MR. CRAWFORD ENDORSED.
 A. M. Crawford, of Roseburg, is an able man for the office of attorney-general. He stands well in the legal profession and has, beside the reputation of being an honest man. The Journal does not believe the office of attorney-general is necessary in our state government. It should be abolished as a measure of economy, and in the interest of the state. But the election of a man like Mr. Crawford would put character and stability into the office, and perhaps make it worth what it costs to the people.
 Mr. Crawford is the Republican nominee, but is the kind of lawyer who would know nothing about politics after he is elected, and entered upon the discharge of his duties.—Capital Journal.

To the Democrats it might be pertinent to say that it is much easier to point out errors than practical remedies for them and then successfully inaugurate the remedies. It is a feat the Democratic party has never yet performed in either County, State or National politics, but many Democratic errors have been corrected by judicious Republican legislation, as our present era of Republican prosperity will attest.

W. J. Plymale, of Jacksonville, is authority for the statement that the political outlook in Jackson county is much the same that it was two years ago. The county has been sufficiently close for some years past to insure the nomination of good men on both tickets, and hence, the old campaign method of resorting to personal shams has been abandoned. The tickets now in the field are composed mainly of good men, and the result will depend largely upon the personal popularity of the respective candidates. Mr. Hansbrough, the nominee for joint representative from Jackson and Douglas, ought to be elected without a question. His candidacy was fully discussed in Jackson county six weeks before the meeting of the county convention, and his endorsement before the convention was unanimous. It is not believed that he will lose any republican votes in the county; while it is known that he will receive large support from the opposition party. It may be confidently said that Mr. Hansbrough has a walk-over in Jackson county.

Senator Hanna said in his speech before the American Academy of political and social science: "I believe in organized labor, and it is demonstrated fact that labor conditions are beneficial when intrusted to an honest leader."

The Democratic party can always be depended upon to make a fatal mistake in time to compromise its defeat. Its position on the Philippine question will lose it many votes which, had it declared for their retention, would have been cast for the party. The islands were acquired both by conquest and purchase, and the United States is under obligation to suppress the insurrection, establish peace and give them a good, liberal and stable government. The United States could not honorably avoid this obligation: if it desired to do so, and hence, it is folly to talk about abandoning them. With the open door in the East, where there are 500,000,000 of people, and a base of operations on the Asiatic coast, America will in time reap a rich reward from her Eastern possessions. The Pacific ocean is destined at no distant day to become the greatest commerce harbor in the world, and the Pacific Coast is most favorably situated to take advantage of this fact.

Talk about open political combinations, the nomination of Ira Winthier of Drain, for representative by the Prohibitionists and Democrats, is indeed a compromise of the extremes. What a plea he would have, representing without friction, the interests of these two parties in the Oregon legislature, but then the Douglas county voters will spare him the trouble by voting for the North Douglas Republican candidate for representative. This county has had enough of fusion or union experience.

Some of the Democratic leaders have been trying to hoodwink the public with the belief that Geo. E. Chamberlain will sweep the country with Socialist and Populist votes. Here is what the People's Press, the Socialist organ of the state says about it: A friend said to me the other day, do you think many Socialists will vote for Chamberlain? Why not? I replied, no true Socialist will vote for Chamberlain or any other capitalist.

Is the Democratic policy of "sent the" the policy of senny or scupper from the Philippine Islands—set forth in the programme in Congress—is it a policy of weakness and cowardice, or a policy merely of hesitancy and folly, resting on the long habit of opposition?

The last issue of the Democratic Drain Nonpartisan contained these suggestive editorial expressions: "Save our penit" and "nit-nit." Someone ought to appoint a commission to have that translated. We believe it is cuss words, which should have been reserved until after the election.

How would you like to go back to the panicky, hard times of the last Democratic administration? True, we have trusts today, but how do they compare in industrial effect with the proverbial Democratic free-swap institutions and Cuzey armies? Let well enough alone.

Never has Douglas county had a more obliging and efficient clerk than D. R. Shaubert, and he is therefore justly entitled to a second term, and the Douglas county voters will see that he gets it. They are good enough and wise enough to be satisfied with the best.

It is a very satisfactory condition that prevails in First Congressional district, with no indication whatever of a reduction in Mr. Fongue's form or vote for representative in Congress. His hold upon the people is due to his merits as a public man and a statesman.

Economy is a good thing, but it is poor policy to set a lion on one egg to save eggs. That is just the policy, the democrats have always pursued in regard to our county roads and bridges. They promise to do better now, but they won't. Don't be deceived.

While the Democratic candidate for sheriff, Fines Dillard's trait of sticking by his friends may be commendable, his choice of friends is not so worthy of commendation, at least from a Republican point of view.

The Democratic state platform is a practical reminder that the old party has ever had a particular faculty for being long on platform promises and short on their execution when in power.

A correspondent to the Myrtle Point Enterprise says: "An epidemic of recruiting fever has broken out in our midst." We hope it will break out among our subscribers.

A more general acceptance of the idea that a law breaker must become a stone-breaker would be generally beneficial.
 It isn't necessary for a man to be an anarchist to trouble to the fact that advertising pays in the Plaindealer.

Statement of Mr. Gillette.
 Roseburg Ore., April 16, 1902.
 FUTURE PLAINDEALER.—In your last issue of the 14th inst., it appeared a very laborious and one-sided effort on the part of some persons, who, under the name of "Committee on Taxation," endeavoring to make political capital of my position as Assessor, on the question of R. E. Assessment in this county. Concerning which, I desire space to say, I was not aware that there was a committee for that purpose, other than the County Judge, County Clerk and myself. We passed on the question of R. E. Assessment in its regular order of business, and settled it in a matter which, under the circumstances, was believed to be to the best interests of the taxpayers of the county.
 I do not wish to occupy space to reply to the one-sided anonymous allegations, which are the grossest imputations that can be perpetrated, but simply to say, that in this self-styled Committee, will take the trouble to investigate the public records of the county and publish only the facts and all of them in connection with the R. E. assessment, and sign their names thereto, I will answer them, setting forth my position by the matter, which will be done to the entire satisfaction of the taxpayers of the county. If any have grievances, let him make it known over his own signature.
 Very respectfully,
 H. E. GILLETTE,
 Co. Assessor.

A CASE OF INGRATITUDE.
 Has it occurred to the Prohibitionists and Socialists that they are displaying rank ingratitude in putting up tickets in Oregon this year? Instead of doing that, they all ought to vote the Republican ticket.
 The Republican party has offered them a method by which their pet measures can be placed before the people for enactment into law, solely on their merits and not complicated with partisan politics or party prejudices.
 The Prohibitionists themselves understand that many people who believe in prohibition vote the old party tickets for various reasons, and that it is impossible to line up the prohibition strength in the prohibition party.
 The Socialists also understand that many reforms which are undoubtedly socialist in nature are favored by very many voters in the old parties, who would support the measures if they could do so without going back to their parties and supporting a lot of other measures which they do not believe in.
 The constitutional amendment for direct legislation, which has twice passed a Republican legislature, and is to be submitted to the voters in June solely by grace of the Republican party, offers a practical method of bringing any proposed reform directly before the people, to be adopted or rejected on its merits.
 With this measure in force, if the Prohibitionists can once convince the majority of the voters that prohibition is the proper law they will have no trouble in obtaining the enactment of a prohibitory law, without first expending their energy in overcoming the solid structure of partisan prejudice and the conviction that there are other things of importance beside prohibition. The same is true of the reforms on which the hearts of the Socialists are set.
 Then does it not seem like ingratitude to those people to show so little appreciation of what the Republican party is doing for them?—Coast Mail.

The Way to do Business is to do it on a Business Plan

The way to do business is to do it on a business plan. Our success for the last twelve years has proved without a doubt that our method of doing business has been satisfactory, both to ourselves and our many customers. Our pianos have always been sold at a universal price, according to the grade of the piano, unlike other dealers who have sold Ludwig pianos of the same grade ranging in price from $180 to $450. Kingbury pianos have been handled in the same manner. A cheap stencil piano made by the CABLE PIANO CO. these pianos have been selling in Roseburg and vicinity from $185 and less to $325.

Now something is wrong either with the piano or the dealer. We admit having sold cheap pianos but have always represented them as such. But we are proud to say that we have enjoyed ninety per cent of all the high grade business of the city and country. Again all our contracts and agreements are backed up by the Eiler Piano House, one of the largest, best equipped and most responsible piano concerns who carry more high grade pianos than any house on the Pacific coast.
