Shall we have a creamery? Wonder if anybody heard anything drop.

We believe that Congressman Tongue would have been heartily assisted by the republican voters of his district, if he had voted against the Forde-Ricean tariff bill.

The subscription accounts of all our Roseburg subscribers have been made out and will be found at this office. We hope those knowing themselves among the list will call and settle.

The plans are being drawn for the new PLAINDEALER building. It will be designed and built especially for a newspaper office and will be one of the best and most convenient newspaper buildings in the state.

We were of the opinion that if our citizens will take hold of the proposition and show the interest in the matter that they should, a creamery could be located at Roseburg. That such an industry would not only be of great benefit to our farmers but to our business men as well.

CENSOR IS AT WORK.

No News Leaks Out From the Seat of War.

LONDON, March 4, 4:10 a. m.—It is evident that a strict censorship is being exercised over the news at the seat of war, as the night has not added anything to the scanty despatches received during the day, most of which referred to matters preceding the recent striking event.

The War Office intimates at midnight that there is a prospect of news until something definite shall have been done. It is quite in keeping with the complete silence which Lord Roberts has hitherto observed while his plans were a progress of accomplishment, and until he is in actual grip with the Boers, it is probable that the public will hear little or nothing of his doings.

Repairs the Kimberley Railroad. CAPE TOWN, March 3.—The railroad is not repaired northward from Kimberley to Riverton. The engineers are pushing the work rapidly.

The Boer prisoners captured at Paardeburg total 4693 men. About 3000 of them are on their way here. The pressure on the rolling stock is enormous.

Butler to the Queen. LONDON, March 3.—The Queen today received the following dispatch from General Buller:

"The troops much appreciate your Majesty's kind telegram. Your Majesty cannot know how much your sympathy has helped to inspire them."

No News of Mafeking's Relief. LONDON, March 4.—A special dispatch from Brussels announces that Dr. Leyds authorizes an absolute denial of the report that he had received news that Mafeking had been relieved.

COINAGE OF FREE SILVER. To Be Expedit Under the New Financial Bill. NEW YORK, March 3.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: It is the intention of the treasury department, as soon as the pending financial bill becomes a law, to expedite as far as possible the coinage of the silver dollar purchased under the Sherman act still remaining in the treasury.

PORTO RICAN TARIFF. BILL Declared to Be a Serious Department by an Ex-President. INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—In response to the question, whether he had, in conversation with friends, expressed an opinion adverse to the Porto Rico tariff bill, General Harrison said today:

"Yes, I regard the bill as a most serious departure from right principle."

To Test the Tariff Law. WASHINGTON, March 3.—Suit has been filed in the United States court of claims by Ludwig Deplace, of Puerto Rico, to recover $6434, which he has paid as customs duties on goods imported from the United States. He bases his right to recover on the claim that he is a citizen of the United States under the treaty of peace with Spain and the constitution of the United States.

A Fatal Accident.

ROSEBURG, Feb. 28.—A frightful accident occurred at the Iron Mountain mine at 3 o'clock this morning. A cave-in took place at the copper drift. Six men, up to 10 o'clock tonight, are still in the bowels of the earth, covered with tons of debris. Originally nine miners were entombed. Gangs of men were working at the rescue of the unfortunate six, with hope of success.

The names of the imprisoned men are: J. Melbroom, miner; J. Oates, timberman; A. Oates, timberman; Jno. Van Buren, mucker; R. McCallip, mucker, and an unknown man.

Filmore Davis, timekeeper on the night shift, was in the copper drift just before the cave-in occurred. He felt the giving away and made a run for it. He barely escaped with his life, as the spot where he had been standing in the drift was covered with tons of debris. Davis gave the alarm that nine men had been entombed. The general headquarters at Keewick, twelve miles away, was informed of the disaster and Lewis T. Wright, General Manager for the Mountain Copper Company, with surgeons and a special train, started to the rescue. Gangs of men working two-hour shifts were put to work, but owing to the nature of the ground and the danger of further collapse every foot of the way opened up by the rescuers had to be retimbered with the heaviest timbers and the work was slow. The work of rescue was being carried forward from three points.

The greatest dangers menacing the men is the lack of air, the air pipes having been broken. The men were all more or less protected by the heavy timbering, even in the area covered by the mass of fallen debris.

At the mouth of the tunnel from which the main work of rescue was carried on, gangs of miners stood ready to take their turn and timbermen were getting out huge timbers to go into the mine and up in place as fast as the debris could be removed. Lewis T. Wright, the general manager, stood by with the surgeons, waiting for the men to be brought out.

The Iron Mountain mine is the greatest copper producer in California, paying in dividends last year over $800,000. The cave-in will not cause a suspension of work either at the mine or smelter.
