GEORGIA'S ELECTION.

Populists Lose Heavily to Democrats.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—Hon. A. D. Chandler's majority for governor over Hagan, pop., is 55,000. This figure is about 20,000 above the democratic majority for governor two years ago. Several counties which returned populist majorities at that time show a complete reversal in favor of the democrats. The return of a solid democratic delegation to congress is assured.

Oregon Colleges.

The following list, emanating from the office of State Superintendent G. M. Irwin, presents the names and locations of the chartered institutions of learning in the state which have authority to grant their graduates state diplomas of this state:

Albany college, Albany; College of Philomath; LaFayette seminary, LaFayette; McMinnville college, McMinnville; Mineral Springs college, Sodaville; Mt. Angel seminary and college, Mt. Angel; Mt. Angel academy, Mt. Angel; Pacific college, Newberg; Portland university, University Park; Santiam academy, Lebanon; Radical college of Philomath, Philomath; St. Francis college, Baker city; St. Mary's academy, Portland; State agriculture college, Corvallis; University of Oregon, Eugene; State normal school, Monmouth; State normal school, Weston; State normal school, Drain; Ashland normal college, Ashland, and Willamette university, Salem.

Settle Up.

All persons indebted to the undersigned are hereby notified and requested to come forward and make prompt settlement. All notes and accounts not paid immediately will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. This means like it reads. We are going out of business, and must have a settlement.

CARD BROOK.

J. Hogan of Oakland attended the fair Friday.

Mrs. F. W. Benson and sons, Clifford and Wallace, went to Portland Thursday night.

Major E. F. Waish has moved with his family to Roseburg, from his farm at Ollaia, and will reside here during the winter.

Hon. John H. Slope, one of the legislative clerk, spent Sunday with his family at Roseburg, returning to Salem this morning.

Died, at her home, in Roseburg, Sunday, October 9th, Mrs. Andrew Ford. The funeral took place this afternoon, the interment being in the Masonic cemetery.

C. E. Carns of Canyonville passed through Roseburg today on his way to Alsea, Benton county, where he expects to make his home for a time at least. He retains his property interests in Douglas county and he hopes he will again become a citizen of this county.

The PLAINDEALER follows him and he will thus keep posted in regard to his old home.

John Gilmore and wife, of Roseburg, arrived here on the boat last night intending to visit their son, Mat Gilmore, and son-in-law, Frank Martin, of this city, and go over to Kiekitt to visit another son, Ad. Gilmore, of Block house. While paying a friendly call on T. J. Lynch, at McCoy's barber shop this morning, Mr. Gilmore was taken suddenly ill with what Dr. Geisendorfer, who was called in, fears is apoplexy.—The Dalles Times Mountaineer.

The District Fair.

The district fair which closed Saturday was one of the most successful, financially and otherwise, that was ever held in the county. The exhibits of green fruit and vegetables were simply immense. The showing of dried fruits was not so good as on former occasions, owing to the fact that a number of those persons who have on former occasions taken an interest in this class of exhibits were unable on account of sickness or other causes to make their usual exhibits.

The display in the fine arts was especially fine and would do credit to a much larger exposition. The races were good, and considering the condition of the track some remarkably fast time was made. The attendance was large throughout the fair and the receipts are building up to the expectation of the managers.

The management is entitled to great credit for bringing about one of the most successful and profitable fairs ever held in the county. The list of awards will be published as soon as obtained.

Judge Tustin Leaves for Alaska.

Hon. Fred Page-Tustin will leave on Tuesday morning's local for Portland. After spending a few days visiting friends in Portland they will go to Seattle where they will embark for Wrangell, Alaska, their future home.

The local lodge of Elks of which society Mr. Tustin is a prominent member, and which was instituted and brought to its present prominence mainly through his efforts, held a social and fraternal meeting Saturday evening in his honor. Mr. Tustin presented the lodge with an excellent portrait of himself, and the lodge presented him with a certificate of life membership suitably engraved on silver. Speeches and addresses were made by the members expressive of their regard for the first exalted ruler of their lodge, and eulogizing his worth as a citizen and man. Judge Tustin and his estimable wife have a host of friends in Roseburg, and in fact in every part of Oregon, who, while they regret to part with him, are glad of his advancement to so important a position as that to which he has been appointed.

Cleveland.

Pleasant weather at present.

The first week of school passed off quietly.

Mr. S. S. Negus and son were in the county seat last week.

The autumn leaves are turning yellow, and the stubblefields are turning gray.

The dance given at J. W. Pierce's, September 30, was a grand success.

Virgil Woodruff, of Melrose, was seen passing along the road in his buggy, with a smiling face.

Wallace Murdoch, Hermann Marsters and Leonard Bateman took in the fair last Tuesday.

Ernest Crane paid Oakland a visit last week.

Mr. Ed. Marsters, of Coles Valley, has moved to the Mountain View farm. S. S. Negus is working for Mr. Gilliam, of Garden Valley.

Leo Marsters had some of his angora goats at the fair, at Roseburg.

Mr. VanDyke, of Coles Valley, was up here last week.

CLEVELAND JAYS.

LETTER FROM MANILA.

D. R. Shambrook Writes To the Eastern Star.

The following interesting letter to his brothers and sisters, of the Eastern Star, is published by request of his friends:

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 21, 1898.

Dear Brothers and Sisters: Your esteemed and highly appreciated favor of July 7th reached me August 21st. I assure you all that I was very glad to hear from you, glad to know that you have not forgotten me. Although separated by many thousand miles I often think of the pleasant evenings that we have all spent around the points of the Star, of the nice coffee and cake, also the nice rich cream that Agnes brought. We don't have anything of that kind here, and are very anxious to get back again, to see if the coffee and cream is the same as it used to be. Those nice red apples that Brother Free used to bring over in his basket to the Star, would be curiosities here and would bring a nickle apiece.

We left Cavite one week ago yesterday to capture Manila. From Cavite to Manila is eight miles by water. We were all loaded into boats about 6 p. m., and started for Manila. Everybody was excited and anxious to see the fight. About 10 o'clock they commenced bombarding. After about one hour the war, as far as Manila was concerned, was over, and they began making arrangements on the Spanish side for surrendering, and at 6 in the evening we were unopposed in Manila. I wish you could have been here to have seen the Spaniards marching in and laying down their arms. They came by the thousands marching just in front of us, some with shoes on and some barefooted, but as a general thing they were very well equipped. They set one vessel on fire just before we landed. The sailors from one of the gunboats tried to put out the fire but failed.

Manila is very strongly fortified; it is surrounded by a high, thick stone wall; every building is a fort within itself. The Spanish people seem to be very friendly, the only trouble we expect is with the natives. They are bothering the water pipes and stopping the water supply. We have about 130 Philippine prisoners in the guard house. The city has a patrol of police composed of natives and our boys, they keep a lookout for spies and insurgents, and when they find any they arrest them, and put them in the guard house.

If you people were here you could get relics enough to fill the Star's dining room. When I come back I will bring you all something in memory of Manila, if it isn't anything but a diamond ring. I am sergeant of the guard today, and will be up all night. George Day is one of the corporals. All of the Roseburg boys are well except George Starnes, he has not been well since we left San Francisco.

This is a very rainy country, it just comes down in sheets until the streets are flooded, and then it will turn off hot enough to roast a negro. At night mosquitoes are very fashionable, and a soldier caught without one on after type, is thrown into the guard house. Another thing that is becoming very stylish, is no to wash your face but once a week. Another thing that we are becoming accustomed to, is to sit flat footed on the ground and eat our meals, and I expect when I get home again, that the bugle will have to be blown before each meal, and then I might be seen with my tin cup, plate and fork rushing to the cook house, waiting for my turn, and after eating my ration, might be seen slipping around again to see if I could work the cooks for something more. With the kindest regards to you all, and all inquiring brothers and sisters I am fraternally your brother.

D. R. SHAMBROOK.

Upper Olalla Items.

The fall rains have come again and the young grass is beginning to grow.

The J. G. Day Mining Co. has commenced work at their mines again. They have started their big saw mill to cut lumber for their mining flumes. They have in their employ now about six men, mostly men and boys of Upper Olalla. We understand they will finish their big ditch this fall which will cover the whole of their mining lands.

Mr. Ed. Rider is now moving to his old home in Upper Olalla, near the Olalla Lumber and Box Mills.

Jack Rider, of this place, who had the misfortune to lose his house and barn by fire a short time ago, is now preparing to rebuild, having ordered his lumber at the new Olalla mill.

Mr. Clarence Cooper and sister, Lottie, have returned home Washington, where they have been during the summer. They reported times good in that part of the country.

The Friend, Cooper and Co., new saw mill and box factory are now turning out a fine lot of fir, sugar pine and cedar lumber; anyone in need of first class lumber of any description should give them a call, as they guarantee their lumber and boxes first class.

I. and D. Winingham brought in a nice lot of venison from the head of Twelve Mile recently.

Freddie Parmentier is getting to be quite an expert with the iron horse, as can blow the whistle as long and loud as any one in these parts.

L. Parmentier is at the helm in the J. G. Day saw mill, which he will have for an indefinite period.
