Geo. Ester, the S. P. station agent at this place, went to San Francisco, last night, to attend a meeting of the Order of Telegraphers to be in session at that city. Mr. Ester will be absent a week or two days. It is to be hoped that the rest from office work will be beneficial to his health, which he has not fully recovered since his return to Roseburg.

Chas. E. Comstock assistant Grand Master of the United Artisans, is in this city ostensibly for the purpose of organizing a assembly of United Artisans. This order while only four years old ranks high among the older beneficiary orders, because the Artisans' plan was built light. With the past experience of other like orders as a criterion, this order has been established on revised and more thoroughly improved principles. In fact it has been started right, hence its rapid growth and popularity. There are already many Artisans in this city who it is hoped will co-operate with Mr. Comstock in the organization of an assembly in this city on a good, solid, firm business-like foundation. An interesting social will be given to prospective members next week, exact date and place to be announced later.

MARSTERS & CO.
John Giles, Wm. Page and Geo. Malen, of Myrtle Point, were in Marshfield last week on their way home from Cape Nome, Alaska. They speak highly of that mining district, and intend going back in the spring.—Coos Bay News, October 24.

Charles Winters, of Jacksonville, Ore., one of the pioneer settlers of Jackson county, died a few days since, at Talent, where he had gone visiting. Mr. Winters for several years has had his home in the cemetery at Jacksonville, where his remains were taken and interred.

Mrs. C. L. Westenhiser, of Yoncalla, Douglas county, has been visiting her son, Fred, since Friday, at Cuthberton hall, returning home today. She is greatly pleased with our institution and deeply feeling that no other school in the state affords such opportunities for education as the agricultural college. Corvallis News, October 25.

On Tuesday two persons giving their names as Chas. Gonnon and Al Oswald, were arrested at Eugene on suspicion of being the persons who held up and shot Hiram Shook at Comstock. The parties were brought to Roseburg by City Marshal Dillard, but a thorough investigation by the officers here convinced them that the suspected parties were not the guilty ones and they were discharged.

G. L. Dorland, a chiropractor, was employed in the pursuit of his profession here last week.

M. D. Thompson was in town Monday, intending to visit Tellico on business but turned back on account of the threatening weather.

We learn that Jesse Baker's late of this section, was so unfortunate as to have his thumb cut off by an ax recently while employed near Gardiner.

Walter Butler recently visited his old home and his visit was most brief. He was quite anxious to return to Drain, so to take a Mrs. B. back with him this time in the person of Miss Maana Sellers. The young couple are most excellent in every respect, and we extend to them our best wishes for long life, happiness and unflinching prosperity.

Married.
At the home of the bride's father, Mr. Isaac Coy and Miss Susie Carey, both of Myrtle Creek, Douglas county, Oregon, Rev. Alexander B. Mott, pastor M. E. church, officiating.

At the residence of E. M. Marsters, in West Roseburg, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 25, 1899, H. A. Wilson and Mary E. Pierce of Cleveland, Douglas county, Oregon, Rev. E. M. Marsters officiating.

Southwest Douglas.

Our reporter, who visited southwest Douglas last week, has this to say of his trip:

A short visit to southwest Douglas reveals to us more fully the prosperous condition of the county. At Ten Mile we found Mr. M. Oliviant repainting and otherwise beautifying his premises. By the way, Mr. Oliviant is one of the prosperous business men of the county.

Rev. Hampton is building a nice residence on his ranch. If any one thinks for a moment that Ten Mile valley will not produce potatoes prodigious in size and excellent in quality, they should call at the home of Mrs. Emma Howard and she will speedily convince them on that point, as the growth of spuds on her farm during this season was stuporously phenomenal.

In the Looking Glass valley we found the farmers happy as well as prosperous. Mr. C. H. Spangh with his traction engine attached to a grain chopper had chopped over 200 bushels of grain in the forenoon and several wagon loads of grain arrived during the noon hour to be ground during the afternoon. Mr. Spangh is running his mill on Saturday of each week and his venture is proving quite an industry and meeting a long felt want in the community.

We were kindly received and elegantly entertained at the home of Mr. George Marsh. This is one of the nicest homes of the Looking Glass valley. We advise persons of the county or state who may be interested in tree or fruit culture to visit Mr. Marsh and see what wonderful and satisfactory results are securing in this line. The class of dried fruit from his orchard this season is certainly excellent and his orchard in splendid condition, and within a few years this will be one of the best orchards in this county. Truly this section of the country is a favored one and its people thrifty and energetic.

Winchester Items.
John McKay, our section boss made a business trip to Roseburg this day.

J. T. Boun, Winchester's capitalist, went to Comstock on Friday's local.

Mrs. W. H. Kelley of Myrtle Creek, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. K. Powell, Archie Dowell of Roseburg is visiting his cousin, Ralph and Vernon Yirson. Miss Bessie Powell has returned from an extended visit at Myrtle Creek.

Messrs. Dambleton, Labe, DeWitt and Wayne Gilman were at the Hub Saturday.

Miss Sadie Picketing of Roseburg, was visiting her sister, Mrs. John Gallagher, Saturday.

We would like to hear from all you do plomes throughout the sphere of the PLAINDEALER'S realm.

Farming is receiving considerable attention at present. Many of the farmers have already begun seeding.

We sincerely hope that the reported negro laborers shall fail to arrive, to the entire satisfaction of the whole community.

The PLAINDEALER'S hustling business manager, Mr. Stratford, was over here Wednesday and secured four new subscribers.

The Georgia Investment Co.'s boom was washed out by the recent high water. It presented quite a view in going over the dam.

Mrs. John Gallagher, little Ruth Powell, Mark Turpin and Baby McKay are among Winchester's sick, but all are convalescing at present.

It seems that at last the long hoped for manufacturing establishments will be built, and Winchester's water power utilized. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Be, both of Georgia, are here and others interested will soon arrive. They propose to build in addition to a saw mill, a wash and door factory, a flour mill, a box factory and shingle mill. There is plenty of labor and material here or adjacent, for all purposes, and we would not advise anyone seeking employment to come here, since the market is well supplied.

The price of fall chinook salmon, steelhead and silverides has reached the highest figure ever offered on the Columbia; 4 cents a pound, and 2½ cents is being paid for dog salmon.

Saved Nearly $40.

What Mr. Samuel Forbis says of the machine we sold him:

Olex, Gilliam Co., Ore., Sept. 22, 1899. Dear Sirs: We are very much pleased with our Burdick Sewing Machine that we got of you. It does its work perfect, runs easy and we think it is a beauty. Our Sewing Machine cost us just $19.47 after the freight was paid, a saving to us of $45.53.

Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL FORBIS.

We will send this same machine to any reader of the PLAINDEALER, who can examine it at the freight depot, and if found satisfactory, pay the freight agent $15.50 and freight charges. No doubt, Mr. Samuel Forbis will be willing to show the machine to any intending purchaser.

We will mail free our Sewing Machine catalogue to any reader of this paper on application.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. Chicago, Ill.

Albany Postoffice Robbed.

ALBANY, Oct. 23.—It was learned this morning that the Albany postoffice had been entered by burglars and the vault rifled. It was evidently the work of professional men. The thieves entered under an adjoining building and dog a tunnel under the postoffice building, removed a portion of the foundation of the vault and cut a hole in the steel floor of the vault, which gave the thieves access to the postoffice funds. The work had evidently been going on for several weeks.

The actual amount taken is not known. Several registered packages were rifled, but their contents cannot now be ascertained. It is believed the loss is about $300.

The robbery was discovered yesterday morning, but the postoffice officials did not disclose the fact until this morning. No clue as yet.
