THE CHRISTMAS ATMOSPHERE.
 This is Christmas week and around every hearthstone the innocent followers of Santa Claus gather each night to take a peep up the chimney before they go to bed, and when they there beneath the snowy coverlets and, kissed a night's farewell by mother, they still let their eyes fall on the chimney opening and wonder how dear Santa will ever come down into the room through that hot place and hope that papa and mamma will put out the fire so he won't be badly burned; surely they will when he has such nice gifts for their little ones, so thinking, their eyes gently close into the quiet, refreshing sleep of babyhood, and open no more till morning's sun calls their mind once more to action. Sweet faith that has no doubts, and a lesson of value for every adult. The little ones believe in Santa and his marvelous ways, and questions never.
 So men, a child as far as knowledge of the future is concerned, should place his faith in that One presented to him in his baby days along with Santa, and never raise a doubt to shadow it.

Selling ready for Christmas makes these days in December full of pleasant labors and anticipations. The majority of people are not millionaires. They do not have full purses with which they can go to the stores and buy their Christmas presents without regard to cost. They have a little money, and it requires a good deal of planning, of invention and loving thought, to make it go round.
 Oftentimes the money is only enough to buy the raw materials from which patient and skillful fingers will fashion the gifts. If we could look into many a home we should see the children planning some surprise on Christmas morning for fathers and mothers, and the parents in turn consulting how to manage to give the boys and girls what they want. It is the mutual thoughtfulness of others that impart to these December days a peculiar atmosphere. It will soften the heart of the crustiest old bachelor to go into the Christmas shops and overhear the consultations among purchasers as to what they shall get. Even as you walk along the streets you observe a peculiar light in the eyes of the women shoppers. They do not have it at any other season of the year, except, perchance, when they are making ready for a wedding.

Hayhurst News.
 W. S. Applegate arrived home from Seattle last week and will visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Applegate until after the holidays.
 J. P. Miller, of Yonahis, spent several days here last week visiting relatives and friends.
 Jas. Starr one of Yonahis's popular young men passed through here last Thursday.
 L. P. Owen who has been visiting here for a few weeks, left last Saturday for his father's home in Polk county.
 S. F. Cavendish left on Thursday of last week to spend the holidays with his parents at Roseburg.
 Leslie Miller, one of the seniors of the Rain Normal is home for Christmas.
 Mrs. J. J. Kelleher and children left on Friday for a visit with Mrs.
 Collier's mother at Glendale.
 We noticed in last Thursday's PLAIN-DEALER that whenever any of our highly esteemed old backsliders visit the county seat the PLAINDEALER will look up matters at the county clerk's office immediately. We just thought to say there is a surplus of "highly esteemed old backsliders" in the vicinity of Hayhurst and if our city editor of the PLAINDEALER will step this way before looking up matters at the clerk's office we shall be glad to extend congratulations.

The Poultry Show.
 The Second Annual Exhibition of Douglas County Poultry Association will be held at Socum's Hall Dec. 26, 27 and 28. Judge W. N. Brynning, of Ogden, Utah, will do the judging.
 About 500 of the best birds in Douglas county and vicinity and raised points far north as Portland are expected to be at the exhibition.
 The management have spared no pains to make this the best exhibition of fine poultry ever seen in Southern Oregon.
 There will be strong competition in many lines. Nearly all varieties will be represented.
 The location is central, the price of admission small. Let all admirers of fine poultry attend.
 Admission 10 cents. Season ticket, good for three days, 25 cents.
Women and Daughters Hobbing.
 The hired man at Geo. Dunn's ranch south of town was surprised yesterday morning in finding a woman and two girls asleep in the barn. He had gone out early to feed the horses, when the discovery was made.
 The woman is apparently about 35 years of age, and her daughters 12 and 15. They are enroute north and do the most of their traveling a foot.—Ashland

The Schubert Lady Quartette.
 Those delightful vocalists, the Schubert Lady quartette of Chicago, will appear at the opera house on Wednesday evening, Jan. 1, 1902, under the auspices of the Bessie Hall girls of the H. B.
 School. Lovers of sweet singing should not miss this splendid entertainment.

advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent, and must rent to live.
 The thoughtful editor of the Salem Independent speaking of the murder by Wade Dalton, of Portland, says: "Whiskey, gambling, cigarettes and bad companions have all been factors in the awful fate now staring these young men in the face." These things should all be left alone by the young man who wants to keep away from the gallows.

Secretary Long seized with avidity the opportunity to uphold the findings of E. O. Hahn and Ramsey and attempts to discredit the opinion of Dewey and other popular idol. His position can be credited to New England narrowness and utter disregard of the popular voice of the people.
 When will this unfortunate controversy end?

"I think Admiral Dewey's praise of Schley is just. It does not diminish Admiral Sampson's glory, to whom, as superior commander was due the positions of the ships, held in the line of blockade and without whose instructions the result might be seen in another light," says Capt.
 Diaz, of the vanquished Spanish battleship, Colon.

The Albany Daily Herald issued a very creditable Christmas number, setting forth the resources and advantages of Albany and Linn County. Many excellent half-tone pictures of Linn county enterprises and scenery added greatly to the attractiveness of the paper and reflected much credit on the enterprising publisher.

Senator J. N. Williamson has played his cards just right to get into congress. To secure support from certain quarters he at first became a candidate for secretary of state. The senator was in the position to work can say his prayers.—Woodburn Independent.

Santa Claus is a very busy man in Roseburg now, and he has a host of assistants in the fine stores of this city, with their magnificent stocks.

If you own property in or near Roseburg, it will be doubling its value to locate a factory here that is All the mean acts of his life are

TRAGEDY AT WILBUR
 Japanese Shot and Killed by A. H.
 Hart.
HART IS NOW IN THE COUNTY JAIL Coroner's Jury Make a Thorough Investigation of the Case.

The quiet little town of Wilbur, nine miles north of Roseburg, was shocked by the enactment of a tragedy in its borders last Friday evening, in which a Japanese section hand and A. H. Hart, who resides at that place with his family, figure as principals. The officers, Sheriff E. L.
 Parrott and Coroner J. C. Twitchell, were notified soon after the tragedy, arriving there soon after the Jap had died.
 The shooting occurred about 8:35 p. m., but the victim lived until nearly twelve o'clock, although he never regained consciousness. The bullet, which was from a 44 caliber Ballard rifle, had entered near the center of the back behind the shoulder blade and ranged to the right and slightly upward, passing through the lung and coming out at the right breast.

HART'S VERSION OF THE SHOOTING.
 Hart was taken into custody by the officers and placed in the county jail here and he gives an account of the affair about as follows:
 The Jap section hands had received their month's salary and were celebrating the occasion by freely imbibing some kind of liquor which they called whiskey. "Doc" Hill, a half-breed Indian, told him (Hart) that his brother Tom Hart, and John Tapp were in the house with the Japs, drunk. He took Jack Chenoweth with him to help get the boys away from there. They found Tom Hart, John Tapp and one of the Japs drunk. The others offered him some of their alleged whiskey but it was so bad he couldn't drink it.
 The boss Jap ordered him out of the house. He then went home, separating from Chenoweth as soon as they left the Japs' house, as they could not get the boys away. On reaching home he found that the Jap, who ordered him out of the house, had followed him. He went inside and, with his wife, held the door so the Jap, who had a club, could not break in. He says the Jap then threatened to shoot into the house, although he did not see him have a gun. In order to drive him away he took his gun and went out at the back door and came around the corner just as the Jap pushed the door slightly open. He at once fired and the intruder fell, wounded as above stated.

THE STORY OF THE JAP.
 The Jap earnestly maintains that during the course of the visit of the men to the section house Jafa was robbed and being confident that Hart had his money, the Jap who was killed, followed Hart to his home insisting that his money be returned, resulting in the altercation and his death by Hart.

Coroner's Jury.
 Saturday morning Coroner Twitchell accompanied by District Attorney Brown and Constable Socum, went over to gold an inquest. He took with him the following jury: E. H. Lanox, A. C. Oxley, J. L. Dillard, Burt Brockway, J. C. Hitchumson, Louis Reizenstein.

The examination of witnesses continued over Sunday, the Japs and the Wilbur section foreman attending the examination here at the court house Sunday.
 The coroner continued their investigation and inquiry into the case over until today.

One of the last witnesses examined today was Jack Chenoweth, one of the parties included in the coroner at the Japs' section house. He stated that when the Jap accused Hart of stealing the money containing his money and stepped inside the house, as if to get a club, that he (Chenoweth) left and went home after telling Hart just if he had the Japs money to give it back to him, whereupon Hart replied that he did not have his money. Chenoweth left Hart and the Jap parleying and on reaching home nearby heard a noise over to Hart's home, as if someone was striking blows with a club against a door. He also heard Mrs.
 Hart and the children screaming and a gun shot soon afterwards. Then all was quiet and Hart soon called at Chen-oweth's home and told him that he was forced to kill that Jap, as he ran into home, broke in a window with a club and was attempting to enter the door, with threats to shoot into the house, when he slipped around from a rear door and shot him, the Jap at that time having partially forced his way into the room through the door, fearfully frightening his wife and children. An examination of Hart's premises substantiated the statements regarding the window being broken out and the door battered with a club and Hart strongly denies having taken or even seen the Japs' money and declares that it was only in defense of his home that he killed the Jap.

A brother of Hart's was mixed up in a robbery scrape at Oakland about three years ago.
 A Japanese interpreter has been in attendance at the inquest and assisted in securing the evidence of the Japanese laborers.
 As we go to press the coroner's jury is deliberating on the verdict.

J. A. Eggers of Dillard was in town Sunday to meet his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Houghton of Clatsop, who will spend the holidays in this county.

Leading Questions.
 Jackson county has a county clerk who is apparently something of a joker. Before they start to Oregon to locate, businesses usually write to county officials, or others asking for information about in Corvallis two weeks ago, wrote before he left Lincoln, Nebraska, to various persons in Oregon making inquiries, among others, to Gus Newberry, county clerk of Jackson county. The latter answered all the questions of Mr. Stevens faithfully and fully and in turn, propounded several of his own. They are the sort called leading questions and have afforded much amusement to Mr.
 Stevens who appreciates humor. Here is what the county clerk said:
 "Now let me ask you some questions?
 You see we are a little particular out here in the west and we want to know what kind of people we are inviting to our climate."
 "What are your politics?"
 "Have you any anarchistic tendencies?"
 "Have you any inclination toward socialism?"
 "Are you a religious man?"
 "Do you believe the earth is round?"
 "Are you sure Oregon is on the map of the U. S.?"
 "Did you ever live in Missouri?"
 "Do you think that Bryanism is a live issue?"
 "Which state do you think will be benefited by your removal to Oregon—Nebraska or Oregon?"
 "Do you consider governmental politics a menace to your liberties?"
 "Do you know that Oregon took the first prize at the Buffalo Exposition for better, fruit and grains?"
 "Do you know that Portland, Oregon, is one of the very first ports of shipment for grains—especially wheat and lumber?"
 "Have you ever had your liberties restrained; if so, what did you steal?"
 "There are many other questions I might ask but, these are sufficient to determine your desirableness as a citizen of Oregon."
