Death of an Honored Citizen

Hon. George T. Russell died at his home at Oakland, this county on Thursday, November 2, 1899, aged 67 years, 1 month and 19 days.

At the close of the war he returned home, and after partially recovering his health, he removed to Tennessee, where he held the position of principal of Oak Hill school. Later he was principal of the Masonic academy at Newport, Tennessee.

He removed with his family to Oregon in 1879, and settled in Oakland, where he at once became prominent in educational and business circles, as well as his wife and daughters in social circles.

He established the Oakland academy, of which he was principal for almost a decade. He was superintendent of schools of Douglas county for two years and held other positions of trust with relation to school matters.

He was admitted to practice as an attorney and counselor at law by the supreme court of Oregon in 1883, but owing to ill-health he did not engage actively in the practice of that profession.

When Home Lodge No. 24, A. O. U. W., was organized at Oakland it has named him as the first in 1887 he was elected grand master of the order for Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

He joined the Masonic order at Providence, Rhode Island, when quite a young man and was a past master, and a member of the Royal Arch. Prof. Russell was a member of the Episcopal church, being a communicant of the church at Oakland, Or. Those surviving him are: Mrs. W. H. Brown, Myrtle Point, Or.; Mrs. S. M. Kelly, Oakland, Or.; Mrs. R. Wiestart, Baker City, Or.; and Fred A. Russell, O. K. Island, Or. Prof. Russell was always active in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the community in which he lived, having acted as superintendent of the Union Sunday School at Oakland for a number of years.

For the past seven years he filled the position of city recorder, and clerk of Lincoln district. Up to the time of his death he was a member of the G. A. R., and at his request he was laid to rest dressed in his uniform, and with his cap draped with the flag which he loved so well.

The funeral took place from the family residence at 2 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 5th, the interment being in the Odd Fellows' cemetery at Oakland. The funeral was conducted by the pastor of A. O. U. W. under the religious services being conducted by Rev. John Dawson of Roseburg. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

The funeral was attended by a large concourse of surviving friends from all parts of the county. The PLAINDEALER joins with a host of friends in extending to the bereaved family their heartfelt sympathy.

Miss Oliver has attained an international reputation as an actor, of character, and today is acknowledged to be without a peer upon the entertainment platform. Filled by nature and education to succeed along any line of historical or dramatic art, she has recently applied her gifts to the interpretation of a Scotch character.

Her Scotch heritage, a girlhood spent in a Scotch community, and actual visits among relatives in Scotland and the popularity of the recent Scotch literature have led Miss Oliver to dramatize the people, at times of today and present them as model, recitation.

Her success has been phenomenal. She has been entertained by authors of the stories she interprets, has given recitals in "Thruwa" and "Dumtuchy," at the White House for President and Mrs. McKinley, at the Government House, Ottawa, Canada, for the Earl and the Countess of Aberdeen, and in the principal cities of the U. Advice of a Druggist. "It is proper, I think, to let others know about the popularity and virtues of Acker's English Remedy for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. From the moment I began handling it, the sales increased rapidly, and the sales keep growing all the time as fast as people find out what a remarkable preparation it is. The satisfaction it gives is universal. Our best citizens use it and say it is the best thing for throat and lung troubles they ever saw. Mr. S. H. Colver, one of our prominent townsmen, says Acker's English Remedy is the only medicine that helped his chronic cough of many years' standing. At first it gave relief, and now, after taking a few bottles, he is wholly cured. I buy it by the gross at a time, and my sales are larger on this one medicine than on any other in my store. It is a great pleasure for me to feel that it will help many a man's suffering, and get your money back." (Signed R. B. Lotzels, Westfield, N. Y.) Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s, 2s, 3s, 4s, 6s.
