

Equal Suffrage.

This paper is in receipt of a somewhat lengthy "open letter" from the Oregon State Equal Suffrage Association Press, Abigail Scott Duniway. We would be pleased to publish it had we the space. It is a very able campaign document on equal suffrage.

We print the following extract from its pages without comment:

"We feel that you cannot justly, or honestly deprive us of our voice in the administration of the affairs of the government since we are taxed to maintain its laws to which, equally with yourselves we are held amenable.

As we provide for the government all its soldiers at the risk of our lives and, when you call our sons to battle, we bid them God-speed, even though our hearts are breaking, we surely perform duties equal with yours in the maintenance of government."

A Vice-Presidential Possibility.

There are many indications that the Vice-Presidential nomination on the republican ticket may come West. Men wise in such matters say the Vice President will be selected from the "far West." News from Washington indicates that the West-man whose name meets with the most favor among party managers in the East, is Irving M. Scott, builder of the "peerless Oregon" and Dewey's flagship the Olympia. The strong points in favor of Mr. Scott are an intimate acquaintance with President McKinley and most of the great party leaders, who not only know him but respect him for his ability and worth. It is known the length and breadth of the land as the man upon the integrity of whose work this nation looked with anxious eyes when the Oregon was steam-raised from San Francisco to Santiago. He is the man who, by the marvelous performance of that vessel, proved to the American people that every bolt, and every piece of mechanism in her hull was put there in honor, and with elevated to high place will carry with it the same honorable purpose that has guided the huge undertakings of her private life. Mr. Scott holds intelligent and decided views on the question of expansion, and, what is more, he has the ability to give public expression to them. He is essentially a man of the people. He rose from the ranks. Was a poor boy, born in Maryland. Served his apprenticeship in the machine shops of Baltimore and rose inch by inch, step by step, until he has become one of the great employers of men in America.—San Francisco Wave.

Must Oregon Come to This.

It is the hope of the Suffragists to be taken seriously with such tribute as the following forming so impressive a part of the San Francisco City convention, which met recently and nominated Bryan and Taft:

Among the delegates there was Anna L. Duggan, of Topeka, Kan., the state librarian. She had changed her red waist for a pink one. There was Mrs. L. Harwood, of Atwood, Kan., who wore a green skirt and a pink and white waist. There was Mrs. C. K. Kibbe, of Oeage City, Kan., who wore a wine-colored dress with a black vest and a big hat trimmed with feathers that shook as she spoke. There was Mrs. M. A. Vincent, of Boulder, Col., the wife of the editor of the "Colorado Independent." On the other side sat Mrs. B. Brown, in a bewitching purple and white checked shirt waist and a green skirt. She comes from Denver. Next to her was Mrs. A. Wright, of Bath, who wore a black silk vest. There were but a few of the delegates, and the rest of the politicians of no mean caliber.

There you have it. Not a word about the men's clothes at the Bryanite circus. It is a woman appear in public and the first thing to be noticed is what she wears. If it was not for that saving grace, they are all politicians of no mean caliber. These enterprising women's rights at the Bryanite convention might have felt that a woman could not be superior to her clothes. Or, perhaps, after all is said, it was the observant reporter who was at fault, he having only eyes sartorial for the attractive lady delegates.

It has been ascertained by a series of questions that what children are most afraid of are thunder storms.—Globe Democrat. It may be that children of the East and Mid-West have a great horror of thunder storms, but such elementary disturbances is the least of their fears here in peerless Oregon.

At a flower show recently held in London a vine was exhibited that was said to have been grown from seed taken from the tomb of an Egyptian mummy 2000 years old. The vine is of a variety much like the sweet pea.

Martin H. Sullivan, a lumberman, of Pensacola, Fla., has for $2,000,000 sold to Russel A. Alger and others 300,000 acres of pitch pine timber lands in the counties of Conecuh, Monroe, Baldwin and Escambia, in Alabama.

Some girls in an English school the other day were discussing the meaning of the letters "G. C. B." after Lord Roberts' name. Our young woman quickly settled the difficulty by saying that the initials stood for "Generally Called 'Bobe.'"

A dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, says that the United Fruit Company is going to immediately expend over $500,000 on its sugar plantations in Cuba. The output, which is expected to be 1000 barrels a day, will, it is said, revolutionize the sugar industry of the West Indies.

Manifold blessings came to Farmer Milton Mellott near McConnellsburg, Pa., a couple of nights ago. His wife presented him with lusty twins. In the morning when he went to the barn he found that one of his best cows during the night had given birth to twin calves, and in the sheep pen he discovered that a ewe had twin lambs. A peculiarity of the occurrence is that one of each sex made up the three pairs.

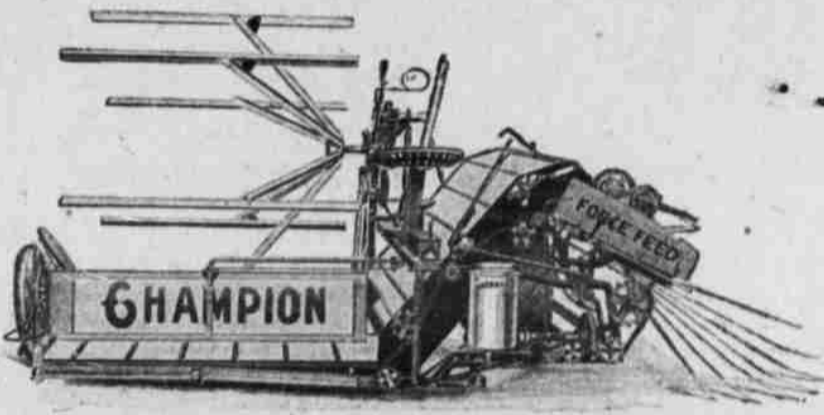

CHAMPION BINDERS AND MOWERS

These Machines are adapted to cope with all conditions of grain and grass. They are practical, reliable and durable machines, easily understood and cared for. They have many of excellence over other machines.

The Superiority of the Binders is largely due to four features of surpassing importance.

THE FORCE FEED ELEVATOR, POWER-GIVING ECCENTRIC WHEEL, RELIEF RAKE, AND THE DEVICE FOR PREVENTING NECK WRIGHT.

None of these things can be found on any other Binder.

Knock-Out Drops

"I am a saloon-keeper, and used to think that rock and rye, or whiskey and quinine were proper remedies for coughs and colds. Most of my acquaintances were of the same opinion. Now I know something better. It is Acker's English Remedy for Coughs and Colds. A good while ago I began to cough and found out then that rock and rye was no good. I got worse and I was beginning to think that the trouble would run into consumption. I didn't take any stock in patent medicines, but somehow or other I tried Acker's English Remedy. One bottle did the business for me—knocked that cough out completely—and it has never come back again. There is never a day passes that I don't say a good word about this wonderful medicine. I almost forgot to say that I am stronger and fleshier now, since taking the remedy, than I was before the cough began. I write this letter voluntarily and cheerfully and am glad to do it." (Signed) CURIS HUMBEL, Saloon-keeper, Pocatello, Idaho. Sold at 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back. We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York. For sale by M. F. Rapp.
