A MARRIAGE ROMANCE—Here is a little romance in which a prominent young man of the north end of the county figures as one of the principals. It seems as if Dr. Hildebrand's postmaster, E. R. Applegate, has been making rather frequent "business trips" to Portland during the past few months, but just until last week, when Mrs. E. R. Applegate put in her appearance in the pleasant little city of Drain, was his most intimate friend and town-people able to account for his mysterious absences during as far back as last August. The following announcement is more explanatory and fully reveals Mr. and Mrs. Applegate's long kept and well guarded secret: "Edwin Roy Applegate, Ella Violet Fisher, married Saturday, August 17, 1901, Vancouver, Washington. At home after April 15, 1902 Drain, Oregon."

CREAMERY FOR ROSEBURG.

With Assistance From Board of Trade Creamery Plant will Come Here.

C. A. Gardner, a practical creamery man of ripe experience, now engaged in the business at Albany, is in Roseburg with a view of establishing an up-to-date creamery plant in this city. Having looked over the field and concluded that the conditions for the successful operation of a creamery and ice-cream plant here are most encouraging. Providing he meets with the proper encouragement he will purchase a site in our city, erect a suitable building and install therein a first-class creamery plant at once. Being a man of limited resources he feels that any citizens or the Board of Trade should assist him in establishing this very important industry in our city and county. Mr. Gardner means business and if our citizens will come up with a small cash subscription, which they can well afford to do, we will have a fine creamery plant in operation in Roseburg inside of forty-five days. Mr. Gardner has the best of recommendations.

NATIVE OF ROSEBURG.

Schiller B. Hermann, Coos County Candidate for Representative.

Following is the picture in Tuesday's Oregonian of Schiller B. Hermann, the following state is appended.

He was born in Roseburg, Or., October 27, 1871, was educated in the public schools of Roseburg, and at Washington and Lee University, in Lexington, Va. He was married at Chelsea, Mass., February 8, 1894, to Miss Kittle Mason, daughter of the late Hon. Henry Mason. He has one son, Coos County name, age 4 years, engaged in business here. He has the largest sawmill establishment in this section. He is also interested in logging and lumber operations. He is a highly energetic young man of pleasing address, and is well fitted for the position he seeks to occupy.

CANAS VALLEY.

A Beautiful, Picturesque, Fertile Valley. Its Peculiar Characteristics, Products and Institutions.

Our beautiful little valley is situated some 25 miles northwest of Roseburg on the head waters of the Coquille. It is in the extreme western part of Douglas county.

To the northeast and south the mountains rise gradually, but on the west the Coast Range rises to a height of several hundred feet. Along this range, prevent the dividing line between the counties of Coos and Douglas.

All the mountains are covered with heavy timbered stock, and the except Bennett Peak, a high rocky cliff to the northwest.

Canas Valley is eight miles long and three miles wide. The main valley is a narrow strip, except along the small streams where it is mostly young growth.

The small streams unite at the lower end of the valley to form the main river. Here the valley gives place to a canyon along which the river leaps and dashes over the rocks. The mountains do not spread out and give room for another settlement for 10 miles.

Geologists tell us that Canas Valley was at one time a lake. In the course of time its outlet was a channel of soft ground which drained the lake, leaving a plain instead.

The unrivaled richness of "orchard" soil is acknowledged by all. We can produce anything that western Oregon is capable of producing and our yield equals that of any part of the country.

The Myrtle Point and Roseburg Wagon Road passes through the valley, as also does the telephone line to Marshfield. We are thus kept in daily communication with the rest of the world.

We can boast of two school districts with an assessed valuation of $60,000. In the two districts there are about 1200 children of school age. We citizens are progressing enough to have good school houses with up-to-date furniture and apparatus, stores, post-office, blacksmith shop, telephone, etc., etc.

A railroad is all we need to make our crop of fruit. Our wealth of fruit would make a Vanderbilt envious. If you are one of those who are anxious to secure this best blessing, M. B.
