

Women Censorship in Baltimore.
The women of Baltimore have set about their work of theater censorship in a sensible way and one that is likely to prove most efficient. They have organized for the purpose of disconcerting plays of an immoral tendency, and they will act by staying away when the performances are given. There is, however, to be no public or concerted action.

"The society as a whole," says one of its members, "will not boycott any particular play which may be considered improper, nor do the members pledge themselves to any such united action. If they join the society, they will simply promise to weigh carefully in their own minds whether they honestly ought to attend the performance of any play which is generally considered immoral or whether they ought to encourage bad conduct among persons on the stage by going to see stars whose general reputation is that of being immoral persons. Any other course, any vote against any particular play, would, if made public, very likely have a result directly opposite to the purposes of the society by sending hundreds of persons to see the play."

In addition to this voluntary censorship the club will have fortnightly meetings through the theatrical season, at which papers on the drama, critical, historical and otherwise, will be presented, together with discussions on current theatrical productions. At these meetings actors of good reputation will be invited to present their views on the same subject.

The club is the outgrowth of an idea in the direction of Mrs. Franklin, wife of Professor Fabian Franklin of the Johns Hopkins university — Baltimore Tribune

AN OPEN LETTER To MOTHERS.

WE ARE ASSERTING IN THE COURTS OUR RIGHT TO THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE WORD "CASTORIA," AND "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," AS OUR TRADE MARK.

I, DR. SAMUEL PITCHER, of Hyannis, Massachusetts, was the originator of "CASTORIA," the same that has borne and does now bear Chas. H. Fletcher, on every fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, wrapper. This is the original "CASTORIA" which has been used in the homes of the Mothers of America for over thirty years.

LOOK CAREFULLY at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought Chas. H. Fletcher, on the and has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, wrapper. No one has authority from me to use my name except The Centaur Company, of which Chas. H. Fletcher is President. March 24, 1898.

Do Not Be Deceived.

Do not endanger the life of your child by accepting a cheap substitute which some druggist may offer you (because he makes a few more pennies on it), the ingredients of which even he does not know.

"The Kind You Have Always Bought" BEARS THE SIGNATURE OF

Chas. H. Fletcher.

THE WEALTH OF THE WORLD.

Great Sum of Foreign Securities Held In England and France.

The reported valuation of all property in the United States by the census of 1890 was $65,037,091,197, or $1,036 per capita for the entire population. This enumeration, however, dealt with property located in the United States and did not go into the question where it is owned. If the estimate of Mr. Robert Giffen is correct, that $5,000,000,000 in foreign capital was invested in this country in 1880, probably an even larger amount is so invested at the present time. Deduction should also be made for the high value put upon waste public lands in the census, with the net result that the per capita valuation of the United States would be reduced to about $500 or $4,500 for a family of five. Estimates made by careful economists, who come pretty near agreement among themselves, put the valuation of Great Britain about nine years ago at $50,000,000,000, and that of France at $40,000,000,000. This would afford a per capita valuation of $1,388 for Great Britain and $1,081 for France, making the valuation for a family of five, $6,000 in Great Britain, $5,405 in France. The figures of France are placed higher by some authors, and the total in both countries includes careful estimates of the large holdings of foreign securities, some of them covering property located in the United States.

The great holdings of foreign securities, estimated to amount in Great Britain to about $8,000,000,000, explain to a large extent the adverse balance of foreign trade constantly shown by the British statistics. Great Britain would long ago have been denuded of her gold and become bankrupt if the excess of imports over exports shown by her trade statistics were a true measure of her financial condition. The fact that about $400,000,000 is due her annually in interest charges upon British capital placed abroad explains how she can afford to import several hundred million pounds sterling of foreign merchandise in excess of the domestic merchandise which she exports. France is estimated to hold $4,000,000,000 of foreign securities, largely Italian and Spanish, and she also has been able to show a large balance of imports of merchandise over exports during the last two decades, while piling up in the vaults of the Bank of France and distributing through her monetary circulation a larger mass of coin than any other commercial country.—United States Investor.

Hundreducents first came into notice in England during the reign of Elizabeth.

Caro Bros. informs their patrons that they are in receipt again of Clark's Special Cotton. Same old price.

For fine tone and high grade piano get a Needham. They speak for themselves. It does not take a cracker jack at a big salary or a paid musician to sell them. All we ask is to look at the instruments, try the tone yourself, and you will be convinced that Needhams are the best pianos on the market, except Chickering or Steinway. For reference see O. F. Godfrey, A. C. Marks, or I. B. Riddle, who has just received at his home a beautiful one in figured mahogany case. The prices of these pianos are the most reasonable for the quality of goods ever offered in this city. We also give you inside prices on any make of piano. Call and see.

LONG ISLAND LOSING ITS TAIL.

Invaders of the Sea Causing Alarm to Property Owners at Orient Point.

Long Island, which looks on the map like a big fish about to swallow New York city, is apparently being slowly swallowed by the ocean. Portions of its shores have disappeared beneath the waves, and now the northern fork of its huge tail is vanishing. About two miles of Orient point, that formed a sandy beach two years ago, is now under 15 feet of water. The lighthouse on the point was six rods from the sea a few years ago. It has since been toppled over by the sea, and only a small part of the surrounding beach is visible.

The bluffs on both the sound and the bay side of Orient point have been sinking at the rate of about 10 or 12 feet a year. The same state of affairs is true of Montauk point, but there the bluffs just up so abruptly and so high above the sea that the rising of the water is not so noticeable. A rise of a foot or two on the low shores near Peconic bay will submerge acres of land. Much of the threatened land on Orient point forms fertile farms, and the steady advance of the shore line is causing no small concern to the owners. The water has in several places found its way across a low spot on the point from the sound to the bay. The result will be to ultimately divide the peninsula into a series of small islands, similar to Plum, Little Gull and Great Gull islands, all of which were doubtless once a part of the mainland and were cut off by the rise of the sea. The village of Orient is situated in a particularly narrow and low portion of the peninsula, and the next serious inroad of the ocean will probably occur there. In that case 2,000 acres of land and a village of 1,000 people will have to be abandoned.—New York Sun.

Seek the sunlight is the advice of all present day hygienists. Patients on the sunny side of the hospital ward recover soonest. The person who always walks on the sunny side of the street outlives his shade seeking brother by ten years. Sleep in rooms where the sun has shied its rays all day. Bask in the sun all you can, and your druggist's and doctor's notes will go to protest.—New York Times.
