Dallas is showing the right spirit in battling a $10,000 bonus to secure a railroad to Falls City, a big timber center. Dallas expects in return to secure location of a big sawmill and a corresponding increase of business.

Lucky men down in New Mexico! Baring for oil in a desert on the line of the Topoka and Saut Fe railroad they struck a gusher, a water gusher, though, that does a thousand gallons an hour through the two-inch drill hole. The water is more valuable than oil down in that waterless, non-irrigated country.

There is still plenty of public land and it is being taken up faster than ever before. The Yakima country has been settled for a score or more years yet the land office reports more November homestead filings than in any previous month in the history of the office. And it is the same all over the Northwest.

"Four bits" makes the "east of the mountains" Oregonians who have wheat let loose. A fifty-cent-a-bushel order reached Pendleton the middle of Saturday afternoon and by the time for closing business one hundred thousand bushels had been there and at common points were unloaded. Had the order come early in the day several times that amount could have been bought.

New York state enjoys the distinction of having as a resident the oldest officeholder in the country. He is Roswell Beardsley, post-master at North Lansing N. Y. Mr. Beardsley received his appointment from President John Quincy Adams and has held the position ever since 1828. He is ninety-nine years of age and writes his reports regularly every month to the department at Washington.

At Guthrie, O. T., a sheriff recently attached a passenger train as it halted at the depot to satisfy a judgment of $70 held by an employe against the railroad company. The official's private car was attached to the train and when they signaled the engineer to pull out it was discovered that the determined sheriff had blocked the engine with a locomotive. The claim was finally paid after considerable parley and the train moved on.

While an investigation of the opening of the switch that led to the wreck at Salem Saturday is under way, Superintendent Fields, of the Southern Pacific Company, doubts whether any further light will be shed on the matter. A diligent search for the switch lock has failed to reveal its whereabouts. It has disappeared as if swallowed up by the earth, and herein is where the mystery surrounding the wreck with the baleful consequences lies.

Notice.

A winter trip to Southern California and Arizona via the famous Shasta Route is one never to be forgotten. Renewed acquaintance with this section will ever develop fresh points of interest and added sources of enjoyment under its sunny skies, in the variety of interests and added industries, in its prolific vegetation and among its numberless resorts of mountain, shore, valley and plain.

Two trains leave Portland daily, morning and evening for California. These trains are equipped with the most improved pattern of standard and tourist sleeping cars, and the low rates place the trip in reach of all.

For illustrated guides of California and Arizona winter resorts, address

Miners happy now that they have plenty of water.

Farmers improving their time in plowing and sowing.

Mrs. Colpit of the Sound is visiting with her sister Mrs. Col Day.

Rider Box, have their mill in good shape and are turning out an excellent lot of lumber.

Col Day has been absent for some days on business connected with dredging on the Columbia river. U. N.

Mr. Royal A. Giles of Waterloo, Wisconsin, is visiting with our post master and wife. He is the son of Mrs. Wells and he will probably remain on this coast.

The people of Ocala will celebrate the departure of the old year and the coming in of the new year with a grand ball on New Year eve. Good music and a good supper will be provided.

Shadow Social At Brockway.

The Shadow Social at Brockway was held last Friday evening as announced in the PLAINDEALER of Dec. 2nd, and was a splendid success. About six o'clock the people began coming in, and by 7:30 the house was crowded with the people of the District and from Dillard, Winston, Ten Mile, Looking Glass, and other places. The splendid literary and musical programme formerly advertised in the PLAINDEALER, was very creditably carried out the welcome address being delivered by Prof. J. E. Patterson. Mr. F. P. Hermann, violin, and Mr. Sebring and Miss Edna Winston organ supplied the greater part of the instrumental music which was fine. At the close of the literary and musical programme a short intermission was given before the sale of the Shadows was begun. Mr. W. A. Simmonds the chairman of the board auctioned the Shadows and proved to be an expert in the work. The bidding was rapid and spirited. Of 53 sales less than one-third sold under one dollar. Many selling for Three, Four and Five Dollars. The amount realized was $79, which will be used to purchase a library for the school.

After supper music was again furnished by Messrs. Hermann and Sebring and a short address made by the teachers thanking the neighbors and friends for their presence, excellent order and assistance in making this the most successful social ever held in this part of the County. The people of Brockway are loyal to their school and all are highly pleased with the success of their efforts.

The house is full of arnica
 And mystery profound;
 We do not dare to run about,
 Or make the slightest sound;
 We leave the big piano shut,
 And do not strike a note;
 The doctor's been here seven times
 Since father rode the goat.

He joined the lodge a week ago—
 Got in at 4 A. M.,
 And sixteen brothers brought him home
 Though he says he brought them.
 His wrist was sprained, and one big rip
 Had rent his Sunday coat—
 There must have been a lively time
 When father rode the goat.

He's resting on the couch today,
 And practicing his signs—
 The halting monkey, working grip,
 And other monkeyshines;
 He mutters passages 'neath his breath,
 And other things he'll quote—
 They surely had an evening's work
 When father rode the goat.

He has a gorgeous uniform,
 All gold and red and blue;
 A hat with plumes and yellow braid,
 And golden badges, too.
 But, somehow, when we mention it,
 He wears a look so grim,
 We wonder if he rode the goat,
 Or if the goat rode him.

Some Drink Bills.

Statisticians have figured out that the British people are heavy drinkers and pay a great revenue for the privilege. In 1900 the net cost revenue from tax on drinks consumed in Great Britain amounted to $47,870,000, which was $12,000,000 more than the combined revenue from the same source of France and Germany, and $5,000,000 more than that of the United States in 1899. France is the great wine consumer, its people having used last year 983,158,000 gallons of wine to 16,000,000 in Great Britain, 82,000,000 gallons in Germany and 25,000,000 gallons in the United States.

In the consumption of beer Great Britain leads the United States, and makes a good, or bad, second to Germany, the figures being as follows: Great Britain, 1,299,000 gallons; Germany, 1,258,000 gallons; France 238,000,000 gallons; United States (1899), 924,000,000 gallons.
