The Salem postoffice building bill that the senate, as did the five or six in former sessions, that passed that branch, but was allowed to sleep on the house calendar. This comes of having in the lower house a member interested in the welfare of all sections of his district .-

Ah, yes, just so. Where was your man when the Yaquius bay appropriations went glimmering?

By the terms of the river and harbor bill which passed both houses of congress, all the amendments incorporated in the bill by the senate were allowed to stand except the Yaquina bay item and the boat railway at The Dalles. The law providing for the construction of the boat railway is to stand but without any appropriation, and the Yaquina bay matter is to be again referred to a board of engineers of the war department, and on their report will depend the future of the improvements.

The new fish law aprpopriates $15,000 for the construction and equipment of four fish hatcheries, two to be iccated on the Columbia and its tribut ries and the remaining two on other streams. Steps should be taken to procure the location of ane of these enterprises in Douglas county. The Umpqua with its numerous tributaries furnishes one of the largest salmon streams in the state, and no better or more conveniently located site for such an enterprise could be found than here in Douglas county.
