HON, JOHN H. HALL.

Taking Senator Reed's Hat.

United States District Attorney John H. Hall is sorry that human nature is so unkind, and that jokes are not appreciated among the members of state senate, for on Wednesday he played a joke on his old friend, Sonator A. W. Reed, of Douglas e unty, and now pines in the Gomez will return to Washington this arms of the law. And the tren le is all thoughtless member of the lillion ciub wore Mr. Hall's hat home and left to its place one so small that it barely covered the bald spot when Mr. Hall put it on. Wednesday, Attorney Hall went to the sonate chamber and needing a lorge size, he sought out Senator Reed's hat and were it away, meaning to play a joke on the jovial senator. Last evening the sepator decided to retaliate in kind and swere out a warrant charging Hall with the invent of his hat.

The warrant was served on the gentleman at the Hilibee club and he was arraigned before Justice H. A. Johnson and plead not guitty. The trial is yet pending. And so Mr. Hall is in trouble, Setator Reed is without a hat, and those who know about the affair are not certain which gentleman has the better of the argument as Judge Johnson yet has a say in the matter.
