Bryan will prepare himself for next year's campaign by talking against a sallop for two or three weeks in California.

It is claimed since property struck the country the podders of liberty must wear thirty-four inches around her waistband.

The revenues of the United States for November exceeded the expenditures by $6,000,000. Republican business methods of running the country are successful, whether you like them or not.

The tobacco trust has raised the price of plug four cents a pound. If you don't like it you can afford a resolution denouncing the trusts, but a better plan would be to chew long-green or masticate less tobacco.

The price of quicksilver is up again. There are plenty of undeveloped mines in Southern Oregon, in Douglas and Linn counties. Enough quicksilver in the hills out there to supply the world's demand.—Statesman.

The one candle-power editor of the Review, insists that the editor of this paper sometime, somewhere was a pop. Well that's all right, Charley. You mean change their minds, hoo never do. You bet friends have no holes that you will ever change your mind.

Now the Philippine island will be given a government "deriving its just powers from the consent of the governed." It was first necessary to have the wild jobahabits come to order that we may have a clear idea as to what kind of a government the natives will consent to.

It is no idle boast to say that America is the storehouse of the world. The Car has been picking up horses in our markets, mules are still being shipped to the Transvaal country and a later contingent to South Africa is a shipment of 500 American wagons which will be used in hauling British supplies.

Bryan has invested $50,000 of his profits in U. S. government bonds. If one could get access to these particular bonds he would, of course, find plainly written across the back of each one of them in red ink a record of Mr. Bryan's willingness to accept payment of both principal and interest in any kind of dollars that may be about as good as Mexican dollars.

Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor made an interesting statement before the industrial commission last week, in view of the talk about trust legislation at the coming session of congress. He said that the organization he represented did not desire any legislation against trusts, because it was not certain at this time whether they were beneficial or injurious to the wage-earners of the country.

"Some of our old-time populist citizens who used to begin feeling the cold dragon in the morning, and end the day by stepping on the tentacles of the octopus of plutocracy, have shown signs this year of a desire to become productive members of the community. A notable example is Ira Wakefield, the populist Nestor of Jackson county, who is said to be preparing to put up a sawmill in that county."—Oregonian.

Wakefield was a middle-of-the-roader last election and represents that faction of the party now as its organizer in Oregon. His salary from the gold standard republican managers ought to explain his financial advancement. He is certainly an example of gold standard prosperity.

The above uncited for and slanderous attack on one of the most honorable citizens of Jackson county is taken from the columns of the Roseburg Review. It shows conclusively how the democrats love their populist brethren.—Ashland Tidings.

BINGER HERMANN.

A Washington correspondent of the Eugene Register has the following to say in regard to Hon. Binger Hermann: "We looked in today upon the commissioner of the general land office and found him the same genial, generous hearted Binger Hermann as of old. He greets out a big grin of public business each day and seems to thrive upon it, and is always ready to do a kind turn for his Oregon friends whenever called upon."

BETWEEN THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP SEA.

It is really amazing the way the Pop party are floundering and soiling between the devil and the deep sea, on the prosperity question. Take last Monday's issue of the Review as an illustration. The first thing on its editorial page was a frantic appeal to the voters to get together in Oregon, i. e., as it were, to save the country from utter ruin at the hands of the gold oligarchy, which, it claims, is oppressing the people, and grinding the faces of the poor. In the same column this paper boasts that its collections have been 20 per cent better than ever before. In the same paper appears a statement of the condition of the First National Bank of Roseburg, showing that the people of Douglas county have on deposit in that bank alone more than $300,000. And yet these whining, belly-aching hypocrites, prate about the oppression of the people by the trusts and the money power, and insist that the voters must "flee," and go back to Penobscot and cranium in order that we may have good times in Oregon.

FROM GOVERNOR GEER.

He Denies the Plummer Receipt in Strong Language—Says He Would Make It Stronger If He Knew How. The following article, which appeared in last week's issue of the Scout, published in Union county, Governor Geer's old home, not to satisfy the black-guard who have been demanding that he get into print in regard to the alleged Plummer receipt:

SALEM, Oregon, Dec. 5, 1899. W. H. McCOMAS, Esq. Union, Oregon.

My Dear Sir: Your original request, in a recent issue of the Scout, for a word from me regarding the alleged "receipt" for the sale of an office, under this administration, has reached me, and, coming as it does, from my toyhood home, where my friends are not nearly limited by political lines, has persuaded me to change my mind and do what public men cannot and need not often do that is take notice of calumnies that law of their own escape.

Allow me, therefore, to say there is nothing whatever in the "receipt" you refer to. There is not for the very good reason that there is no such receipt ever was. In other words, I am not a clerk fool, and was never before accused of being one. No man has in his possession, nor ever had an agreement to appoint him to any kind of office for any kind of consideration, secured by me. What a man, who boasts himself as successful in his own way, may do in the way of forgery, I do not know. That belongs to a species of dirty politics that I have been a stranger to, and have no time for now. Most disappointed office seekers are honorable men, who understand the difficulties of the appointing power, but there is nothing to prevent the lowest class of men from applying, also, and it is the duty of those in power, to keep them out. This has been done, hence the bogus receipt and vigorous equal. If the man who fixes his own place in the public estimation by parading himself as a briber in order to injure the man who protected the public service by keeping him out, was in the office, then the public might well be concerned. But a perfectly honest and competent man is superintendent of the post-office.

The written agreement to which you refer, is a fabrication of such cunning construction that it bears its relation from every point of consideration. To believe such a thing true would impeach my intelligence quite as much as my integrity. In the first place, it is a man would sign such an agreement and accept a sum of money, he would very naturally go ahead and make the appointment.

No man can be found whose integrity could assign a reason why a dishonest governor should not jump at the chance to appoint just such a man as the one under consideration, specially if there was a sum of money to be made by it. There would be the pecuniary profit the covering up of the transaction, and the unwavering loyalty of and constant insistence by him that the governor was the most admirable man to be found in the state.

I had the opportunity to exchange the appointment for that I owe, but refused, and instead appointed an honest man, whom everybody knows is fit for the job. I had a dollar for the office, if he had been disposed. In doing this I supposed I had done a creditable thing, and if I have a supporter in the state who thinks I should have done otherwise, I confess he has a right to be disappointed. If there is such a paper in existence, as the one mentioned, it is as base and malicious a forgery as was ever uttered. I would use stronger language if I knew how.

If there is a man in the state of Oregon who believes that I have been known enough to sell my ambition, my self-respect and the good name of myself and children, and stupid enough to sign my name to a bill of sale, and fool enough, having signed the contract and received the money, to not make the appointment, as to only means of covering up such a transaction or idiot enough to return the money without getting back the bill of sale, these lines are not written for him, for his opinion is wholly without value. I do not expect the political support of those who differ from me on political questions, but I do crave and prize above all things else, the respect and esteem of all classes of my fellow citizens. I have been very careful as to the fitness of every man appointed to office and in this administration, but I trust I am not to be held responsible for my firm.

I am giving direct attention to every detail of the duties of the high office to which I have been elected, and I do not believe any just complaint can be found against me. I have no other public ambition than to give the people of Oregon a clean and successful business administration, aided, as I have been by my associates, and I am glad to see that, as a rule, even the democratic papers, including your own, have been disposed, not only in this matter, but in all others, to be impartial and courteous. You may give this letter whatever publicity you see fit.

Sincerely your old friend, T. T. GEER.

The supreme court has handed down the following decision in the case of Aaron Rose, plaintiff and respondent vs. Hyman Wolence, defendant and appellant, in a judgment rendered by the court, Hon. J. C. Fullerton judge; reversed and remanded for new trial. Opinion by Associate Justice L. S. Dean. Plaintiff and defendant in 1922 became parties to the official bond of V. L. Arrington, treasurer of Douglas county. Arrington defaulted in the sum of $22,000, which sum the plaintiff was compelled to pay in equal parts. Plaintiff brought this action to recover $4,000.35, alleging that at the time of the execution of the bond it was agreed that plaintiff should be liable for one-third, and defendant for two-thirds of the bond. Defendant denied the contract and the trial resulted in a judgment for the plaintiff for the amount prayed for when defendant appealed, the court having instructed the jury that, without an express contract, an understanding between the parties to the effect that plaintiff should be liable for one-third of the bond only, would be sufficient proof of an implied contract. The court holds that the instruction complained of was error, and the case is reversed and remanded for a new trial.

TAYLOR INAUGURATED

Kentucky Has a Republican Governor in Office. His Aim Will Be to Secure a Repeal of the Present Election Law of the State. FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 12.—William S. Taylor was inaugurated as governor today. The crowd was much smaller than in past years, due to a December blizzard. The inaugural ceremonies were simple. Retiring Governor Bradley, in his speech, said that he hoped that the Goebel election law, which had brought so much turmoil to the state, would be wiped from the statute books. Governor-elect Taylor, in his inaugural address, said: "The verdict rendered by the people last November was a mandate of the people in favor of civil liberty; it was a triumph of the people over a mercenary, remorseless, partisan machine, erected to enslave them."

He said one of the chief aims of his administration would be to secure the repeal of the election law. The democratic candidates for state office today began sending notices of contests against the republican candidates who received certificates of election.

POPULISTS UNITED. Action by the Two Wings of the Party in Jackson County. Valley (Ashland) Record. Pursuant to a call signed by J. S. McCain, fusionist, and Grant Rawlings, mildraider, a large and enthusiastic conference meeting was held in Medford between the two wings of the party. A committee on resolutions was elected, consisting of two from each of the party, which brought in the following report: Resolved, That we, your committee on resolutions, endorse the Omaha and St. Louis platforms, recommend straight people's party action and oppose fusion or union in any way with either the democratic or republican parties, and we recommend that all populists regardless of former differences get together in their respective precincts and organize clubs.

This was adopted unanimously and it forever puts an end to fusionism and mildrading, and makes a united populism founded on the grand principles of national platform, with a plan of organization whose basic principle is the initiative and referendum and imperative mandate. It puts an end to the tricks of dirty politicians. The wire-puller, the bootler and the office-seeker are laid on the shelf. Every voter gets a chance at making nominations and shaping the party policy. No more "platforms" to get in on. No more tricksters to get in on. The platform will be made from principle as seen by the great common people and not from expediency by a few slysters. The office will seek the man.

There will be conventions which will simply ratify the action of the clubs, and take such steps as are necessary to comply with the election laws.

What Scrofula is.

Scrofula is a disease as old as antiquity. It has been handed down for generations and is the same today as in early time. It is emphatically a disease of the blood, and the only way to cure it is by purifying the blood. That is just what Hood's Sarsaparilla does in every case where it is given a faithful trial. It eradicates all impurities from the blood, and cures the sores, boils, pimples and all forms of skin disease due to scrofula taint in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla has won the grateful praise of vast numbers of people by its grand and complete cures. Don't allow scrofula to develop in your blood. Cure it at once by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props, Toledo, O. We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

Dated this 11th day of December, 1899, at the City of Roseburg, Oregon. GEO. W. DUMICK, County Treasurer, Douglas County, Or.

The Ladies' Cook Book.

The Experience Cook Book which this office is publishing for the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church, will, we hope, be out in a few days. It is no small job for a country office to print and bind an edition of 500 copies of a 140-page book and at the same time publish a semi-weekly newspaper like the PLAIN DEALER. But the work will soon be done and it will be as nice and neat a job as could be turned out anywhere.

DUFFY'S RESTAURANT.

A first class restaurant has been opened on Cass street, opposite the depot, at which may be had fresh oysters, chicken, steaks, stews, lunches, and heebee meals at all hours, regular meals are served. Lunches and quick meals for railroad passengers a specialty. For that hungry feeling be sure and call at Duffy's restaurant, prices reasonable.

C., Dec. 13.—General Methuen's advance on the Modder River, which he made on Monday, was a complete success. The British forces, numbering 12,000 men, defeated the Boer army of 12,000 men. The Boers were scattered and their position was too strong to hold. The British loss was very heavy, but the insurgents were scattered.

AGUINALDO IN HIDING

About Two-Thousand Spanish Prisoners Released. MacArthur Has Captured Mabini, Abtest of Insurgents, Founder of Their Government. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—General Otis had some stirring news to report today from Manila, his advance going to meet the insurgents, as he predicted a few days ago, at the end of their resources, from a military point of view, and are running away before the rapid advance of the American troops at all points. His cablegrams were as follows: "Manila, Fifty men of the navy and 60 men of the army transported by the navy, took Laoga on the 10th inst. General Young, with his staff, followed the next day. He reports that Howe, with the Pennsylvania battalion of the Thirty-fourth infantry, followed by a portion of the Thirty-third infantry, passed north to Pidding, east of Laoga. Marsh's battalion of the Thirty-fourth, was at Cayan province of Lepanto, on the 7th inst. The Third cavalry was along the coast and in the mountains pursuing the enemy.

Young states that his extreme northern force passed over the mountains, driving the insurgents, under General Tino, who was badly wounded, killing 50 and wounding many. He made large captures of rifles and property, with all insurgent transportation and released all the Spanish prisoners in that section to the number of about 2000. Our casualties were two wounded. Our troops are pursuing the remnant of Tino's command. Marsh's battalion reports from Cayan, Lepanto province, on the 7th inst, that he has destroyed Aguinaldo's body guard, killed General Gregorio Pilar, received the surrender of General Concepcion and staff, killed 575 and wounded 62 insurgents, released 150 Spanish prisoners, including 150 francs, and captured considerable property. His loss was two killed and nine wounded. My information is that Aguinaldo has disguised his individuality, abandoned his troops and is hiding in the province of Baguio."

A CHARTERED LIFE.

In a railroad accident the other day a man sustained ten complete fractures of the bones of the limbs, three fractures of the pelvis, and a score of bruises, gashes and sprains, and yet he is recovering. Men and women sometimes withstand great physical violence, but succumb to the invisible germs of consumption—so small that they can be seen only under a powerful microscope. The starting point of consumption is in the stomach, which, when deranged, makes bad blood because digestion is not perfect, and in bad blood the microbes multiply and flourish. Sooner or later the lungs are attacked, and in the weak spots the germs begin their deadly work of tearing down the tissues. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the encroachments of consumption microbes. It builds up and fortifies the whole system by aiding the stomach in its functions. It assists in the proper assimilation of food. This scientific remedy cures lingering coughs, bronchitis, bleeding at the lungs, and every other symptom that eventually leads to consumption. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who makes this wonderful medicine, gives free, fatherly advice to all who write him.
