LAW RELATING TO NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIPTION.

According to some of the latest laws newspaper publishers may cause individuals who take a paper and refuse to pay for it to be arrested for fraud. Under this ruling, also, anyone who allows his subscription to run along for a time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it refused, or sends a postal card to the publishers is liable to arrest and fine the same as for theft.

Clubbing Rate

We have arranged with a large number of papers and magazines for rates which will give to our subscribers two publications for a slight advance over the cost of THE PLAINDEALER alone. Following is a partial list:

CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT.

With this issue of the PLAINDEALER I again assume its sole management, F. W. Roach retiring after two years' association in the publication of the paper, under the firm name of Conner & Roach. The retirement of Mr. Roach in nowise effects the long established policy and principles of the paper. The past few years have been prosperous ones for the paper and during this time many valuable improvements have been made in the paper and plant. The paper has been supplied with practically, a new and commodious office building much new machinery and type has been added to the plant and the paper has been and is still being improved. The business and patronage of the paper is now no less satisfactory and is growing larger every day, while the office is better equipped than ever to give complete satisfaction both in news and job printing service to its many patrons. The present management feels gratified indeed, with the bright future prospects of the paper and the substantial and liberal patronage extended the office, as well as the hearty cooperation of our many friends in advancing the interests of the paper.

Mr. Roach has gone to Iowa on a visit to relatives and friends and has not fully determined on his future business occupation. He announced his intention on his departure of returning at an early date and again casting his lot in Jackson county.

Thanking the many friends of the paper for past patronage and favors and soliciting a continuance of their support and hearty good will, I remain,

Respectfully,
W. C. CONNER.

EMMA GOLDMAN'S CREED.

The following is from the speach of Emma Goldman that Czolgosz, the assassin, says "set me on fire," and inspired him to kill the president:

"There is no God. Religion is a superstition to which fools bow down.

"Government is an excuse for the rich to starve and murder the poor. Overthrow all governments. Trample down emperors, kings, czars, presidents, governors, mayors and police. Resort to violence when violence is necessary. Kill all tyrants.

"Marriage is a veil for vice. Free love is what nature intended. Love is not immoral.

"Let labor and capital war. Where more than one assemble to stop free speech then let killing begin. Let the church and state, the harborers of thieves fall together. Carry a torch in one hand, and a dagger in the other. When the time comes burn and cut to the heart.

"I shall live to teach. I shall live to agitate. It is my mission to draw America from her depth of infamy. It is my mission to drag down the oppressor and lift up the oppressed."

The late rains and warm weather has been just the thing for making the grass grow. The hills, and valleys which a short time ago had assumed a dry and barren appearance have now taken on their mantle of green and present a very pleasing spectacle. The stockmen are rejoiced to see the change as it will mean the saving of feed for stock for some time to come.

It is now dog eat dog—the great American sugar trust has begun war on the Oxnard beet sugar trust. After a while the sweets of both trusts will be found in the cups of all.—Mail.

Some newspapers are crowded with unsolicited business, while others must hustle night and day in order to eke out an existence. The PLAINDEALER belongs to the former class.

It is not as easy as it was to send anarchistic publications through the mails. Congress should make it impossible.

Political Gossip.

A press dispatch from Washington said: "President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained a few friends at dinner tonight including Senator Mitchell, of Oregon." It is to be presumed that President Roosevelt will entertain many persons at dinner, but not all will be admitted to the honor of being officially announced as of "a few friends." Senator Mitchell appears to have a very strong position, personally, in the national capital.—Eugene Guard, dem.

The republicans have reorganized their party in this county. In doing so, Hon. Donald Mackay, a man of fine executive ability, and one who has ever sustained a high standing with the business community, has resigned and is succeeded by Dr. O. P. S. Plummer. Ted Holman seems to be the leading spirit in this re-organization business.—Portland Dispatch.

In a recent interview Senator Mitchell declared his desire that congress at its approaching session may pass a bill providing for an Isthmian canal. He himself expressed confidence that this will be done.

Graham Glass has been broken by the Multnomah county republicans. He is said to have resigned as chairman of the Multnomah county committee involuntarily, says an Albany paper.

Senator Williamson has considerable strength for anything he may ask of the republicans of Eastern Oregon, but the Chronicle has the highest authority in the world for saying that he is not a candidate for governor and never was for a moment. If this is any comfort to our friends west of the mountains, or to the gubernatorial candidates over in Pendleton or elsewhere, they are welcome to it and they may rest assured the information is reliable. What the future may have in store for Senator Williamson the Chronicle knows not; but that his Eastern Oregon friends will demand his recognition we are well assured, and the Chronicle will be with them in this demand, heart and soul.—The Dalles Chronicle.

The Woodburn Independent is still afflicted with the bolt nightmare. Read this: "Gradually the different political forces in this county are lining up. There are more factions than we dreamed there would be. All hands should decide to bury all animosities at the county convention. But will the convention manufacture enough salve of a superior quality to quickly heal the wounds? Great and unanswerable question, that."

Circuit Court Adjourned Friday.

The October session of circuit court concluded its work for the term Friday afternoon and adjourned until the next regular term Jan 15, 1902. The following orders were made not heretofore published:

Thos. Hirst et al, vs Emma Nasburg et al, suit for partition; A. M. Crawford for plaintiff. Order made vacating former decree, discharging the referee and dismissing the case.

Thos. Hirst et at vs Emma Nasburg et al, suit for partition; A M Crawford for plaintiff. Same.

Order that minor child, Leston A Rice, remain with plaintiff, and that the defendant have the privilege of visiting the child without let, hindrance or interference by plaintiff, or her mother, Caroline L Fenton, or her step-father, Asahel Fenton, at all proper times.

H Wollenberg, adm., plaintiff, vs J F Rose, et al, defendants, in equity; F W Benson and J C Fullerton attys. for plaintiff; C S Jackson atty for defendants. Continued.

The Noonday Mining Co, vs Chas. Brunean, et at, equity suit; F W Benson and Coshow & Sheridan, attys. for plaintiff; A M Crawford, J S Medley and A C Woodcock, attys for defendants. Continued.

W S Hamilton, vs L C Chenault, et ux., suit in equity; Dexter Rice atty. for plaintiff. Judgment for $550, with interest at 6 per cent from Aug. 25, 1901, and $50.13 for taxes paid, and costs, and foreclosures of mortgage if not paid in sixty days.

C V Fisher, vs. Herman Wilson, et al, action to recover money; Geo. Byron, atty for plaintiff. Dismissed.

Mary J Hayden, plaintiff, vs Robert P Hayden, defendant; action to recover money; J C Fullerton atty for plaintiff. Continued.

R A Woodruff, plaintiff, vs Fred Bateman, defendant, injunction suit; J C Fullerton atty. for plaintiff; F W Benson atty for defendant. Referred to J H Shupe to take testimony and report at next term of court.

Susie Clayton, plaintiff, vs Jesse R Clayton, et al, defendants, suit for partition; F W Benson, atty. for plaintiff. Decree for partition.

W S Hamilton vs M F Rapp, to recover money. Judgment for $2490.13, and $50 attorney's fees, and order for sale of attached property.

PROBATE ORDERS

In the estate of E. F. Kerwin, Mrs. Julia L. Wagoner, sister of the deceased, has been appointed administratrix, J. F. Tracy, John Hedrick and Oscar Applegate are named as appraisers. The property has a probable value of $500.

F. B. Waite, executor of the estate of Ferdal Sutherlin, has been duly authorized to sell the horses and cattle of said estate at private sale.

Sale.

We will sell at our store every Saturday at 2 o'clock without reserve to the highest bidder, one guitar, one violin and one accordion. This will give you an opportunity to get an instrument at your own price. T. K. RICHARDSON, Roseburg, Ore.

Educational Notes.

By F. B. HAMLIN, Co. School Supt.

Most of the district schools are now in session.

Peter Nash, jr, is again in charge of the school in Dist. No 23, at Stephens.

The Looking Glass schools are in charge of Miss Francis Wixson and Miss Dolly Badger.

Miss Maxamilia Nichols and Miss E. Stuart are teaching in district No. 9, the Gardiner school.

Prof. A. H. Mulkey, who has done much for the upbuilding of the schools of Elkton, is again retained as their principal.

Prof. J. A. Davis, who has taught several terms in district No. 7, at Ten Mile has contracted for an eight months term in that district.

Prof. D. . Parker goes to Canyonville again this year as principal, which indicates that his work there last year was satisfactory to the District.

Prof. A. F. Cornutt and Miss Inez Depew, have been employed to teach the school in District No. 19, at Myrtle Creek, for five months beginning Oct. 14.

Prof. J. E. Patterson, who has taught several very successful schools in the southern part of the county, is now teaching in District No. 16, at Brockway.

The Yoncalla schools have an entirely new corps of teachers this year. They are Miss Blanche Riddle, principal; Mrs. Neeley and Miss Emily Devore, assistants.

Prof. Cochran reports a very full school at Oakland, the enrollment being 160 and more to come. His assistants are Zopher Agee, Jessie Ohmart and Bessie Powell.

Arrangements are being made for a local institute at Oakland, Friday evening and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23. The next is to be held in the southern part of the county.

The Wilbur schools this year in charge of Prof. Whittlesey, who is assisted by Mrs. Barzee and Miss Bertha Lamb. This is a strong corps of teachers, and we predict a good school.

The Roseburg Schools have settled down to business in good shape. The attendance is good in all departments. Nearly fifty are enrolled in the eighth grade. Ninth and tenth grades are also pretty well filled.

The progressive patrons of School District No. 25, Melrose, have voted in favor of a high school, and Miss Alice Clinkinbeard has organized a ninth grade class of about 6 or 7 pupils. The Misses Anna and Creole Conn are her assistants.

Prof. V. V. Willis has been retained as principal of the Riddle public schools. Miss Ethel Riddle is his assistant. The new school house just completed in this district is proving a great convenience. and is in excellent keeping with the other substantial buildings of this prosperous community and the growing town of Riddle.

A study of the above will show that there has been less shifting of the teaching force in this county this year than in any previous year of its history. This speaks well not only for those teachers who are able to retain their positions but for the good judgment of boards of directors who see the advantages of retaining teachers who give satisfaction.

An old farmer visiting in the city the first time, thought he would attend the theater, the play being "Forty Thieves." He went to the opera house at the appointed hour, laid down a $5 bill and asked for a mighty good seat. He was deftly served with a piece of pasteboard and a dollar in change. He picked up the dollar but left the ticket and started to go out. "Hold on stranger," said the show man, "here is your ticket to the show." "Keep it darn yer," replied the farmer, "I don't care to see the other thirty-nine."—Ex.

Melrose Items.

Miss Delia Conn is visiting her sister Mrs. E. H. Crane.

Mrs D. C. Churchill spent Thursday at the home of Mrs. E. W. Dillers.

We are sorry to report that Rosa Larison is critically ill at her home near Wardton.

Rumor reports that V. S. Woodruff will soon return home and some of our young ladies wear a pleased look.

Mr. and Mr. Floyd Murphy of Roseburg were the guests of Mrs. Murphy's parents, Mr. and Mrs Tooley, and sister, Mrs. C. W. Hatfield, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Crouch who have been visiting with her parents Mr and Mrs. Ward, of Wardton, returned to their home at Oakland last Thursday.

Several of the young men of this community enjoyed the dance at Millwood, Friday night while the girls stayed at home and grieved because they had no way of going.

Mrs. Agnes Poket who has been making her home with the family of A. E. Clayton will soon depart for Eugene, where she will spend the winter with her uncle Mr. T. J. Archambeau.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Examination has been in progress this week. The following was the result of those who ranked one and two in the different grades:

Nineth grade, Alice Conn, 97; Anna Conn, 96.

Eighth grade, Grace Mathews, 97; Katie Diller, 96.

Seventh grade, Bennie Conn, 90; Roscoe Conn, 82.

Fifth grade, Grace Clayton, 95; Elsie Woodruff 94.

Third grade, Davie Conn, 90; Holdah Kaiser, 84.

First grade, Eddie Diller, 98; Keitha Conn, 98.

Great interest was manifested by all the pupils who passed very creditable examination.

Miss Creolee Conn of the nineth grade was absent during the week on account of illness.

Mr. Clayton (school clerk) last Saturday placed some new black-boards in the school room, also a wood box.

An entertainment consisting of instrumental music, singing, dialogues, and recitations followed by a box supper (boxes to be sold to the highest bidder) will be given at the French Settlement school house Saturday evening, October 26, 1901. The proceeds to be used in purchasing books for the public school library. Every body cordially invited. Ladies come and bring boxes and gentlemen with well filled purses.

SCHOOL KIDS.

From Grants Pass Observer.

Mark C. Munson, of Roseburg, the state organizer of Sunday schools for the Congregational denominations has been working throughout Josephine county this week.

C A Riddle of the Observer, spent last Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Riddle. The prune driers in that section were all finishing up the season's work, after a satisfactory run. Mr. Clarence Gazley, the buyer, secured the bulk of the crop, paying on a basis of 3½ cents.

Grandma Dyer, mother of Mrs. J. A. Jennings and Mrs. G. W. Colvig is seriously ill at Medford. Her two sons, Thos. and Sam Dyer, of Riddle, were passengers on this morning's train going to attend her bedside.

Willis Kramer, the Myrtle Creek milling and mining man, was in Grants Pass several days this week having been at his mining property on Galice creek. He has not yet sufficent water power with which to run his arrastre with the coming of the fall rains this deficiency will be met. Mr. Kramer is greatly encouraged on the showing of his property.

Anlauf Items.

Wm. Tucker has moved back to his farm on Pheasant Creek.

Vivus Seymour is clearing land preparatory to building a dwelling house.

Robt. Anlauf and Ed Robinson start for Scottsburg next Tuesday. They are going to catch salmon.

There was a big dance at Leona last Saturday night at Mr. DeWitt's. Those attending report a good time.

Our old friend Frank Jamieson, is no better and there is little hopes for his recovery. His daughter, Mrs. Eliza Teeters, of Albany, is in attendance at his bedside.

There is talk of a hall being built here for lodges and other meetings. There is also some talk of a telephone line to Drain, with offices at Henderer's and Leona, and perhaps at Lorane.

Harry Mooney has returned from Harney county. Harry and his brothers are going to cut 1,000 cords of railroad wood, having just purchased a steam wood saw of Lloyd Russell.

Mr. Strong of Anlauf saw mill, is hauling ties for the S. P. Co. UNO.

An Oregon Girl.

Advices from Washington say that society there is in a flutter over the expected visit of the beautiful Duchess de la Rochefoucauld, of France, and the Duke, next winter. The Duchess, who was the most beautiful Washington belle of her day, was Miss Mattie Mitchell, the daughter of Senator John Mitchell, of this state. Her mother is now with her abroad, and may be accompanied to this country by the Duke and Duchess. Senator Mitchell has been in Paris during the summer visiting his daughter.

Gorden Allen says the report that he was doing the snake charming act with Rosenbaum's high dive circus at The Dalles street fair was untrue. Neither has he any intention of leaving the railroad service for the purpose of making an exhibition of himself for the public. He is indignant at the publication of these reports and threatens to "sue us for libel" if we do not correct the same. Evidently some railroad boys have made the reporter the innocent victim of a "josh" instead of a piece of news. We cheerfully correct the statement.

Brakeman R. S. Hale who was taken to the Portland hospital has returned to Grants Pass where his folks and sweetheart are soothing him. Hale belongs to Conductor W. H. Burn's local freight crew and aimed to jump on the caboose of the rapidly moving freight train as it was pulling out of Cole's station Saturday. He was unable to hold to the grappling bar and was whirled about like a top and was thrown violently to the ground striking on his back and head. It was first thought the injury would be fatal.

J. P. Morgan, the great trust organizer and mighty man of the world's industrial enterprise —man with money and rich with brains of an organizing and industrial type of mind, passed through Friday afternoon. He is returning home to New York from the Episcopal convention in San Francisco and is traveling in a magnificent special train of six cars. In the party are Bishops Potter and Doane.—Ashland Record.

Ashland's Oil Fields.

There is at present a lull in the drilling work at the Alford place east of town, where the Southern Oregon Oil Co. are operating, to enable them to do a lot of casing into the oil well as the drill had been pounding through during the past week. The casing will arrive tomorrow and be immediately placed in position and the good work renewed. The well is down nearly 900 feet and for 300 feet of this distance the oil seepages have been encountered. The promoters of the enterprise are more than abundantly satisfied with the developments encountered in their work, and all the geological conditions that their mining engineer, Mr. Geo. W. Bodgett, said existed in the locality have been found. The conglomerates, pebble sandstones, shales, bitumens and oil sands have been drilled through and the oil seepages have disclosed that the petroleum is of a light and valuable variety, being of a paraffine base, that is worth about $2 per barrel. That the oil bodies exist and will yet be tapped in abundant and permanent quantities all the indications surely point to. The promoters of the enterprise are to be congratulated over the favorable results their investment of capital and labor have thus far obtained. While it will mean wealth for themselves when oil is finally "struck," the city and locality will reap far the greater advantage. All our industries will take on new life and the activity and business expansion that has been witnessed in Texas and Kern county, Cal., would be duplicated here.

The Southern Oregon Oil Co. has received word that the 1200 feet of steel casing they have been expecting reached Dunsmuir last evening and will probably arrive in Ashland tonight.—Tidings.

Completing Water System.

Contractor George Lea has finished his contract with the city for the laying of the mains of the new system, says the Bohemia Nugget. He has put down and connected 2¼ miles of pipe, some 2500 feet of six and five-inch and 10,000 feet of four-inch. This has all been tested with a 225-foot pressure head from the reservoir on the hill just back of town, and accepted by the council. The town now has an ample supply of water for all purposes and pretty well covers the thickly settled portions.

Notice—Three Things to Remember.
