified in the success of Jossey & Marvin's scenic production of the great American play "The Signal of Liberty," which will be produced at the opera house Thursday evening, September 22. The play deals with events that were big with history in the war with Spain. The Maine entering Havana harbor, the explosion and wreck of the Maine; the sinking of the Merrimac in Santiago channel; the bombardment of Moroc castle, Santiago, and the destruction of Corvera's fleet by the American squadron, combined with a story of intense heart interest, all goes to make an "unforgettable" which cannot fail to touch the heart of the theatergoer of today. The company is said to be a strong one, the scenic effects unsurpassed, and in consequence the play of "The Signal of Liberty" will do an enormous business at the opera house where it has an engagement of one night only, Thursday, September 22.

Two Fruit Dryers Burned.

At an early hour last Friday morning one of the large fruit dryers on the B. C. Agee fruit farm caught fire, and the fire being communicated to an adjoining dryer both were burned to the ground. There were a large number of employees on the farm at the time, some engaged at the dryers and warehouses and others in picking fruit, and all hands did what they could to subdue the flames, but without success. The fire was also communicated to the large warehouse in which was stored 40,000 pounds of dried prunes, but this building and contents were saved after a hard fight. The loss amounted to about $1200. No insurance. Mr. Agee has yet three large dryers, and they will be taxed to their utmost to take care of the remainder of the crops.

Longs For Oregon Apples.

In a letter to Dr. W. H. Taylor, under date of August 5, Hon. John F. Caples, United States consul at Valparaiso, Chile, writes that in another month spring will open and he will be glad of it. It has been a little cold there, which, however, would not amount to anything if they had fruit in that country.
 Whenever the people get cold in Valparaiso, they either put on more clothes or turn on the gas. The judge also writes that there is little other than tropical fruit in that country, and he longs for a good, juicy, Oregon apple.

In referring to the war situation he writes that the English population of Valparaiso is very anxious that the United States retain the Philippines.

It was about the 1st of August that Judge Caples received copies of the Oregonian containing an account of the republican victory in Oregon at the June election, and he expresses his great satisfaction over the result.—Portland Telegram.
