RICE & RICE, THE HOUSE FURNISHERS

ENTIRE MILITIA CALLED OUT.

Lavish Display of Force to Be Made by Great Britain.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—In the house of commons today Lord Treasury and Government Leader Balfour brought in the following message from the queen: "The state of affairs in Africa having constituted in the opinion of her majesty a case of emergency within the meaning of the act of parliament, her majesty deems it proper to provide additional means for military service. She has therefore thought it right to communicate to the house that her majesty, by proclamation, authorizes the enlistment of the militia and to call out the military reserve force or such part thereof as her majesty may think necessary for permanent service."

The calling out of the militia and military reserve has occasioned widespread wonderment. Old stories of preparation against the continental combinations are revived. It is freely rumored that the government is determined to demonstrate to Europe that the British army is not unprepared for any emergency. Both the attitude of Europe and that of the natives of South Africa having something to do with this attitude and the lavish display of force is intended doubtless not only to check the ill will apparent on both sides of the Rhine and beyond the Victoria, but also to guard against the black peril.

According to statistics published this year, the militia, including the permanent staff and military reserve, numbers 122,493.

It is not believed the militia are to be sent to South Africa. Presumably they will replenish the depleted British garrison towns, and thus permit the government to tend to the Cape all regulars rendered necessary by developments in South Africa.

BEN HENDRICKS, the only SWEDISH IMPERSONATOR, In His latest Comedy Drama, A VENUE VENTUREMAN

Pointed Paragraphs.
"The sky is blue," sighed the maiden fair,
"And the suns that come from the fields are sweet!
Oh, the world is glad, but what do I care?
My shoes are overcrowded with feet!"
When is a doctor most annoyed?
When he is out of patients.
A postmaster gets cured more than anyone else, except a member of the town board and an educator.
How absurd for newspapers to publish "Rules for Husbands." Any sort of wife can prescribe better rules for a husband than he can find in a newspaper.
This is becoming a pretty civilized country compared with the wild and woolly east. Last Saturday a train was held up near Chicago and $25,000 captured. The men had no trouble in escaping. Come west.
A young man in a neighboring town advertised for a wife under an assumed name; and his sister answered the advertisement, and also under an assumed name. Then photographs were exchanged, and now the young man thinks there is no harm in advertising, and the old folks think it pretty hard to have two loaves in one family.—Ex.

Speaking of economical women, a popular Jewell City woman who lives in the heart of the town saved $7.00. Instead of buying a new hat she took an old crown out and let the Jersey cow step on it a few times. Then she pulled one feather out of the rooster's tail, and there she was right in style. Just take a look at her hat and you will see it is as good as any of them.

An extremely modest valley editor is credited with the authorship of the following: We have hanging up in our sanctum a plain black band of generous dimensions, which appears too small for a belt and too large for a sleeveholder. The article was found on the street, and in case the owner comes in and proves property, the same will be turned over without the customary fee for advertising. It is not a dog collar.

Here are some of the terrible things which, according to an exchange, are likely to befall a delinquent: Last week a delinquent subscriber said he had. He's dead.
