Dr. A. Sharples, the well known fruit man of Pleasant Hill, Lane county, says he will have a half a crop of prunes, and says that smudge fires made this possible. If he had known how to have handled them he would have had a full crop.—Eugene Guard.

Oregon farmers and orchardists should put out more winter apple trees. The apple is the standard fruit for the West-foot state. It has the world for a market either in its green state or dried. It is not as liable to injury from late rains in the spring or early showers in the fall as other fruits. Set out more winter apple trees.

A Glimpse of Tangent.

The editor and family tarried one day at Tangent before coming home, and soon discovered that the people of that thriving little town are interested in Oakland and its inhabitants. We met H. W. Settlement, the veteran nurseryman who has sold many fruit trees in Douglas county. He is still in the business, and hopes to secure more orders from here. Prof. W. A. McGhee is residing in Tangent and teaching school in a neighboring district. The Jenks brothers send regards to Rev. Thomas and family. J. E. Jenks is lay delegate to the M. E. church conference which meets in Roseburg the last of this month. He will perhaps attend and stop at Oakland before returning home. Mrs. L. J. Houck, mother of Dr. Geo. E. Houck of Roseburg, is managing the old farm and proves to be a better financier than many of the sterner sex. Like most old Oregonians she would be unhappy if not constantly employed. Alfred Blevins, an old friend of Dave Looney, has an eye on Douglas county, and may yet invest in Oakland realty. At Tangent we met D. L. Curt, a relative of Mrs. S. J. Jones. In fact we met several who have passed through Oakland, and all speak well of the town and seem interested in its welfare.—Oakland Owl.

W. R. C. Entertains.

Reno Corps No. 10, W. R. C., royally entertained the old veterans of the Civil war and their younger comrades, the veterans of the Spanish-American war in the Native Son's hall last Friday evening. A fine program was excellently rendered, including addresses by Commodore McCoy, Judge G. W. Riddle, J. W. Wright, Prof. Traver, Lieut. F. W. Haynes and F. S. Godfrey. Every number on the program was a gem of patriotism, especially the recitation of Miss Jessie Flook, "United at Last." "The Faded Coat of Blue," sung by Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Flint, was highly appreciated as was also the piano duet by Misses Helen Willis and Rose Bitzer.

The Corps presented Mrs. H. C. Stanton with a handsome rocking chair, showing their appreciation of her faithful services as secretary for a period covering the past ten years.

Immediately after the program the order to "fall in" was given and the entire "battalion" marched into the banquet room where an excellent lunch was waiting. No one was slighted in the least, as the ladies showed themselves to be past masters of the art of entertaining and it would have given a commissary officer the "blues" to see the way the good things disappeared. Mrs. Boyd was highly complimented on the excellence of her coffee, which was simply delicious. Games and conversation were indulged in after lunch and to say that every one enjoyed themselves is unnecessary. We hope for a repetition of the same many times.

Following is the program:
Chorus, America.
Address by the President, Mrs. McClallen.
Song, America, Pride of the World, Lily and Flossie Kidd.
Address by the commander of the Post, Mr. Howell.
Song, The Faded Coat of Blue, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Flint.
Recitation, United at Last, Jessie Flook.
Vocal duet, Pictures in the Clouds, Ellen Flook and Edith Pettersen.
Piano duet, Rose Bitzer and Helen Willis.
Recitation, Hurrah for the American Flag.
Solo, Love's Old Sweet Song, Edith Pettersen.

NO USE TRYING

I can't take plain cod-liver oil. Doctor says, try it. He might as well tell me to melt lard or butter and try to take them. It is too rich and will upset the stomach. But you can take milk or cream, so you can take

Scott's Emulsion

It is like cream; but will feed and nourish when cream will not. Babies and children will thrive and grow fat on it when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day when taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion. It gets the digestive machinery in working order so that the ordinary food is properly digested and assimilated.
