We heard the other day that the PLAINEALER's correspondent from this place was getting lazy, as the reason he hadn't written for so long a time. We presume, however, that it was the other correspondent that they had reference to as we were present company. TOM.

Glendale

Miss Genevieve Roberts is in attendance upon Mrs. Wallace.

Albert Abraham, a prominent young attorney of Roseburg, is a guest at Hotel Glendale.

It was with profound sorrow that we received the sad news of the death of C. Y. Benjamin who has been so long connected with the PLAINEALER. We have known Mr. Benjamin since his boyhood, and the bright promise of his youth were fully verified by his success in every attainment of his long, prosperous life. He was a man of fine intellectual status, coupled with a sunny disposition, which insured him the best of friends who mourn his sudden demise. His place in the busy world will be hard to fill, and to the dear ones bereaved we tender that sympathy that only one who knew him well, could feel.

Mrs. Savet, an evangelist, who has preached in almost every state in the union, is holding meetings at Glendale, and much interest is manifested. She is of the Baptist denomination, is a fluent speaker and very much in earnest in her high calling.

Yesterday we went to Arlington, the pretty home of the Wallaces, in response to a message calling us to the bedside of one aged pioneer friend, Mrs. S. R. Wallace, who is suffering from a series of ailments peculiar to old age.

Dr. P. A. Harris is in attendance and her son, W. J. and Ed Wallace and their wives are giving her every attention that dutiful affection can suggest, while hosts of friends are calling every day to assist and comfort the sorely afflicted relatives. Mrs. Wallace is a prominent pioneer and is well known all over this coast. Her absent children have been summoned to her bedside, and will arrive from Idaho and from Coos Bay, Oregon, tomorrow. We feel the tender loving sympathy for our dear old friend and all her family that their great merit deserves.

We have just returned from a three weeks stay in the drowsy old town of Jacksonville where we have been attending our aged parents, Col. and Mrs. Martin and Mrs. W. J. Pymale, all of whom have been seriously ill, and whom we are pleased to say are convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson, of San Francisco, passed through Glendale on Friday night's overland enroute to Portland where Mr. Nelson will take a position in the custom house. We met them at the depot just in time to exchange greetings. They were accompanied by their children, Fannie, Frank, Willie, and Lois.

Miss Nellie Niday, who spent some time visiting friends in Jackson county, returned home last week.

Misses Ruth and Jennie Roberts spent a day at Jacksonville visiting relatives. Miss Ruth attended the Firemen's ball at Gold Hill on the 20th. She was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Christensen while at Gold Hill. Miss Jennie returned home in company with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson. The young ladies have been for some weeks at Hornbrook, Cal.

F. W. Clarke of the 6th Cal. Vols, having been mustered out of service, returned home via Portland and is business manager at Hotel Clarke.

Abe Miller, of Grange creek, spent a day home this week leaving for Yreka, Cal.

Hotel Glendale is crowded with guests who speak in glowing terms of the good cheer of this popular hotel.

H. D. Martin and his son Fred visited Glendale on Sunday.

Mr. Fred Buell, the popular Myrtle Creek butcher, spent Monday at Glendale. MOLLER.

LEGISLATURE DOINGS

Legislature Busy With Bills And Reports.

THIRD WEEK AT SALEM.

Various Bills Passed by the House—Work Progressing Slowly.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 23.—The beginning of the third week of the legislative session finds the committees well at work, and bills coming from the printer fast enough to keep both houses busy. Two investigating committees, appointed at the special session, reported to the senate this afternoon, one on the affairs of the secretary of state, which were found all right, and the other on the Loswegburg contract at the penitentiary which was found quite otherwise.

In the house, Myers' resolution donating to each member books worth $2.00, was rescinded. A number of bills were introduced, and many passed formal readings.

Three petitions with numerous signatures were received praying for an amendment to the laws relative to petitions for license to sell liquor, so as to require a petition from a majority of the householders of the district instead of the legal voters.

Referred to the committee on alcoholic traffic.

A resolution was introduced by Butt, for a committee to examine the state library and employ a clerk. No one taking interest enough to vote either for or against this measure, the speaker declared the resolution adopted, and Mr. Butt will undoubtedly get his chairmanship and his friend a clerkship.

Grace presented a petition from his constituents, asking that, when a man is provided to be capable of taking care of his children, but fails to do so, and will not allow others to do so, he shall be punished and his children provided for. This was referred to the committee on charitable, penal and reformatory institutions.

Senate joint resolution No. 7, of the 15th biennial session was brought before the house and referred to the judiciary committee. This is a resolution for the submission of a constitutional amendment giving the suffrage to women.

Beach's bill relating to the expense of conveying patients to the insane asylum, provided that the cost should fall on the county instead of the state.

Stillman spoke strongly against it. He thought, if these insane patients were county patients the expense should be borne by the counties, but if they were state patients, as was evidently the case, the state should pay for conveying them to the asylum.

This bill was claimed by the committee on ways and means to save $50,000, but it saved it to the state by saddling it upon the counties. It would effect a saving for Multnomah and Marion counties which would convey their patients to the asylum practically without cost, but for outlying counties it would mean a heavy expense. The people of Baker and Umatilla counties were as much citizens of the state of Oregon as were the people of Multnomah and Marion counties. The people east of the mountains were entitled to stand on the same footing as the people of the Willamette valley. Otherwise he asked that they be allowed to have an asylum in Eastern Oregon, and to take care of their own patients. This bill was opposed to the governor's recommendation. The governor's suggestions had been complied with this morning and he hoped they would be in this case.

Beach stated that the bill would save a large sum in the appropriation for the asylum. The amounts asked for that institution aggregated nearly four hundred thousand dollars. If the appropriations were to be cut down, a start must be made somewhere.

Flagg stated that he should vote against the bill, because he thought that the result aimed at could be accomplished in a better way.

The bill was overwhelmingly snowed under.

BILLS PASSED.

H. B. 71, Mr. Grace, to punish the poisoning of domestic animals.

H. B. 55, Beach, to regulate the purchase of public supplies; giving preference to home products.

H. B. 19, Bayer, to regulate the doing of public works.

H. B. 53, Beach, to make Willamette boulevard in Portland a county road.

H. B. 47, Fordney, changing the boundary line between Union and Walla Walla counties.

H. B. 102, Topping, to amend section 3542, code, relating to health officers at Coos Bay and Gardiner.

H. B. 14, Whalley, to amend Sec. 960 of the laws of Oregon.

H. B. 116, Whalley, to amend section 234, Hill's code.

S. B. 9, Josephi, to change the name of the state insane asylum to the "Oregon State Hospital for the insane," and amend laws pertaining to the insane.

Afterably presenting the merits of his bill Dr. Josephi was followed by Kaykendall, who strongly opposed the creation of an independent board for the management of the asylum. Senator Reed opposed the creation of an independent board to be appointed by the governor on the ground that it is getting too far away from the people.

Senator Daly of Lake made a good talk for the bill. Senator Mitchell asserted his belief that an independent board would be the means of wiping out present scandals concerning this institution. In reply to Senator Kaykendall's objections to an independent board, Senator Josephi referred him to the condition of the state university, where a like board is giving efficient service. The bill passed by 21 to 6 votes. Those voting no, were Clem, Driver, Fulton, Kaykendall, Lacey and Reed.

A writ from the University press this paragraph:

If the barbers want a commission, why not pass a law allowing such a commission, and at the same time require each barber to pay a license of $10, said money to go toward paying said commission, the surplus to be applied toward alleviating the condition of victims made insane by listening to the barber's talk while in the barber's chair.

Senator Reed will press a bill to place the control of the Soldiers' Home entirely in the hands of the governor, and abolish the board of trustees.
