A Horse With a Mustache.
"Look dar, Bill. See dat horse with mustache!"
This explanation from one street gamin to another attracted the attention of a reporter and a few friends with him who were congregating on the corner.
Looking in the direction of the boys, he discovered that Letter Carrier Thomas Brown had driven up his little wagon to collect the mail from the box. Attached to it was a small sized sorrel horse, which had, sure enough, an elegant mustache about 3 inches long and curled in a manner which would excite the envy of any dude. From Mr. Brown it was learned that the horse was about 6 years old, and that he purchased him from a negro. The negro raised him from a colt, and in early life he commenced sporting his mustache. To relieve himself of the bother of answering questions, the colored man had kept the whiskers trimmed, but Mr. Brown, since he became possessed of the animal, had permitted them to grow.—Nashville American.

Power of Imagination.
A curious case of "cure by suggestion" is reported from a large German hospital. A girl of 18 was under the impression that she had swallowed a frog, which was alive in her stomach and often jumped almost up into her throat. The doctors had vainly tried to cure her of this illusion, and she was rapidly dying, when it occurred to one of the medical men to put a tube into her mouth in which a small frog had been placed. The lively creature jumped almost immediately out of its prison house onto the table in front of the girl, and a youthful student put it into spirits, labeling the bottle, "Extracted from a stomach." This moment the girl saw the creature a bounding smile spread over her pale face, she took food at once and gradually and in no completely rested.—London Gazette.

FIGHT IN A JUNGLE.

Bravery of the Kansas Troops in Repelling the Rebels.

AGUINALDO'S POWER CRUSHED.

Several Sharp Skirmishes With the Filipinos—All is Quiet at Manila and Cavite.

MANILA, Feb. 8.—Last evening as the Filipinos at Calapan were evidently massing for a night attack upon the Americans left wing, the Twentieth Kansas infantry was ordered to attack and drive the sharpshooters from a bamboo jungle in front of the firing line, where they had caused considerable annoyance all the afternoon.

The battalion charged brilliantly, driving the enemy like chaff and penetrating to the very heart of Calapan.

First Lieutenant A. C. Alford, as called last night, was killed while leading his company. He was shot in the forehead.

Sergeant Jay Sheldon, company I, was seriously wounded.

Privates Daniel Hewitt (Heath), Ernest Fritz John Gilliam and two other members of company B were also slightly wounded.

Thirty dead Filipinos were counted in the trench, and there were many more wounded.

The gunboats Concord and Callao kept up an incessant fire from the bay, the Concord dropping many shells into the town with telling effect. In order to avoid accidents from this source, General Otis was compelled to recall the Kansas battalion, after leaving the outskirts of the town.

Either the shells of the Americans or shells of the natives themselves fired a number of buildings within the town limits. Presumably this was the result of the shelling.

No further attempt to attack during the night made by either side.

The Spanish papers generally comment in favorable terms on the admirable order maintained in Manila.

The situation today is practically unchanged. The American line has not been appreciably extended, and the troops generally are taking a much-needed rest.

Reconnoissances show the Filipinos are in force in the villages of Pasig and Paranque, probably 7000 men at the latter place, within strong fortifications.
All is quiet along the line when this dispatch is filed at noon.

Manila is Quiet.

5:15 P. M.—The provost guard is in absolute control of Manila. All fears of a native uprising in the city were dissipated by the promptitude which quelled the outbreak Monday evening.

The streets were deserted last evening by 9 o'clock, and not a light was to be seen in the active quarter.

The Filipinos, accustomed to Spanish methods are constantly inquiring of the American soldiers, when the prisoners are to be executed. They are unable to realize that orders have not already been issued for the execution.

Indeed, headquarters is besieged by women anxious to plead for their relatives and friends.

All is quiet at Cavite.

Owing to the lack of supplies in the adjacent village of San Roque, Commissary Milliken has been authorized to return to Cavite, and there will be a distribution of free rations to others.

The rebels, it appears, had looted a church tower in Cavite, evidently with the purpose of occupying it with sharpshooters.

Sober Aguinaldo, the Filipino ex-commissioner, made an unofficial visit to General Otis today.

Tomorrow is the first day of the Chinese new year, and orders have been issued prohibiting fire works.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—There was an almost complete release today of the tension under which the rapid occurrence of events in the Philippines, has held the officials of the administration since the first startling news from Manila on Saturday night.

This was brought about through the receipt of a bulletin from General Otis summing up the latest results of the fighting he has had with the natives.
The dispatch follows:

"Manila, Feb. 8.—The situation is rapidly improving. A reconnoissance was made yesterday to the south, several miles to Laguna de Bay, and the southeast eight miles, our troops driving the straggling insurgents before them.

The troops in various directions encountered no decided opposition. The native army is disintegrated, and the natives are returning to the villages, displaying white flags.

"Near Calayan, six miles north of here, the enemy made a stand behind intrenchments, and were charged by the Kansas troops led by Colonel Funstan.

There was a close encounter, resulting in the rout of the enemy with heavy loss. The loss to the Kansas regiment was Lieutenant Alford killed, and six men wounded.

"On the 4th Aguinaldo issued a proclamation charging the Americans with having taken the initiative and declared war.

Sunday he issued another calling on his followers to resist foreign invasion.
His influence throughout this section is destroyed. He now applies for a cessation of hostilities and a conference. I have declined to answer.

"The insurgents' expectation of a rising in the city on the night of the 4th was unrealized. The provost marshal destroyed. He now applies for a ces-
have declined to answer.

"The city is quiet. Business has been resumed. The natives are respectful and cheerful. The fighting qualities of American troops are a revelation to all the inhabitants.

"Oris"

The statement that Aguinaldo's influence has been destroyed, and that the Filipino leader was seeking for a cessation of hostilities and for a conference was interpreted as an admission that he had realized his terrible mistake.

It is entirely improbable that he will be able to obtain anything like the same terms as were possible last week. No one here now knows just what General Otis intends to impose in the way of terms.

Secretary Alger this afternoon repeated his statement of yesterday that he has given the general no instructions since the battle and saw no reason for giving any.

He realized, he said, that General Otis, being on the ground, and having proved his fitness, was in better position to deal with the situation than any one in Washington. Should the general ask permission, therefore, to do anything, he would be granted permission immediately.

"Should he ask for instructions on any point," said Secretary Alger, "he will be left to exercise his own discretion."

In this view of the case, it will be seen that no one here can at present tell how General Otis is dealing toward Aguinaldo's application. But the opinion is expressed by men here who know General Otis' experience with the Indians that he will make the laying down of arms the condition of dealing with the insurgents at all, and that if that condition is met, of course, it will mean a speedy termination of the rebellion.

The following cablegram was received at the navy department today from Admiral Dewey:

"Manila, Feb. 8.—To the Secretary of the Navy: The commander-in-chief of officers and men thank the president and the secretary of the navy for their congratulations.

DEWEY."

Secretary Alger received the following from General Otis:

"Manila, Feb. 8.—Sincere thanks for congratulations. All credit due to the hearty response of troops to orders of officers.

SITUATION AT ILO ILO.

Preparation by the Natives to Resist Miller's Troops.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Probably within 48 hours General Miller will have begun an attempt to occupy Ilo Ilo, on the island of Panay. No specific orders on this score have been sent to him since the battle of Saturday, and Sunday, nor has he been heard from recently respecting the matter, but it was his known intention to make this important movement as soon as he felt that conditions warranted it, and statements contained in the press reports from Manila convince officials here that Otis has at last authorized a landing.

The best indication of that determination was the dispatch this morning from Manila of the First regiment Tennessee volunteer infantry, for Ilo Ilo.

Miller has with him the Sixth and Eighteenth Infantry, and will be reinforced in the course of 24 hours by the First Tennessee regiment, making a force equal to the occupation of Ilo Ilo.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 8.—Hong Kong mail advices describe the situation at Ilo Ilo, when it was first expected that General Miller's troops would be landed as follows:

For days armed natives have been coming into town in a steady stream, and fully 2000 soldiers, armed with Remingtons and Mausers, have taken possession of the fort, church and government buildings.

Officers are scurrying about on ponies, ammunition is being brought in from Jaro and Malo and an apparently stout resistance is being provided for any landing attempted by the Americans.
Stores and banks are closed, and the excitement is intense.

Outside of the city are nearly 10,000 Montanes and mixed natives, armed with knives and spears. They are anxious to be allowed in the city.

In Negros, a near-by island, it is reported that some 20,000 men are in arms waiting for a call. Several schooners loaded with men are daily entering the river. They are not being interrupted.

Day and night preparations continue for lively resistance. Every hour of delay is made to count in throwing up works and barricading streets. It is threatened that if the Filipinos should meet with defeat the town will be burned.

The transport Francisco Reyes came in on the 9th with 550 Filipino soldiers, who were allowed to land without interference.

Altogether 1500 soldiers have been landed in this manner, but this is not counting the hundreds that have come from other islands on schooners and small boats. Fully 2000 men with rifles are in the city.

The Spanish gunboat El Cano is still lying just off the fort, and it is reported that some 2000 stands of arms had been landed by her.

Filipinos Burn San Roque.

MANILA, Feb. 9.—The natives, fearing the Americans were about to make an attack on or bombard the town of San Roque, set fire to it today. It is still burning as this dispatch is sent, and as it is composed in the main of bamboo huts, it will probably be totally destroyed.

Telegraph operators are now worth their weight in gold, and members of the signal corps are working night and day.

The Filipinos are lying low, except on the extreme left and right. They are evidently concentrating between Calocan and Malabon.

Judging from appearances, they are being reinforced by better drilled men from the northern provinces. In front of Caloacan they are as thick as a swarm of bees.

The American soldiers are impatient of restraint while in the sight of the enemy. The Filipinos are still entrenching themselves on the left of Caloacan.

Confirmed by Dewey.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The navy department today received the following dispatch:

"Manila, Feb. 9.—After continued interference and intimidation of our workmen, I ordered the armed insurgents to leave San Roque by 9 this morning.
Many of them left during the night. A few remained, and they fired the village this morning. It is now occupied by our troops; all quiet."

Soldiers and Helen Gould.

"You know Camp Walsworth is supported largely by Miss Helen Gould's generosity," said one of the young women in the office, "and really Miss Gould would be delighted could she know how grateful the soldiers are to her. One of the rough riders told me a little incident illustrating this. They were putting down some boards very carefully so as to make them just fit the space.

"What's the use of taking so much pains with them boards?" another man asked. "There's plenty more where they came from; they belong to the government."

"That's where you're 'way off,'" said the man with the saw. "These boards belong to Helen Gould. She sent 'em down here, and there ain't going to be an inch of 'em wasted.—Cleveland Mof-fett's Camp Stories in Leslie's Weekly.

A Sergeant's Farewell Shot.

In the trenches at Manila, When the bullets whistled round,
The famous Astor Battery Stood and bravely held their ground.

Shell and round shot rained about them, But they answered shell for shell;
And the ancient Spanish block-house, Proves they served their pieces well!

The gun of Sergeant Crimmins Added to the sumous dire, And his gunners were re-ading,
To return a crashing fire.

Then a volley smote upon them, Spanish guns served all too well,
And in the Astor Battery, Many gallant soldiers fell!

And the noble Sergeant Crimmins, Death had given his soul release, "Staggered to his gun and fired it, And fell dead beside his piece."

Nobly did the Astor Battery, Fight their guns that famous day,
And their deeds will be remembered, When the guns they served decay.

And the fair eight-seeing stranger Will be sighted the very spot, Where was fired that August morning, Sergeant Crimmins' farewell shot.

Indian Names.

Mr. Burton: In a clipping from the Granite Press Observer, which is published in the Plate-dealer of Feb. 2nd in regard to Indian names, occurs this passage: "Take our little station of Leland and it calls to mind one of the saddest tragedies of early times. It took its name and that of Grave Creek, where it is located, from an Indian massacre of the Crowley family, one of whom, Leland, was a young lady."

I hope the balance of that article is more correct than this passage, otherwise the writer would better have left it alone.

Leland Crowley who was a relative of the writer of this sketch, died at Grave Creek after a long illness, of consumption, when the emigration, of which her family was a member, were encamped at that place on their way north.

The emigrants delayed their journey long enough to bury their young companion, and the simple matter of that lonely grave and the sorrowful thoughts connected with it gave the place the name of Grave Creek. The Indians, however, robbed the grave for the sake of the wrappings of the body as was their custom.

Four years later when Col. Nesmith and his company marched through that part of the territory, they replaced the bones of poor Leland and in their grave.

The only massacre I ever heard of was that of a little band of friendly Indians by white men; they were enticed into a log hut, for whiskey, the door shut and shot to death through the crevices between the logs. Their bodies were thrown into the pit where Leland Crowley had once been buried and left uncovered to the mercy of the wolves.

The conduct of Christians (so called) towards the heathen has always been very much like this.

Those Who Endure

The pains of rheumatism should be reminded that a cure for this disease may be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of those who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism, and have been completely and permanently cured, prove the power of this medicine to root and conquer this disease.
Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier and it neutralizes the acid which causes the aches and pains of rheumatism. This is why it absolutely cures when liniments and other outward applications fail to give permanent relief. Be sure to get Hood's.

"The enemy is coming. To the fort for your lives!"
When a wise man receives a plain warning of danger, he does not wait to let it strike him; he seeks a reasonable means to fight it off.

Disease would almost never get the best of the average man if he was prepared to resist it, and took the natural precautions dictated by common sense.

When a man's stomach and liver get upset and fail to do their regular work, he can be certain that something worse is bound to follow, if he doesn't look out for himself.
Headaches, indigestion, biliousness and constipation are simply Nature's warnings that the enemy of serious disease is coming to attack him.

The sensible thing to do is to immediately fortify the system with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It vitalizes and regulates the entire constitution. It helps the liver to filter out all bilious impurities.
It gives the digestive and nutritive organs power to extract nourishment from the food and turn it into rich, healthy blood. It creates appetite, good digestion, and solid, muscular strength.

It is far superior to the mere temporary stimulus of malt-extracts. It is better than cod liver oil emulsions because it is assimilated by the weakest stomach.

About fifteen years ago I wrote Mr. John Mc-Michael, editor of the Plattburgh (Mo.) Leader, "I was in very poor health, had no appetite, was thin, and so bilious I could not sleep." He told me anything that required effort. Every fall I took a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, asserting that it would restore me to perfect health, and make a new man of me. Finally he induced me to try the medicine. I weighed at the time about 75 lbs.
I used several bottles, and upon quitting it weighed 125 lbs., since that time my weight has varied from this to 95 pounds.
