REV. DR. DOANE.

Rev. N. Doane, D. D., Dean of the Theological School of the Portland University. Celebrated His Golden Wedding Last September.

This worthy man has been at the head of Methodist church work in the Northwest for 45 years. He had a double reason to be congratulated on this occasion as he had been almost totally deaf for years, and in spite of his advanced age, his hearing was restored last April by Dr. Darrin, now located at the McCallien Home, Roseburg. No one will attempt to question the reverend gentleman's word, as his unblemished record is well known. He tells his story below in his own words:

Rev. Dr. Doane's Card.
When you come to Portland remember and have your teeth fixed by Dr. M. W. Davis, 163 1/2 First St. (24)

To whom it may concern and encourage, to friends who have suffered like myself, the loss of hearing. On April 24 I called on Dr. Darrin, whom I believed to be a skillful artist and physician, to restore my hearing. He applied his remedies and electricity to one ear and cured the deafness in a few minutes. Then he turned his attention to the other ear, which did not seem to yield so readily. For this ear the doctor gave me medicines to use at home which I am now using. I think if the day of all who are afflicted to have their hearing restored if possible, and I know no one whom I think more skillful than Dr. Darrin.

NEHEMIAH DOANE.
What Further Treatment Did For Rev. Dr. Doane.
To the Editor: Some two weeks ago or more I said something of regaining my hearing under the treatment of Dr. Darrin, of which I had suffered for several years. On the first application the deafness of one ear (the left) was remedied. The difficulty with the other was more serious. I applied the medicine faithfully and went again to the doctor, who succeeded entirely in restoring the lost sense of hearing, so that when I went out upon Third street—Portland—it seemed to be the largest city I was ever in. My hearing still remains distinct, in both ears equally good.

NEHEMIAH DOANE.

Pioneer of Oregon Who Died in Medford Tuesday.

Medford, Or., Feb. 1.—William Russell, who died in Medford, January 30, was born in Ohio, September 11, 1827. His parents moved to Knox county, Illinois, while he was a small child. At the age of 21 he crossed the plains, driving an ox team the entire distance, taking six months, and reaching the Willamette valley in the fall of 1848, where he located on Howell prairie, in what is now Marion county. In 1849 the excitement of California drew him to San Francisco and for three years and thereafter he made annual overland trips to those gold fields. On one of those trips, while returning with a party of 11 men, he had a battle with Indians, near where Grant's Pass is now located, in which he nearly lost his life by a wound from a poisoned arrow. After that he remained on the farm near Roseburg until the fall of 1880, then moved to Drain, and operated a flour mill, which he owned.

In 1895 he came to Medford. His rugged physique, aggressive and hopeful spirit, as well as his excellent knowledge of the Indian language, fitted him for frontier life, which he loved; but he was none the less active in civic affairs, having been honored with several places of trust. He was a pillar in the Methodist church, of which he was a member 61 years. A widow and five children.—Mrs. O. Q. Cartwright, of Eugene; Mrs. L. E. Ward and C. E. Russell, of Roseburg; Mrs. Robert Green, of Dawson, N. W. T., and D. B. Russell, of Medford—remain to honor the memory of this early pioneer.

He is buried in the cemetery at Medford.
