PEACE IN SOUTH AFRICA
Treaty Signed Saturday. Great Rejoicing in England.
LONDON, June 2.—Peace has been declared after nearly two years and eight months of a war which tried the British empire to its uttermost and wiped the tears from the list of nations.
The war has come to an end with Lord Kitchener's announcement from Pretoria that the Boer delegates had signed the terms of a "surrender." This announcement had been anticipated for several days, and it was definitely forecasted in these dispatches, but its receipt Sunday afternoon took the nation by surprise, as everybody had confidently believed that the House of Commons would hear the first news today. The edge of the anticipation with which Great Britain awaited the promised agreement in the House of Commons from Mr. Balfour, the government leader, was still further dulled by the following message from King Edward to his people, which was issued after midnight:
"The King has received the welcome news of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa with infinite satisfaction, and His Majesty trusts that peace, promptly proclaimed by the restoration of the rights of his own dominions, and that the feelings necessarily engendered by war will give place to earnest co-operation on the part of His Majesty's South African subjects in promoting the welfare of their common country."
How greatly King Edward's insistence that peace in South Africa be secured prior to his inauguration influenced the present agreement will probably not be known until the private memoirs of the present regime are given to the public, as Mr. Balfour said "in confidence."
According to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Utrecht, Holland, Mr. Kruger was informed shortly after 9 o'clock last night that peace had been declared. He had been asleep. "By God," he said, "it is impossible."
Mr. Kruger and his entourage, the dispatch continues, hope to be permitted to return to the Transvaal. This, however, is quite unlikely.
LONDON WIRE UP.
By 8 o'clock last night the news had become generally known. A few belated extra-editions of newspapers were published about the streets, but before their appearance the enterprising hawkers, who for a long time past had kept their jacks, ladders and ladders stored up in anticipation of the present event, were much in evidence. There was scarcely an omnibus or cab which was not adorned with the national emblem. The troops, the bands and the military, the cheering and the marching, the firing of the night continued long after midnight.
WORDS OF THE SURRENDER.
LONDON, June 3.—Following is a synopsis of Balfour's statement in the House of Commons of the terms of peace:
The longer forces lay down their arms and hand over their rifles, guns and munitions of war in their possession or under their control.
All prisoners are to be brought back as soon as possible to South Africa, without loss of liberty or property.
No action is to be taken against prisoners, except where they are guilty of breaches of the rules of war.
Duties to be taught in the schools, as directed by the parents, and used in the courts, if necessary.
Rifles are allowed for protection.
Military occupation is to be withdrawn as soon as possible and self-government substituted.
There is to be no tax on the Transvaal to pay the cost of the war.
The sum of 3,000,000 pounds sterling is to be provided for restoring the Boer farms.
Rebels are liable to trial, according to the colony to which they belong. The rank and file will be disfranchised for life.
THREE-CENT FARES.
Went into Effect Sunday on All S. P. Lines in Oregon.
SALEM, June 1.—The new mileage rate was applied to passenger fares on all the S. P. Co's lines in Oregon. From the former rate of 4 cents per mile the amount is reduced to the 3 cents. This conforms with the action of the N. P. & O. R. & N. companies, which adopted a similar rate over a year ago. Just what saving this is to the public pocketbook may be noted in the difference in the fare from Roseburg to Portland under the two rates. The fare under the 4-cent rate was $7.25 and under the new 3-cent rate the fare will be $6—a saving of $1.25 each way. It will be further noticed that Portland being 298 miles from here, the fare of $6 is consequently 6 cents in excess of what the amount would be upon actual computation, reckoning 3 cents to the mile, while under the old price of $7.25 the amount charged over what the actual fare would be is only 3 cents. The reduction is much appreciated by the traveling public generally.

Graduating Exercises at Oakland.
Graduating exercises will be held at Young's Hall, Oakland, Oregon, June 6, 1902. An interesting program will be rendered. State Sup't. Ackerman will deliver the class address. County Sup't. Handlin will accept the diplomas. Tuition admission will be charged to cover the expenses of the class. All are cordially invited.
The total enrollment of this school for the school year was 271 against 233 for last year. Average daily attendance 161, against 144 for last year.

Automobile Ran Wild.
NEW YORK, May 31.—An automobile on which the driver lost control, and running at a terrific rate of speed, crashed into a crowd in the street today. One man was killed and twelve injured.

Texas Storm Swept.
DALLAS, Tex., May 31.—Heavy storms continue here. The Red river flood is increasing rapidly and people are moving to higher grounds. A $50,000 bridge at Vernon has been swept away. Mail has been left to death and ruined the crops over a great area.

Late advices from Portland and other parts of the state indicate that Furnish is losing ground, but the balance of the ticket is gaining, our townsman, Mr. Crawford, being assured of a handsome majority.
As far as Douglas County is concerned the Republican ticket is safe with the exception of Mr. Rogers, but it should be born in mind that all the Republican strongholds are yet to be heard from.

SYLVESTER PENNOYER DEAD.
Died Suddenly at His Home in Portland Friday Afternoon.
Probably the death of no man in Oregon would come with greater shock to the general public than that of Ex-Governor Pennoyer, who died Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock.
He was alone in his room, on the second story of his residence at the time of his death and was not discovered until 4 o'clock, when his wife, returning from a street-car ride with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Russell, found him lying prone on the floor near a sofa, from which he had apparently fallen. His glasses lay broken on the floor beside him, and across his face was spread an Oregonian which he had been reading and which had evidently been loosened from his grasp in the fall. In the opinion of the doctors who were hastily summoned, death was due to heart disease or apoplexy. There was every indication of a peaceful, painless death.
Governor Pennoyer had for a long time been in poor health, although his strength was sapped by an attack of illness nearly a year ago, and he had never recovered. His master robustness, of late he had made daily visits to his ranch near Portland, where he spent several hours in the open air superintending numerous improvements he was making. Friday morning he went to his ranch as usual and returned about noon. In the afternoon he took a walk, and the servant, who was left alone in the house, said he entered the house at 3 o'clock, and as was his habit, went immediately to his room, where he was found dead. Here is his record:
Born in New York, July 6, 1831.
Came to Oregon in 1855.
Governor of Oregon, 1887 to 1888.
Mayor of Portland, 1896 to 1898.
Died May 30, 1902.
The funeral of Sylvester Pennoyer was held from St. Stephen's Chapel, at Portland, at 2 p. m. Sunday, Rev. T. N. Wilson conducting the services according to the rites of the Episcopal church. The burial was at Lone Fir cemetery.
The following well-known men acted as honorary pallbearers at the funeral: Judge C. E. Bellinger, Judge John Catlin, Hon. Geo. H. Williams, John C. Smith, Albert T. Smith, Phil Metchum, Governor T. T. Geer, ex-Governor Z. E. Mosley, ex-Governor John Whiteaker, ex-Senator L. A. Fayette Grover. Those selected as active pallbearers were: C. E. Page, Alfred Holman, F. V. Holman, T. Scott Brooke, Geo. E. Chamberlain and W. A. Munley. Friends of the deceased were invited to attend the funeral at the church. The services at the grave were private.

Pleasant Farewell Party.
Last Saturday evening a large number of school and classmates of Miss Lizzie Orpud assembled at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Corner, on Jackson street, to enjoy a farewell party given in honor of Miss Orpud, who after attending school here the past term will soon take her departure for her Cottage Grove home. Games and music were the principal features of the evening and light refreshments were served at 11 o'clock. At a late hour the guests departed after paying their compliments and respects to Miss Orpud. The invited guests were: Misses Vivian and Hazel Jewett, Elsie Benedict, Lillian Moore, Edith Caswell, Anna Whorton, Mable Leonard, Della Moore, Garnet Otey and Hattie Orpud, Messrs. Chas. Hindman, W. D. Bell, Floyd Ray, Rudolph Harnes, Ray Moore, Ray Otey, Walter Leonard, Clyde and Wilbur Faulkner, John and Thomas Townsend and Ira Corner.

Well Known Conductor Dead.
DENVER, May 31.—After bringing his train in safely and reporting to the dispatcher George W. Ridgway, one of the oldest engineers, both in age and point of service, on the Denver & Rio Grande, dropped dead in the arms of his daughter.
Mr. Ridgway had been forced to take a vacation of four weeks because of ill health, but a week ago believed himself able to again take his run, and he was put on No. 78, the local freight, from Pueblo to Denver.
Shortly before 6 o'clock he was called to dinner. Rising from his chair, and without saying a word, he plunged forward. Mrs. S. S. Simpson, his daughter, who is known on the stage by her maiden name, Kate Ridgway, caught him. He died in her arms.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is relieved through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c size; Trial size by mail 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.
Announcement.
To accommodate those who are partial to the use of ointments in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrh of the nose, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

A RUN ON THE BANK

Is not to be compared to the run on T. K. Richardson's Music House at Cottage on May 27th.
