W. C. T. U. Convention at Yoncalla.

The District W. C. T. U. of Douglas county met in convention at Yoncalla, Wednesday, March 12, 1902, at 2:30 p. m. Devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Ferguson, of Edenbower, who read the 68th chapter of Isaiah, followed by a fervent prayer.

"Mothers' Meeting" was conducted by Mrs. J. L. Thomas, of Roseburg, who spoke briefly of the origin of the meeting by Madam Willard in her "Forest Home." In regard to the home she said: "The home should be the brightest, best place on earth and we should study the taste and tendency of each child and the home should be such as to meet that demand. Keep the confidence of your boys and girls as long as you can. You will be able to guide them and lead them more successfully. Cause them to think seriously upon the subject of life, to feel its responsibility, its seriousness. Bring them into the church as early as possible. Lead them safely and early to the knowledge of the saving power of God. In children this knowledge presents itself at an early state making them decidedly effective."

The evening session was opened at 7:30 with addresses of welcome by the Yoncalla W. C. T. U. and the various fraternal societies of the city. It was a hearty welcome, indeed, eloquently spoken and royally extended. To this a spicy response was given by Mrs. Ferguson, of Edenbower. By request a reading was rendered by Mrs. McCurdy, followed by singing by the choir. The address of the evening was delivered by Mrs. J. L. Thomas, subject, "What the W. C. T. U. has done and is doing." She spoke briefly on the question of a salon in Yoncalla, in which she expressed the willingness of such an act and proved conclusively to the minds of good, sober thinking people, the error of such a proceeding. She then portrayed the great and wonderful work done throughout the land, in the home, the school and the city. The teachings of the W. C. T. U. are producing and will continue to produce a wonderful influence. They have led the people to see the danger and the evil of sin, and a plea has gone forth for men and women everywhere to lead better, happier lives.

Thursday, 10 a. m.—A forenoon prayer service was conducted by the county president, Mrs. J. L. Thomas, in which all took part. This was a very helpful meeting, and the testimonies given showed the impression of the good work of the past. Committees were appointed also reporters for the various county papers.

The afternoon session began with the usual prayer service. Mrs. Teale offered an earnest prayer, after which she spoke a few words regarding the condition of the churches in our land and the progress in influence of the W. C. T. U. She said in substance, that there was a great falling away of membership in many of our churches, due partly to the fact that God will not bless his church as long as it stands in any way in complicity with the licensed saloon. As long as its members, by their vote support the liquor traffic, which is all evil in the greatest in damning sense. In speaking of the progress of the W. C. T. U., she said that in spite of sickness, death and discouragements, the W. C. T. U. had never taken a backward step. The convention at Washington, D. C. last year showed a net gain of 10,000 members. She showed by statistics that $5,000,000 more is paid for chewing gum than for preaching the gospel, and the amount expended for liquor and tobacco would take the world for Christ. An excellent program was rendered Thursday evening by local talent. Three little girls recited "Little Temperance Tots" in an excellent manner. This was followed by music and the oratorical silver medal contest. The contestants were: Bertha Apple, Mabel Wilson, Lillian Newman, Julia Bishop and Lorin Cartwright. The orations were exceptionally well rendered. After careful deliberation by the judges, the silver medal was awarded Lorin Cartwright, the second reward Miss Bertha Apple. To each of the others was presented a bouquet of flowers as a token of appreciation. Mrs. Teale presented the prizes. After the contest came a solo and recitation. The congregation was then dismissed by a benediction.

Friday morning after the usual devotional service, led by Mrs. Ferguson, of Riddle, the regular program was taken up. The department of Mercy was conducted by Mrs. Thomas. The discussion on the subject of "Peace and Arbitration" was led by Mrs. Ferguson. The subject of "Home and Economics," discussed briefly, Scientific cooking and the necessity of reform in that direction, were touched upon. The time is coming, our sisters say, when cooking shall be one of the highest arts, and the position of the kitchen girl one of high honor and dignity. State and National plans were discussed under the heads of Legislative work and the Francis Willard Memorial Fund. Two of the most important laws, which the W. C. T. U., after endless labor and difficulties, have secured the passage of are: 1. The school law, passed in every state legislature in the United States, requiring teachers to give regular scientific instruction in the evil effects of narcotics especially liquor and tobacco, upon the human system. 2. Laws raising the age of protection for girls until it averages sixteen years throughout the United States, while in two states where woman suffrage exists it has been raised to twenty-one years. Preliminary steps were taken in the organization of a "Y" in Yoncalla.

At the Friday afternoon session, devotional service, "peaking the truth in love" was conducted by Mrs. Zadie Bishop. What shall the next step be in the abolition of the liquor traffic and tobacco habit? This topic was discussed by ministers of the gospel, school teachers, members of young peoples' societies and others. Conclusive proof

SIMON IS BEATEN.

Governor Geer Gets a Bold Home Delegation.

PORTLAND, March 16.—The regular (Simon) Republican ticket was badly defeated in the Portland primaries yesterday. The next county convention will have about 95 independent Republican delegates, and the regular Republicans will have about 67. The country not all been heard from, but it is known that the vote in them, between the two factions of the Republican party, is practically a stand-off. In the city, complete returns show that the opposition has 83 votes, and the regular organization 53. The total vote cast was about 10,000, about 75 per cent of the registration.

The victory over the Simon machine is therefore complete and decisive; but it was achieved only after one of the most stubborn and exciting contests in the history of local politics. Every resource of the regular machine was employed to defeat the will of a majority of the party. The entire police force was on deck, and attempted by its presence in various downtown precincts to coerce the voters into casting their ballots for their employers.

GREEN SOLD IN MARION.

SALEM, March 15.—The Marion county primaries yesterday, resulted in a glorious victory for the present administration, headed by one of Marion county's favorite sons—Hon. T. G. Geer, the present able Governor of the state of Oregon, the state's first native son to fill the office of chief executive.

From every precinct in Marion county, last evening—almost without exception—the reports came in favorable to the present administration, and the opposition to Governor Geer secured small comfort from the returns. While some of the precincts reported anti-Simon delegations—some of them went on record as being opposed to Hon. Joseph Simon for United States Senator—with the exception of one or two, all expressed themselves favorable to Governor Geer's re-nomination and re-election—that was Sublimity precinct, the former home of Mr. Frank T. Wrightman, who was making the race for Attorney General, and was therefore, opposing Governor Geer, and who received the compliment of a vote of his old home precinct.

The Five Murder Case

KANSAS CITY, March 15.—A special to the Star from Savannah, Mo., says: In the trial of Stewart Fife for the murder of Frank W. Richardson, the state today practically closed its case. They asked, however, to be allowed to examine one other witness, Lydia Fuson who is ill, if she be able to come into court next week. The state previously asserted that she would prove by this woman that Fife had made admissions to her after the murder of Richardson that would connect him with the crime. She was not to be found when the state called her name two days ago.

James W. Boyd, the leading counsel for Fife, then made the statement for his client. The defense would show, he said, that Richardson had once asked his wife to drive Fife down to the square; that when he went to North Yakima, Wash., after the murder he did not cover up his whereabouts; that the revolver found by the Rickoff boy was placed there a long time after the murder; that Fife was at the Owl Club rooms at the time the murder was committed.

In the Justice Court.

The case of the State of Oregon vs. Henry Boren and Al Crouch of Camas Valley, in which defendants are charged with the crime of unlawfully having in their possession on March 15, fresh venison at a time when it is unlawful to have such meat in possession, came up for hearing in Justice Robinson's court this afternoon. District Attorney G. M. Brown appearing for the state and Attorney Geo. Byron for defense. Upon being arraigned defendants plead "not guilty" and the case was postponed until 3 p. m. Tuesday to give the state time to secure witnesses. The venison was found in Barnard's livery barn and the state will endeavor to prove it was placed there by defendants.

Bowen Ward vs. U. Flourney trespass is receiving attention of the justice court as we go to press.

INDORSES COUNTY BOARD.

Prominent Democrat Advocates the Liberal Expenditure of Money in County Improvements.

J. M. Robinson, a prominent democrat of Elkton, paid the present county board a splendid, though indirect compliment, and endorsed their actions in liberally expending county funds for the repair and substantial improvement of the county's roads and bridges, and he at the same time condemns the false economy of the late union administration as follows, in the Review of last Thursday: "I have always contended for a judicious expenditure of money on our roads and bridges. That I know will amount to thousands of dollars, and I believe the safety of the lives of our citizens demand it. My estimate of the county board has always been for not having spent money in making repairs. I am not an advocate of false economy—it is in some respects worse than unnecessary expenditure."

"THE GRAFT OVERDONE."

Over in our sister county of Lane which has a Democratic sheriff and Judge, the delinquent tax list was published in January by the Democratic Eugene Guard set in the identical same type as that used by the PLAINDEALER and the following bill was allowed by the Democratic or Union Judge of that county: "87 lines at 25 cents per line, $216.75" according to the Lane county records.

In Multnomah county the Oregonian acknowledged recently that it received 40 cents per line this year for publishing the delinquent tax list. Does all this indicate that the PLAINDEALER has overcharged the county for this advertising or that the Douglas county court is "recessed the lawful limit" in adding this bill of 25 cents per line? Nay, nay, gentle reader, not so!

The Review took up over a column in the last issue of that paper quoting law and juggling with figures to endeavor to prove that the tax-payers of Douglas county had suffered a loss of all of $29 by the PLAINDEALER and the county board not allowing it to fix the price for the publication of the late tax list. Since the PLAINDEALER had never been consulted by the Review and the Democratic county board under the union regime as to what prices should be allowed for county printing and advertising the establishment of a new precedent at this time was not considered proper. The tax list was published in the PLAINDEALER by contract according to law at a price "not exceeding 25 cents per line," as the Review quoted from the late legislative session laws last Thursday, and no one is complaining or cares anything about the matter, except the Review editor, and his low, envious and jealous motive is so apparent that he is only wincing for himself the contempt of every fair minded citizen of the county. Poor Wambler, a lone some descendant of Benjamin He imagines—something wrong when he is only suffering from the dyspepsia and neural fever. He should get the ticks out of his lustrous coat and realize that he is only an over-looked antediluvian wind-splitter, the most conspicuous part of his anatomy, barring his ears, being his jaw bone, part of which he should preserve for some future occasion. Of the commandment, "Thou shalt not lie" he has no conception, and his moral sense, if he ever had any, has become outraged and dead.

THE SECTION OF THE SUPREME COURT

in declaring the Illinois anti-trust law to be unconstitutional, shows that hasty and ill advised legislation always defeats the object which it aims to attain. Thus the popular cry against trusts in Illinois has prevented conservative legislation which might have actually controlled this evil.

The Review is mad. It has just discovered that it cannot dictate to a republican county board. If Wimbler's cranium contained brains instead of mush he would have taken a tumble to himself long ago. He has proven himself an imbecile mentally and morally, as well as physically.

"Little Joe" has evidently met his Waterloo, but he put up a game fight and made it very interesting for the Portland Independent Republicans who were championed by the Oregonian.

There is somewhat of a building boom at Roseburg. Many new brick buildings are about to be built and under construction among them a fine new bank building—Coast Mail.

The Review's senseless and disgusting rantings has about as much effect on the county board as the baying of a worthless canine has on the man in the moon.

The Southern Pacific railroad having gone prohibition, will be one more help to temperance workers. From a "business standpoint," it is always a telling one!

The Roseburg PLAINDEALER came out last week with a new dress of type, which adds materially to the appearance of the paper.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

Our esteemed contemporary, the PLAINDEALER, has donned a new dress and shows up in truly metropolitan style. Congratulations, Brother Conner.—Drain Nonpareil.

Political Notes.

Cos County Socialists have nominated a full county ticket.

Congressman Tongue appears to be having clear and easy sailing this trip.

Ira Wimbler is mentioned as a possible candidate for clerk on the democratic ticket.—Nonpareil.

Senator Hann is still opposing the canal bill, but he is not so large a figure in the Senate as he was a while ago.

A bill in the Iowa legislature call for a two-cent railroad fare. Oregon should have at least a three-cent limit. That is enough.

George Langair of Arago, was in town Thursday. It is understood that Mr. Langair is a candidate for nomination of sheriff on the democratic ticket.—Marshfield Mail. Mr. Langair was defeated for that office in Cos two years ago. He's a stayer.

Senator Mitchell is in favor of the initiative and referendum amendment. So are many others who had little sympathy with it a few years ago. The people are going to take some of the power heretofore entrusted to legislators out of their hands, because as a rule, they have abused the trust reposed in them.

A Pioneer's Death.

ASHLAND, Ore., March 15.—James Clark Tolson, one of the widely known pioneers of Oregon, who was prominent in the affairs of the state for fifty years, died today, in his ninetieth year.

The U. S. Separator will take out all the cream in a few minutes. Why not get one in this day of improvement?

JOSEPHINE'S CANDIDATE.

Several candidates have come to the surface for the office of State Printer, and there is a great deal of speculation as to who will be the successful candidate at the hands of the republican state convention. The name of F. W. Chausse, publisher of the Oregon Observer at Grants Pass, has been mentioned favorably as a Southern Oregon candidate, and will no doubt come to the convention with the hearty support of Southern Oregon counties. Mr. Chausse was for several years a resident of Lane county, being then publisher of the Cottage Grove Leader.

He was a mere boy then, 17 years of age, being then the youngest editor and publisher in the state. The Portland Industrial Exposition offered prizes for the oldest and youngest editors attending the fair on Press Day, Sept. 28, 1889. Mr. Yaman, formerly publisher of the Register came in for the senior prize, while Mr. Chausse carried off the junior trophy without opposition. In 1892 Mr. Chausse returned to his former home in Josephine county and bought the Observer, which paper he continues to publish. He was a faithful and consistent worker for the republican cause, both with personal effort and through the medium of his paper long before he became old enough to vote the ticket he supported. His friends put forth the claim that Josephine county is more especially entitled to consideration as this is the first time they have asked representation on the state ticket. Their delegates to the state convention have assisted every other Southern Oregon county's delegation but have never before asked anything for themselves, so this time they will talk a zip-zoo.—Eugene Register.

SON DELIBERATELY SHOT HIS FATHER.

ASTORIA, March 15.—A horrible tragedy occurred in this city early this morning. Gabriel Jarvi, a Russian Finn, went home at one o'clock this morning in an intoxicated condition. The door was locked and Jarvi called and pounded upon it but to no purpose. He then tried to break the door down when his son, Matt Jarvi, a fisherman, deliberately shot and murdered him. He then hunted up a policeman and gave himself into custody.

Corvallis, Oregon, December 12, 1901.

Mr. A. C. Marsters & Co., Roseburg, Ore.

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter concerning sulphur and the sample of sulphur, have been received.

I have examined this sample and find that it is almost entirely pure sulphur. I think that it would answer the purposes very satisfactorily for spraying compounds or insecticides. I think that if you have plenty of this quality, or can get it, that it will be as good as any sulphur that we can obtain for spraying materials.

Very truly yours,
A. L. KNISELY.
