The new time-card on which the Southern Pacific has been figuring for some time past, will take effect April 16, and in addition to the time of the old trains being much more satisfactory to the traveling public, an additional train will be put on between Albany and Portland, instead of between Salem and Portland, as was talked of some time since. The new trains will be Nos. 13 and 14. No. 14 will leave Albany at 7 a. m., Salem at 7:54, arriving at Portland at 10:10. No. 11 will continue to leave Portland at 8:30 a. m., passing Salem at 11 a. m., Albany at 12:10 p. m. No. 15 will be changed from 7 p. m. as at present, to 8:30 in the evening, making close connection with the Northern Pacific train from Puget Sound points.

A second edition of the Dead Sea has recently been discovered in Lake County. It is about 40 miles north of Lakeview, and is twenty miles in width, and is from one to twenty-five feet deep. Several streams empty into it, but it has no outlet. The water is so heavily loaded with alkali that no fish can live in it and no animal can drink it. It is in the middle of a desert, and its forbidding solitude and the entire absence of animal and vegetable life on its shores or in its waters properly give it the name of "Dead Sea of Lake County."—Klamath Republican.
