A STORY OF DEWEY.

Captain Coghlan Tells How He Crushed the German Admiral.

New York, April 30.—Captain J. B. Coghlan and his officers of the United States cruiser Raleigh, were entertained by the Union League Club at New York recently. The dining room was handsomely decorated with American and British flags.

Captain Coghlan was called upon to speak. He accepted, he said, all the good things that have been said about him and his men were meant for Admiral Dewey.

"Every day we were with him," he added, "we learned more and more to love him and more and more how the country's interests were safe in his hands, and how he could do nothing but that which would redound to the country's credit. Throughout those long, weary months of waiting and the most outrageous nagging that anybody could suffer, wearing him to the very bone, he held himself up and he held us up with him."

Then Captain Coghlan told the following story of his admiral:

"An officer of our friend, Admiral Von Diedrich, came down one day to make a complaint. It was my pleasure to step out on the deck just as he came aboard. It was partly by accident and partly by design. I heard him tell the admiral about his complaint, and I heard the admiral reply: 'Tell your admiral those ships of his must stop when I say so. I wish to make the blockade of this harbor complete.'

"The German officer replied: 'But we fly the flag.'

"The reply of the admiral was just like Dewey. He said: 'Those flags can be bought at a half a dollar a yard anywhere.'

"There was no fun in that expression of the admiral. He told the officer that anyone could fly a German flag, and that a whole Spanish fleet might come on him with German flags up. Then he drew back and stroked his moustache. He has a great habit of stroking his moustache when he gets mad. He said:

"'Tell your admiral I am blockading here. Now, note carefully what I say, and tell your admiral that I say it. I have been making this blockade as easy for everybody as I could, but I am getting tired of the puerile work here. It has been of such character that a man would not notice it, although children might fight over it, but the time has come when it must stop. Tell your admiral that the slightest infraction of any rule will mean but one thing. That will be war. It will be so accepted and resented immediately. If you people are ready for war with the United States, they can have it any time.'

"I am free to admit that it almost took my breath away, it came so suddenly. We had expected it all along, but things you have been expecting always come unexpectedly. As he left with his face about this long (indicating by holding up his hands far apart), the German said to me:

"'I think your admiral does not exactly understand.'

"'Not only does he understand,' I told him, 'but he means what he says, and you had better look out.'

"After that they did not breathe more than four times successively without permission."

Wheat Prospects.

The Pendleton East Oregonian says that there will not be more than half a crop throughout the Eastern Oregon country. "The severe winter and the late spring," the paper says, "are responsible for this result. Harvest will be very late and the risks of a short crop are thereby increased, there being greater danger of damage from hot winds and early fall rains."

In the Willamette valley nearly thirty per cent of the last crop is still in the hands of the farmer. The two mills at Corvallis stored last fall about 350,000 bushels and 90,000 bushels of it is still unsold.

The price of wheat in the local market stands at 48 cents. In San Francisco market spot wheat is quoted at $1.06 per cental, equivalent to 48 in Corvallis. In Portland it is 50½. With freights rates the same as they were two months ago wheat would now be in Corvallis 46 cents. In Chicago the price is 72. A short time ago in the same market it was 75, and earlier in the season was 68. A sudden rise there recently was due to reports of prospective short crops throughout the east. The drop that came later was due to discovery that the alarming reports were largely exaggerated, and in some instances wholly without foundation. The reports are attributed to the wheat gamblers who make and lose fortunes as bulls and bears in the great wheat pits. These people and their agents often find it easy to impose bogus reports upon the public, produce a rise in price and out of the lies sell their holdings and pocket the profits. The system is infamous and when society is purified, if ever that condition comes, the wheat pit with its bulls and bears will be abolished.

A feature of the market that seems to hold out a hope that prices may yet get better is that December wheat on the San Francisco call board is quoted at $1.13 per cental. Spot wheat is $1.06. The difference is seven cents per cental. December wheat means wheat to be delivered next December. Spot wheat means present delivery. Thus the speculators evidently hope for a better price for wheat next December and are willing to gamble on it. Oats in the local market is 35 cents.

Decision Rendered.

From the general land office at Washington we learn that the somewhat noted contest case of Cartwright Bros., protestants against the homestead entry of George H. Rollins, involving the title to quite a portion of the celebrated Ry Valley placer mine, has been decided by the honorable commissioner in favor of the mineral claimants, the Cartwrights. The local land office at Burns awarded the land to Rollins. From this the Cartwrights took an appeal with the result above stated.

The PLAINDEALER is destined to become the peoples popular paper. It publishes all of the best news while it is news, and that is what the people want.

INDORSES THE POPE.

Archbishop Corrigan's Attitude on Amercanism.

New York, May 1.—A special to the World from Washington says:

The text of the letter from Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, addressed to the pope in reply to the papal brief on "Americanism," reached the city a few days ago.

Its transmission has caused a sensation in Catholic circles. It shows that the archbishop alone, of the entire American hierarchy, indorse in full the papal brief.

Cardinal Gibbons, in his reply to the papal admonition, repudiated certain doctrines, and said he was not aware that such teachings passed current as Catholic doctrine. Archbishop Ireland and Keane said practically the same thing, as did a number of other prelates. Even such leaders of the German party as Archbishop Katzer, of Milwaukee, and Bishop Holaman, of Cleveland solemnly protested to the pope that errors which he had designated as "Americanism" had no place in the American Catholic church.

Catholics here think that the New York prelate did a remarkable thing in signing the letter in the name of all the suffragan bishops of New York province. It is known here that at least four of the suffragan bishops do not indorse the sentiments in their archbishops letter.

Girls Taking up Land.

The Walla Walla Union says: In perusing some of the public records at the local land office yesterday, it was noticed that quite a number of entries were made on land by women and the reporter became inquisitive to find out how many, or what portion of the entries were made by the gentler sex. However, the time was not taken to obtain accurate figures, but Register Hill ventured the assertion that fully 1 out of 8 entries on land in the past few months were made by women. These entries, it was learned, are not by middle aged women, but by pretty girls who are anxious to possess farm land. Ed C. Ross of the land office, has been keeping an eye on the subject and finds that the filing on land proves to the maiden an excellent bran catcher, for several cases that have been traced end very soon in marriage. One case just recently came up. The young woman filed on the land and shortly after a young man made inquiries, asking whether marriage would interfere with the holding of the land. He wanted to know, too, whether the maiden could hold the land and still reside in Walla Walla. Girls, here is an opportunity to get land, be independent and have every youth in the valley casting eyes at you—mainly for your property's sake.

Prospects for Sugar Beet Crop.

It has been said that the backward spring would interfere with the sugar beet crop at La Grande, but in a recent interview Field Superintendent Larson, of the Oregon Sugar Company, said: "There is no danger whatever of there being a shortage in the sugar beet acreage for 1899. In fact, I believe there will be an increase in the contracted acreage. Many of the new families who have come into the valley have already planted beets, and we look for other to arrive in time to engage in the business. But the farmers and land owners who originally contracted to plant 3500 acres per year in beets are getting along well with their seeding. About 1000 acres have already been planted, and as soon as the weather lets up a little the remainder will be put in. Beets sown up to the middle of May will do well in any ordinary season.

"I consider that the prospects are excellent for the coming campaign. The farmers have profited by their experience of last year, and I am confident that the tonnage in beets this season will be at least three times that of last year, of more than 24,000 tons. On Mr. Oliver's ranch the beet plants on 35 acres are already above the ground. P. McDonald has 35 acres up. On the Oregon Sugar Company's farm, 20 acres of plants are up. William Hunter has 70 acres sprouted. Six acres on Riddle's farm have put in an appearance, and about two acres on Bailey's ranch. It is safe to say that the season of 1899, will far surpass that of 1898 in every particular."

Barbers Law Will Be Tested.

A test case is to be made of the barber law in Portland immediately. Sam H. Howard, president of the barber's commission, has filed an information against one George Drescher, for noncompliance with the law, and he will be arrested. Mr. Howard says that here is no excuse in Mr. Drescher's case. He has been notified and given ample time to register, but has persistently refused, giving no reason, but saying simply that he will not register.

Mr. Howard is satisfied that the law will stand. There are two others out of a total of 235 barbers in Portland who have not registered. One of them is a Jew who says he will register as soon as he gets the money. Another wishes to get in under the $1 25 provision of the act, but Mr. Howard has no authority to grant a license after the time expired, without subjecting the applicant to an examination, and this will be done in this case.

So far there are six applicants for examination under the law. Six hundred and forty-nine licenses have thus far been granted, and it is believed that there are about 50 unregistered barbers yet in the state who will have to be examined.

One man in Sumpter writes that he is perfectly willing to come in, but he thought that the issuance of licenses was taking place.

The board will meet to proceed with the examination in Salem on May 22.

Mrs. George Not Guilty.

CANTON, O., April 28.—The jury in the case of Annie E. George, on trial for the murder of George D. Saxton, came into the courtroom at 12:42 a. m., having agreed upon a verdict. Before the verdict was read the court cautioned the audience that there must be no demonstrations. In spite of this there was loud cheering when the clerk read the verdict of "not guilty."

To your Eastern Friend....

NEARLY Fifty-eight Years Old ! ! !

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American People has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast today, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides.

As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of its youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century.

It has lived on its merits, and on the cordial support of progressive Americans.

It is "The New-York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper.

Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of THE PLAINDEALER, (your own favorite home paper) has entered in to an alliance with "The New-York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.75 per year.

Every farmer and villager owes to himself, to his family, and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untiringly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets, and, in fact, is a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide awake, progressive family.

Just think of it! ! !
