

AROUND THE WORLD ON BIKES.

Over Three and One-half Years to Make the Trip.

(Inter-Ocean, December 2)

Dr. and Mrs. H. Darwin McElrath completed yesterday one of the most remarkable tours made unofficially or without government support...

This mere outline would mark an extraordinary trip if accomplished by a company of tourists...

In going through China, the traveler under usual circumstances would go by steamer or revenue-boat up the river Yangtze...

They ran through the back alleys as well as scorching along the highways from mobs. They saw every phase of life in the interior of China.

They were often in danger. They had many trying experiences. They were the central figures in many hazardous adventures.

Men, women, and children followed the course of Dr. McElrath and "The Little Women" with unwavering interest...

The McElraths have not only seen wonderful things, passed through extraordinary experiences and adventures, but they have contributed largely to the world's stock of information.
