WILLIAM J. FURNISH.

Something of the Life and Character of the Republican Candidate for Governor of Oregon—His Remarkable Career.

William J. Furnish of Pendleton, who was nominated for governor of this state at Portland last week, by the republican state convention is not a native Oregonian, but all except three years of his life have been spent in the Willamette Valley and Eastern Oregon. He was born in Randolph county, Missouri, August 18, 1862, and during the summer of 1865 he started across the plains by ox team with his parents. His father died on the trip to Oregon at Lost River, Idaho, but the boy and his mother and little sister continued their journey on to Polk county, arriving at their destination late in the fall of the same year. They located on a small farm where they lived until 1870, when the family moved to Pendleton. Here young Furnish attended the public schools and completed his academic course in a private school conducted by John C. Arnold. He did justice to work to pay his tuition which was then required in the public schools and labored Saturdays and evenings for money to buy his books and clothes. In a similar manner he made his way through Arnold's private school. Later he graduated from the Portland Business College and for two years was employed as a book-keeper for a firm in Portland. He then formed a partnership with J. L. Sperry in the wool business in Portland in which he continued his interests for some time after his return to Pendleton. Later he conducted a wool commission business in the latter city on his own account for several years, afterwards along with his numerous other enterprises.

The business and political career of Mr. Furnish is familiar to hundreds of Unstilled county and other parts of the state. He was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth and no one gave him a start in life. Whatever success has attended him came through his own efforts. It was early in life that he gave promise of being a financier and rare business sense has marked his career from the time he earned his first 10 cent piece until he became cashier of the Pendleton Savings bank and later its president. In politics he has been equally successful. At the age of 24 he was appointed deputy United States marshal with headquarters at Pendleton, which office he filled for two years. In 1890 at the age of 27 he was elected sheriff of Unstilled county and re-elected in 1892, each time by a very large majority. He then became mayor of Pendleton in 1896 and again in 1897 and in 1900 was one of the presidential electors for McKinley. It can be truthfully said that during all of his terms of office his duties were honestly, fearlessly and energetically performed and that no public act of his has ever been questioned. He was never defeated for any office to which he aspired nor did he ever mismanage the office he attained, administering each with the same care and judgment that he devoted to his private affairs.

On the organization of the Oregon Savings Bank in 1893, he became its manager and cashier and in July 1899 the directors recognized his valuable services to the bank and elected him its president. The great success of the institution since its reorganization has been due to his untiring energy, keen business foresight, perseverance, and strict attention to business. Under his control and management it has become one of the leading institutions of this kind in the state. Mr. Furnish has long been regarded as one of the ablest business men in Pendleton and besides being one of the largest individual stockholders in the Savings Bank he has several thousand acres of wheat and grazing land and other large property interests.

He was married in 1899 to Miss Jennie M. Starkweather and has two children, a daughter, Kathleen, and a son, William Eldon. His home is a handsome new residence on Water street built of stone and wood. Externally Mr. Furnish is a Mason and an E. F.

It is said Mr. Furnish has not always been a republican. While this is true, yet he has done more for the party in the few years he has been associated with it than any man who voted for Lincoln and has been with it ever since. It is a noteworthy fact that many of the bright young men who a few years ago were laboring with the Democratic party are now active and energetic Republicans. It is unnecessary to go to Eastern Oregon for examples, they are manifest in Douglas county. In nearly every precinct in this county can be found bright young and old men so far as that is concerned, who six or eight years ago were active Democrats, but are now just as active Republicans. This is not to their discredit, but it is a tribute to their integrity and loyalty to the best interests of their country. A man who sees his duty and is afraid of unwilling to do it is not the highest example of citizenship.

The re-nomination of Thos. H. Tongue for Congressman in the first Congressional district has been received with general satisfaction throughout the district. Congressman Tongue by reason of his position upon important committees can do more for Oregon than any other man. He is one of Oregon's big, brainy men. He has been tried and found faithful, and will be re-elected by a big majority.

From what we can learn from our country visitors the people of the county are willing to let well enough alone, so far as the management of the county affairs is concerned. Judge Thompson is the first judge the county has had in years who with the other members of his court, has shown a disposition to keep up and practically improve the county's roads and bridges. This will not soon be forgotten.

The democrats didn't overlook the old stereotyped declaration in their platform that "we re-assert our firm adherence to the underlying principles of self government so firmly established by the immortal Jefferson, so fearlessly executed by the invincible Jackson and so faithfully espoused by Jefferson's greatest disciple, the noble Lincoln." It is not wholly creditable to the party that it must go back fifty or seventy five years to find leaders worthy of emulation.

The labor element did not fare so well in the Democratic as in the Republican county convention. In the latter this organization asked for re-nomination of Jas. M. Haysbough for joint representative, while in the democratic convention recognition was sought in the nomination of R. R. Houston for county clerk. But this worthy gentleman was very unceremoniously turned down.

I. O. P. Coshow and Hon. Dexter Rice could be prevailed upon to re-assert their convention speeches on his stamp in this county, there would be no necessity for any of the republican nominees to make any canvass in order to swell the republican majorities.

Only one veteran of 1812 survives, and his pension has just been increased. The soldiers of the Mexican war are few and feeble. Uncle Sam has nothing to regret in his system of caring for these brave sons who offered their lives in his defense.

The Thunder Mountain mining district of Idaho has a rapidly growing town named Roosevelt which will become a city in a few weeks if mining expectations in that region pan out.

The man without a party, Assessor Gillette, will find that he is up against the real thing when it comes to campaigning against the genial and able G. W. Staley of Yoncalla.

The South Carolinians are demonstrating by their cordial reception of President their repudiation of the blackened acts of members of the Tillman family.

Wonder how the house democrats who gave the blackmailing scheme a boost feel, now that Deomark has officially repudiated the blackmailers.

Last week A. L. Brown and Arthur Church took a trip out to Roseburg and made a flying visit to Drain before returning.

Mr. Barber, who purchased the E. K. Cluster ranch, (?) has arrived in the Valley. We understand he is looking about for team, wagon, etc., preparatory to beginning farming operations.

Two young men from Illinois, whose names we have not learned, were recently located by Henry Boren, a few miles back on the eastern slope of the Valley. We are glad to welcome these newcomers as neighbors and are sure they will never regret costing their lot with "a bit" of Canas Valley. Will say right here, however, we will do well to consult our enterprising lawyer before locating elsewhere.

The recent rains caused a halt in the work in making.

We are glad to know that Mr. Wm. Davis, who has been having a fulton on his hands here.

Mr. Barter, who purchased the E. K. Cluster ranch, (?) has arrived in the Valley. We understand he is looking about for team, wagon, etc., preparatory to beginning farming operations.

Roseburg was well provided for in the democratic convention, receiving nearly half of the nominations.

The Republican ranks are open for more bright young men like Mr. Furnish.

A JUST CRITICISM. A Gardiner Republican Sensibly Discusses North Douglas Politics.

GARDINER, Ore., April 7, 1902. EDITOR PLAINDEALER—The Drain Nonpartisan seems to have inaugurated, in a quiet way, a fight against Mr. Frank Rogers for representative. It insists that the republican leaders at the end of the county will compass his defeat next June. In last week's issue, we find an article to that effect that out of all the delegates from Lake, Scottsburg and Gardiner he had four, and that all of the others were instructed against him. Now as a matter of fact there was no active opposition against Mr. Rogers in this end of the county. It is true that he was not the choice of all the delegates from Gardiner, but as no delegate had been selected to oppose him in the primary I felt to see where the Nonpartisan is justified in working up an anti-Rogers sentiment in Northern Douglas. Mr. Rogers represents the will of the Republican Convention, and as such should be supported by all loyal Republicans, especially in view of the fact that he received his nomination by acclamation.

It is claimed by the Nonpartisan that Mr. Rogers owes his nomination to the Roseburg "ring." It might be pertinent to ask "which one of the rings?" A careful observer will notice it is invariably a member of the weaker ring that strikes the leader about "ring politics." Had Pass Cook's candidate secured the honor, doubtless the ring would have been all right.

Now we can be all satisfied with the personnel of the ticket, and I frankly confess that it is not just what I desired, but there never was a ticket, County State or National, that gave entire satisfaction to the party leaders, and there is only one thing we can do, that is, abide by the majority vote of the convention and support those who represent our party's interest, and if the Nonpartisan really desires to further the interests of Northern Douglas it will do well to refrain from further attack upon the republican candidate from this end of the county.

Mr. Rogers was the only active aspirant for representative honors from this section. He landed the prize, and no Republican of Oakland, Drain or Gardiner need be irremediably because of his success.

In justice to J. S. Gray I would say that he had no intention of entering the race, in fact had frequently refused to allow his name to be used at all. But two days before the convention met Mr. Roseburg some of his friends insisted so strongly that he gave his consent, and on such short notice he made an excellent showing.

ROOSEVELT AT CHARLESTON. His Speech Was an Able One and Was Well Received.

CHARLESTON, South Carolina, April 9. President Roosevelt spoke in the auditorium to a vast assemblage of Carolinians and representative men and women from all parts of the South this forenoon.

The President complimented the South on her thrift and prosperity evidence of which, he said, were seen on every hand. He referred to Cuba, with the remark that this country should be generous towards the young struggling public.

Trust conditions were referred to with the assertion that combinations of labor or capital must conform to law. He referred at some length to the industrial canal. After the President had concluded his address he presented a sword to Major Mical Jenkins, as a gift of South Carolina.

Charleston is in gala attire and is wildly enthusiastic over the coming of the President. Carolinians, who, to this very day, would rather die than vote the Republican ticket, are seen everywhere wearing Roosevelt buttons and cheering for "Teddy."

for the honor, and in an address of ten minutes said that the republican party was in the hands of the trust magnates and launched forth as vigorously against the trusts as he did a few years ago against that monster the gold standard. He made the extravagant and astonishing statement that "Porto Rico was by far the best of our Spanish than American rule, the same being applicable to the Philippines."

CHAMBERLAIN EXPONDED. A resolution was introduced by Albert Abraham and adopted endorsing Geo. E. Chamberlain for the democratic nomination for governor. After ratifying the various precinct nominations the delegates from the four Roseburg precincts held a separate session and nominated Ed H. Lewis for justice of the peace and Frank Reed for coronator. With a rousing cheer they then adjourned their joint session at 2:15 p. m.

The Democratic Vote Catcher. In the democratic convention held in Roseburg Tuesday the following declaration of principles was adopted.

We, the democrats of Douglas county in convention assembled, do hereby adopt as our platform the following principles:

We reassert our firm adherence to underlying principles of self government so firmly established by the immortal Jefferson, so fearlessly executed by the invincible Jackson and so faithfully espoused by Jefferson's greatest disciple, the noble Lincoln.

We are in favor of the people sharing to the greatest practical extent in the making and administration of our laws, and therefore recommend the adoption of the initiative and referendum.

We believe in so conducting and managing the government as to secure the greatest good to the greatest number, and in the adjustment of taxes so that all forms of wealth shall contribute its due proportion to the support of our government and the maintenance of our laws. -For that reason we most heartily favor the re-enactment of the Mortgage Tax law, and the enactment of such other laws as will compel the telegraph, telephone and railroad companies and other corporations to contribute their due proportion of taxes. We pledge our candidate for the legislature to work for the enactment of such laws.

We favor the enactment of a law fixing the maximum passenger rates on all railroads in this state at three cents per mile, and a corresponding reduction of freight rates, and denounce the action of the last republican legislature for refusing to enact such laws.

We denounce as unjust the judgment law, known as the Fallon-Servant law, and pledge our candidates to the legislature to strive earnestly for the enactment of a law abolishing the same.

We are in favor of rigid economy in the expenditure of public funds and denounce the wanton extravagance and waste of the last republican legislature which has borne fruit in taxes grievously high and burdensome.

We favor good roads, and to that end we pledge our candidates for county judge and county commissioner to adopt a scientific and economical plan for improvement of our roads throughout the entire county.

We believe that all corporations enjoying governmental functions, such as eminent domain, should be under the absolute control of the government, and therefore favor government ownership of railroads, telephone and telegraph lines.

We favor the abolition of all tariff duties on articles manufactured by the trusts.

We are in favor of free trade between all parts of this great nation, including the islands of Porto Rico, the Philippines, and all our island territories.

We are unalterably opposed to that most pernicious, insolent and dishonest of all the nefarious schemes of the trust magnates, into whose leadership has fallen the republican party, known as the Ship Subsidy Bill, which will take from the public treasury of the United States the enormous sum of from $2,000,000 to $15,000,000 annually and pour it into the pockets of those already immoderately rich by reason of governmental favors.

We are in favor of excluding all Chinese and other Asiatics from our shores.

We denounce as undemocratic and non-republican the action of our republican county officials in lobbying at our last legislature for the purpose of securing an increase to their salaries during the term of office to which they were elected.

We denounce the extravagance and incompetency of our present county officials in increasing our county's indebtedness, raising our tax levy, and more particularly for contracting into the expensive contract with advertising lawyers for the performance of the duties of our district attorney who is drawing the handsome salary of $4000 per year for doing such work.

We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

The Way to do Business is to do it on a Business Plan

The way to do business is to do it on a business plan. Our success for the last twelve years has proved without a doubt that our method of doing business has been satisfactory, both to ourselves and our many customers. Our pianos have always been sold at a universal price according to the grade of the piano, unlike other dealers who have sold Ludwig pianos of the same grade ranging in price from $180 to $350. Kingbury pianos have been handled in the same manner. A cheap stencil piano made by the CABLE PIANO CO. these pianos have been selling in Roseburg and vicinity for $185 and less to $325.

Now something is wrong either with the piano or the dealer. We admit having sold cheap pianos but have always represented them as such. But we are proud to say that we have enjoyed ninety per cent of all the high grade business of the city and country. Again all our contracts and agreements are backed up by the Eiler Piano House, one of the largest, best equipped and most responsible piano concerns, who carry more high grade pianos than any house on the Pacific coast.
