MANILA LETTER.

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 11, 1898.

NOTION PLAINDEALER: Many hearts were made glad by the receipt of letters from home which arrived yesterday, being the first received since the 17th ult. It becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of another member of our company, John Penton, who died at Division Hospital November 10, at 7:20 a. m. and was laid to rest at Pao Cemetery, at 4 p. m. of the same day. His death was caused by "purpura hemorrhagica" following malarial fever. Funeral exercises were conducted by Rev. W. S. Gilbert, our regimental chaplain, and were very touching. At the close of his remarks, few eyes were dry.

This is the 17th death in our regiment and the third in company B, two being from among the Roseburg boys. In the hospital at present from our company are privates Bleh, Drew and B. C. Smith, of Ashland, and in convalescent ward, Sam Starmer and Oscar Sinsleton of Roseburg. Jas. Evans and James Baldwin also spent a few days of last week in hospital, but are now doing duty with the company being fully recovered.

C. Ronald Geo. Day was laid up several days with his arm made sore by vaccination but is again on duty.

Sgt. Stambrook and Musician Purdy made a trip over to Cavite the other day and brought back quite a collection of shells and other curios.

We have now spent a little over six months in the service of Uncle Sam.

As this will perhaps not reach you until about the proper time I will close, wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. F. B. H.

The Right Man in the Right Place

The gratifying success which General Wood has already achieved in his government of the province of Santiago can be paralleled all over the island of Cuba if the work of administration is put into the hands of men like him. In fact, it is opportunity in Cuba for an almost magical transformation is obvious from a glance at the situation. Things could not be worse than they are, as the Spanish withdrawal. In addition to the desolation wrought by three years of cruel war, the country is prostrated by the accumulated effects of many years of bad government. Taxation has been something frightful, amounting for the general government alone, to more than $20 per capita, or about three times what it is in the United States, though so much better able to bear it. One half at least of this crushing burden can be at once removed, and still leave far more money to spend on public works than the Cubans have ever known. There never was a better chance to make a brilliant record of improvement than is offered the United States during the military control of Cuba, and if it is thrown away, the disgrace will be only so much the deeper.

Divulged a Cabinet Secret

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says: Former Secretary of State John Sherman, in an interview, tells an interesting cabinet secret, which in the days before the war was frequently suspected, but never established. With considerable emotion, the ex-secretary said:

"I tried to prevent this foolish war with Spain. As a matter of fact, negotiations were already in progress to purchase Cuba from Spain when the war feeling suddenly rose and swept everything before it. And Spain would have accepted the terms."

"This is a matter of secret history. And now what have we got to show for all this expense? Some islands in the Philippines, for instance, which are worth about $200,000 per annum income; increased indebtedness of $200,000,000 and a lot of islands inhabited mainly by man-eaters. And the most distressing feature of the affair is that we are now about to be called upon to pay $200,000,000 for territory that we could have taken without a dollar."

Havana's Heavy Death.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: The American officials and private citizens alike, after a casual inspection of Havana, generally declare the reports of its unsanitary and unhealthy condition to be gross exaggerations.

It requires a careful inspection to reveal how terrible the conditions now existing really are. Incubators of disease exist in the houses rather than in the streets, and death is so often seen that it becomes commonplace. These facts are revealed in their fullest hideousness only when framed with figures.

General Greene had a fair appreciation of the seriousness of the situation when he first reached Havana, but is only now, when his staff officers have made their reports, that he realizes the problem that will confront his successor, General Ludlow.

Captain Davis, who has not yet completed his inspection of the hospitals, prisons and public buildings, shows in his reports to General Greene such a condition of affairs as probably exists in no other city of the world. Speaking today Davis made this striking comparison:

"Vienna, with a million and one-half people, has been called the pest hole of Europe because of its death rate of more than 25 to the thousand, yet Havana, with less than one-sixth of its population, has more deaths in 11 months than Vienna has in 12. The deaths this year in Havana will outnumber those in Chicago by probably 5000, and will exceed the totals of Boston, St. Louis, Baltimore and San Francisco combined."

Obituary.

Albert G. Baldwin died at his home in Lane county, Tuesday, December 13, 1898, aged twenty-nine years and four months. He had been ill only three days of neuralgia of the stomach, but the immediate cause of his death was internal hemorrhage.

He was conscious to the last and left loving messages to his absent sisters and brother. He died a true Christian's death. Just before the end came he said: "Mother, you always said you wanted to go before any of your children, but I'm going first, and when you come I'll greet you with a kiss and a glad cry."

While it is hard to give our best loved ones here, we know it is not for long. He is not dead but sleeping. He has only gone before to join our dear father who passed away nearly six years ago.

Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding, O'er the souls that death has won, We would at the solemn meeting, Calmly say, Thy will be done.

Though cast down, we're not forsaken, Though afflicted, not alone, Thous didst give, and Thou hast taken, Blessed Lord, Thy will be done.

In Memoriam.

To the W. M. Wardens and Brethren of Laurel Lodge No. 13, A. F. & A. M.:

Your committee appointed to draft a report expressive of the feelings of the lodge relative to the death of our brother, John Rast, beg leave to report:

That for more than thirty years Brother John Rast has lived in our midst; for more than thirty years he has been an honored member of the lodge, and for many years the treasurer. He married in our town and has raised a family of children, some of whom have grown to manhood and womanhood around here.

John Rast was an upright Mason, a kind and loving husband and an efficient and intelligent laborer. His wife and beyond all else was that noble work of God, an "innocent man," although a man of affairs and of large property and business interests, he was as pure as any other man in our community. He labored for the upbuilding and advancement of our town and county.

His hand was always open to relieve the poor, the needy and distressed. No appeal for relief as a needy or discouraged friend or brother was passed by unheeded by our deceased brother.

A man of sound, honest, kind and true, John Rast has gone from this our earthly lodge to the grand lodge above, across the dark river, through the dark valley, there to meet with friends and brothers, who have gone before and dwell with them in the supreme grand lodge not made with hands eternal in the heavens.

That to the stricken family of our deceased brother the lodge tender sincerely sympathy in this hour of their desolation. May the hand of the Supreme Architect, guide and comfort them.

Resolved, further that this report of your committee be spread in full upon the minutes of the lodge and a copy thereof transmitted by our secretary to the family of the deceased and furnished to the local newspapers for publication, and that our lodge room be draped in mourning.

J. C. FULLERTON, ASHER MARKS, G. M. BROWN, Committee.

To the shareholders of the Roseburg Building & Loan Association of Roseburg, Oregon:

HERMAN MARKS, Sec.

Mrs. Charles Adams, who came to Lakeview with her husband and four children, from Rogue river, several months ago, has left her family and taken up with a young man she liked better, says the Lakeview Examiner. She informed her husband that she did not want to be bothered any more with children. He will likely take them back to Rogue river, where some of his folks live.

Valuable Lintment.

Let every farmer when he butchers his best fall be sure and save the gilt, as it makes one of the most valuable lintments for man or beast. Put gail in a bottle large enough to hold alcohol enough to cut the gail, set on mantle or any warm place, let stand three days, shake it a few times and it is ready for use. Good for burns, cuts or bruises of any kind. If hot weather, apply lintment at once to the fresh wound. It needs no balmage, as a fly will not come near. —M. R. Downs in Practical Farmer.

Those Who Endure

The pains of rheumatism should be reminded that a cure for this disease may be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of those who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism, and have been completely and permanently cured, prove the power of this medicine to root and conquer this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier and it neutralizes the acid which causes the aches and pains of rheumatism. This is why it absolutely cures when liniments and other outward applications fail to give permanent relief. Be sure to get Hood's.

Christmas Exercises
