ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Wm. Love of Garden Bottom was visiting in the city Wednesday.

Examination for non-commissioned officers of Co. E will be held at Armory next Thursday night.

The PLAINDEALER now has the most complete job department in Roseburg. Call on us for job work.

Mrs. Wm. Dyer, of San Francisco, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Parker, in Edenbower.

Location notices of both pincer and lode claims and all other kinds of blanks for sale at the PLAINDEALER office.

S. K. Sykes has received a carload of machinery and also the new surrey ordered for Barker & O'Neil's livery stable.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Belts left Ashland for Grants Pass, Thursday evening. Mr. Belts will fill a position temporarily in the S. P. station there.—Tidings.

Mrs. M. Josephson has a very neat dress goods display in her windows this week. Jimmy shows that he can dress show windows as well as fit kid gloves.

A. M. Oxley has accepted a position as clerk in the Racket store. Mr. Oxley has had much experience in that line as he was employed in the Fair store at Heppner.

The Novelty Store has a very neat display of underwear in their window this week; the design is a three mast schooner; Lawson always keeps things in "ship-shape."

T. L. Blodgett, the harness maker has moved his shop from the Fletcher property near the depot, to 226 Jackson street, the building lately occupied by P. J. Bond the watchmaker.

All parents and guardians of school children should make it a point to visit the schools at least once during each term of school. Visits from parents are pleasant and profitable to pupils and teacher.

Rev. J. T. Cotton, of this city, left on Tuesday morning's local for Junction City, to assist Rev. Sibert in a series of meetings to be held near that place for a period of about one week. Mrs. Cotton and children are visiting in Myrtle Creek.

Goy. T. T. Geer has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address for the Native Sons and Daughters on the last day of the picnic in this city. Other good speakers will be secured and a grand time is assured.—Brownsville Times.

Dr. J. W. Strange, dentist, will be at Glendale on May 10, to remain one week. He will be pleased to see those who desire his services. Only the best of work done and fully warranted. Gold crown and bridge work and fine gold work a specialty. Prices very reasonable.

W. L. Hood, the South fork wool grower, was in town Tuesday, having come down to register. He reports flocks in better condition than ever before at this season and the increase unusually large. The warm open winter has been most favorable to the growth of fleeces which will be the largest and best produced in many years. Mr. Hood expects to realize 24 cents per pound for his wool this year.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

Marsters Bros., of Roseburg, intend establishing a marble and tombstone business in Coquille City about the 15th of May. Their representative, Mr. Tozier, is here, and in sizing up the business situation decided to locate in this place. W. E. Marsters will move to this city with his family the first of June and become a permanent resident. They come recommended as first-class people and The Bulletin welcomes them to Coquille. Mr. Tozier will be the outside rustler and general business manager. In another item in today's paper will be found an announcement calling attention to their business.—Coquille Bulletin.

Norris & Roe's big trained animal show gave two performances in this city last Monday. The show has greatly improved since their last appearance here and have many new and novel features, among them being Major Might who is undoubtedly the smallest man ever seen in this city, being but 39 inches tall and 28 years old; it is laughable to hear him and his partner "Shrim" who is only four feet tall and 23 years old, tell their troubles about being imposed upon by other members of the show. The band though small plays excellent music and far excels most traveling show bands. After the evening performance, the B. P. O. E. lodge No. 320 gave a social session in honor of the members of their order who are with the show in which a very enjoyable time was spent.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Simon Caro, the Oakland merchant, was a business visitor in Roseburg, this week, returning home on Tuesday's local.
