DECORATION DAY.

Last Friday, we were again reminded of the constantly diminishing number of veterans of the Civil War when in broken ranks they marched to the cemeteries, to be strewn with flowers the graves—comparatively few here, but multitudes in the nation—of their comrades in arms a generation ago. Fewer every year, and weaker and more worn, are these survivors who in youth, young manhood, or their early prime, went forth to engage in that most terrible of modern conflicts. Pathos pervades the brief statement made the other day by an exchange that at the state G. A. R. encampment being held in Kansas the proposition was seriously entertained to make that the last annual gathering on account of the paucity of members attending, and yet Kansas has or had, more veterans of the war in proportion to population than any other state. A few years ago a brigade assembled, not barely a battalion on assembles. Each year, not only there, but all over the country, the proportion of deaths to members increases. Not all of them are yet very old, and the aggregate many thought the country will be alive even 10 years hence; but the present number is small compared with what it once was, and must diminish with increasing rapidity, and it will not be very many years till we, or those who live and read, find items in the papers about the death of the last surviving veteran of the war in such a city, or county, then in this or that state, finally in the Nation; and all have surrendered to the inevitable enemy, and been vanished into the ranks of that vast multitude upon the other shore.

It is well to exhibit this sentiment of reverence for those who have gone; the decoration of the graves of those who once fought, and worked, and were loved, has grown into a beautiful custom, which will not cease when the last of the old veterans has departed; but it is even better to show due respect and honor and exercise care for these old men while they are yet alive. For the we can do nothing; for the living we can do much. None of them should ever want for the necessities and comforts of life, nor should any years vainly for the respect and appreciation that are due both as a soldier in a war that accomplished momentous changes, and as an old or elderly man who served his country well and did his duty valiantly.

But the original thought and purpose of Decoration day have broadened, until they include all the "loved and lost," young and old—the civilian, the woman who never went in body to the war, the infants that left mothers' hearts broken, the dead of all conditions while in life. When the old, and the younger veterans, of recent wars, are all gone, their graves for generations will be made fragrant and beautiful with flowers on this holiday; and even when the memory of the most noted of them has become dim, and when most of their graves shall have become indistinguishable, this holiday will very likely be kept up. As there are living, there will be millions of graves not yet doomed to forgetfulness, and on which on one day of the year in particular fragrant flowers, in many cases bedewed with tears, will be reverently strewn, while memory chants to mourners' minds an inaudible requiem.

Last Friday's Daily Review, naturally enough, reworded our reply to Mr. G. W. Riddle's vicious attacks upon the editor of The PLAINEALER and prominent republicans of this county, which appeared in the Review of late date. Mr. Riddle's harangues, in the Review's estimation, were just the proper thing, but our prompt and somewhat vigorous reply is styled as "uncalled for, unreasonably and malicious." If there was anything uncalled for and malicious in this matter, personal in its nature and without logic or argument, it was G. W. Riddle's attacks upon the editor of The PLAINEALER, Mr. Crawford and other prominent republicans of the county, and the only regrets or apologies we have to offer in our connection with the matter is that we did not employ plainer English and add more vigor to our reply. The offense and injustice to the republican party of this county and many of its best and hardest working members, at the hands of G. W. Riddle certainly demanded more vigorous denunciation and a more emphatic rebuke than we administered in the last issue of our paper.

This issue of the Plaindealer was held back until Tuesday morning, two hours—in order to give its readers the early election returns, which, while unofficial, form a good and safe foundation on which to base conclusions as to the final result.

It is certain that Azalea went solid for Furnish and Crawford, Great G. W. Hosephs!

PEACE IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Terms Signed Saturday. Great Rejoicing in England.
LONDON, June 2.—Peace has been declared after nearly two years and eight months of a war which tried the British empire to its uttermost and wiped the tears from the list of nations.

The war has come to an end with Lord Kitchener's announcement from Pretoria that he, Lord Milner and the Boer delegates had signed "terms of surrender." This announcement had been anticipated for several days, and it was definitely forecasted in these dispatches, but its receipt Sunday afternoon took the nation by surprise, as everybody had confidently believed that the House of Commons would hear the first news today. The edge of the anticipation with which Great Britain awaited the promised statement in the House of Commons from Mr. Balfour, the government leader, was still further dulled by the following message from King Edward to his people, which was issued after midnight:

"The King has received the welcome news of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa with infinite satisfaction, and His Majesty trusts that peace may speedily be followed by the restoration of prosperity in his new dominions, and that at the feeling necessarily engendered by war will give place to calmer cooperation on the part of His Majesty's South African subjects in promoting the welfare of their common country."

How greatly King Edward's insistence that peace in South Africa be secured prior to his inauguration influenced the present agreement will probably not be known until the private members of the present regime are given to the public.

SENATOR SAM BROWNLEE.
According to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Utrecht, Holland, Mr. Kruger was informed shortly after 9 o'clock last night that peace had been declared. He had been asleep. "By God," he said, "it is impossible!"

Mr. Kruger and his entourage, the dispatch continues, hope to be permitted to return to the Transvaal. This, however, is quite unlikely.
By 8 o'clock last night the news had become generally known. A few belated extra editions of newspapers were published along the streets, but before their appearance the enterprising hawkers, who for a long time past had kept union jacks, feathers and horns stored up in anticipation of the present events, were seen in evidence. There was scarcely an omnibus or cab which was not adorned with the national emblem. Impromptu processions marched up and down the Strand and Piccadilly. Spontaneous cheering and much horn-blowing marked the night. The demonstrations of the night continued long after midnight.

PHASES OF THE SURRENDER.
LONDON, June 2.—Following is a synopsis of Balfour's statement in the House of Commons of the terms of peace:
The longer forces lay down their arms and hand over their rifles, guns and munitions at war in their possession or under their control.
All prisoners are to be brought back across as possible to South Africa, without loss of liberty or property.

No action is to be taken against prisoners, except where they are guilty of breaches of the laws of war.
Duties to be taught in the schools, if desired by the parents, and used in the courts, if necessary.
Rifles are allowed for protection.
Military occupation is to be withdrawn as soon as possible and self-government substituted.

There is to be no tax on the Transvaal to pay the cost of the war.
The sum of 3,000,000 pounds sterling is to be provided for restoring the Boer farms.
Rebels are liable to trial, according to the colony to which they belong. The rank and file will be discharged for life.

THREE-CENT FARES.

Went Into Effect Sunday on All S. P. Lines in Oregon.
SALER, June 1.—The new mileage rate was applied to passenger fares on all the S. P. Co's lines in Oregon. From the former rate of 4 cents per mile the amount is reduced to the 3 cents. This coincides with the action of the N. P. and O. R. N. companies, which adopted a similar rate over a year ago. Just what saving this is to the public pocket-book may be noted in the difference in the fare from Roseburg to Portland under the two rates. The fare under the former rate was $7.25 and under the new 3-cent rate the fare will be $6—a saving of $1.25 each way. It will be further noticed that Portland being 98 miles from here, the fare of $6 is consequently 6 cents in excess of what the amount would be on actual computation, reckoning 3 cents to the mile, while under the old price of $7.25 the amount charged over what the actual fare would be is only 3 cents. The reduction is much appreciated by the traveling public generally.

Graduating Exercises at Oakland.

Graduating exercises will be held at Young's Hall, Oakland, Oregon, June 6, 1902. An interesting program will be rendered. State Supt. Ackerman will deliver the class address. County Supt. Hamlin will award the diplomas. Ten cents admission will be charged to cover the expenses of the class. All are cordially invited.
The total enrollment of this school for the school year was 271 against 233 for last year. Average daily attendance 161, against 144 for last year.

Automobile Ran Wild.

New York, May 31.—An automobile over which the driver lost control, and running at a terrific rate of speed, crashed into a crowd in the street today. One man was killed and twelve injured.

Texas Storm Swept.

DALLAS, Tex., May 31.—Heavy storms continue here. The hot river flood is increasing rapidly and people are moving to higher grounds. A $50,000 flood at Vernon has been swept away. Half has pelted cattle to death and ruined the crops over a great area.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY

The State and County Ticket Surely Elected.

CHAMBERLAIN MAY WIN OUT

REPUBLICAN DISTRICT AND CONGRESSIONAL TICKET ELECTED.

Douglas County is Safely Republican. Republicans Are Jubilant.

Election day passed off quietly in Roseburg and Douglas county, the weather being cool and showery. The vote was about the same as that of two years ago, many of those who failed to register, swearing in their vote. While the race for governor and a few of the Douglas county offices are close the republicans of this city and county are generally jubilant and feel assured of a clean sweep when the official count is announced. For county clerk D. R. Shambrook will evidently run far ahead of his ticket as will also G. W. Dunmick, treasurer; County Judge Thompson; Commissioners Nichols and Young; Representative Ira B. Riddle; Assessor George W. Staley and Surveyor C. E. Roberts. The race between Sheriff Parrott and Dillard seems to be pretty close with odds in favor of Parrott, while Conner, Twitcheil will possibly be re-elected. Hon. A. M. Crawford, for attorney-general carried Roseburg by a handsome majority and will carry the county in spite of the dirty personal fight waged against him. For joint representative Conductor Jas. M. Handshoven, simply known as Walker in both Jackson and Douglas counties. In the face of the great opposition and the vigorous fight put up by the democrats, the republicans have every cause to rejoice over their signal victory, even if they do lose the governorship.

Congressman Young will be re-elected by a splendid majority, and has received a large vote in this city and county. The complete vote of the four Roseburg precincts was as follows:

Late advices from Portland and other parts of the state indicate that Furnish is losing ground, but the balance of the ticket is gaining, our townsman, Mr. Crawford, being assured of a handsome majority.
As far as Douglas County is concerned the Republican ticket is safe with the exception of Mr. Rogers, but it should be born in mind that all the Republican strongholds are yet to be heard from.

SYLVESTER PENNOYER DEAD.

Died Suddenly at His Home in Portland Friday Afternoon.

Probably the death of no man in Oregon would come with greater shock to the general public than that of Ex-Governor Pennoyer who died Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock.
He was alone in his room on the second story of his residence at the time of his death and was not discovered until 6 o'clock, when his wife, returning from a street-car ride with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Russell, found him lying prone on the floor near a sofa, from which he had apparently fallen. His glasses lay broken on the floor beside him, and across his face was spread an Oregonian which he had been reading and which had evidently been loosened from his grasp in the fall. In the opinion of the doctors who were hastily summoned, death was due to heart disease or apoplexy. There was every indication of a peaceful, painless death.
Governor Pennoyer had of late been in fair health, although his strength was sapped by an attack of illness nearly a year ago, and he had never recovered his wonted robustness. Of late he had made daily visits to his ranch near Portland, where he spent several hours in the open air superintending numerous improvements he was making. Friday morning he went to his ranch as usual and returned about noon. In the afternoon he took a walk, and the servant, who was left alone in the house, said he entered the house at 3 o'clock, and as was his habit, went immediately to his room, where he was found dead. Here is his record:
Born in New York, July 6, 1831.
Came to Oregon in 1855.
Governor of Oregon, 1887 to 1893.
Died May 30, 1902.
The funeral of Sylvester Pennoyer was held from St. Stephen's Chapel, at Portland at 2 p. m. Sunday, Rev. T. N. Wilson conducting the services according to the rites of the Episcopal church. The burial was at Lone Fir cemetery.
The following well-known men acted as honorary pallbearers at the funeral: Judge C. B. Bellinger, Judge John Catlin, Hon. Geo. H. Williams, John McCracken, T. Myers, W. K. Smith, Albert T. Smith, Phil McShan, Governor or T. T. Geer, ex-Governor Z. F. Moore, ex-Governor John Whitaker, ex-Senator La Fayette Grover. Those selected as active pallbearers were: C. F. Page, Alfred Holman, E. V. Holman, T. Scott Brooke, Geo. E. Chamberlain and W. A. Munley. Friends of the deceased were invited to attend the funeral at the church. The services at the grave were private.

Pleasant Farewell Party.

Last Saturday evening a large number of school and classmates of Miss Lizzie Ornduff assembled at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Conner, on Jackson street, to enjoy a farewell party given in honor of Miss Ornduff, who after attending school here the past term will soon take her departure for her Cottage Grove home. Games and music were the principal features of the evening and light refreshments were served at 11 o'clock. At a late hour the guests departed after paying their compliments and respects to Miss Ornduff. The invited guests were: Misses Vivian and Hazel Jewett, Elsie Benedict, Lillian Moore, Edith Carwell, Anna Whorton, Mable Leonard, Della Moore, Garnet Otley and Hattie Ornduff, Messrs. Chas. Hindman, W. D. Bell, Lloyd Ramp, Randolph Harries, Ray Moore, Ray Otley, Walter Leonard, Clyde and Wilbur Fankner, John and Thomas Townsend and Ira Conner.

GRANTS PASS, MAY 31.—Albert Thiel was shot in the mountains of Northern Josephine county yesterday by his brother William, who mistook him for a deer. He was shot through the right thigh, the bullet shattering the bone. He had to be carried out of the mountains on a stretcher, and was brought here this morning. His recovery is doubtful.

Well Known Conductor Dead.

DENVER, May 31.—After bringing his train in safely and reporting to the dispatchers George W. Ridgeway, one of the oldest engineers, both in age and point of service, on the Denver & Rio Grande, dropped dead in the arms of his daughter.
Mr. Ridgeway had been forced to take a vacation of four weeks because of ill health, but a week ago believed himself able to again take his run, and he was put on No. 78, the local freight from Pueblo to Denver.
Shortly before 6 o'clock he was called to dinner. Rising from his chair, and without saying a word, he plunged forward. Mrs. S. S. Simpson, his daughter, who is known on the stage by her maiden name, Kate Ridgeway, caught him. He died in her arms.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 60c size. Try it five by mail 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

A RUN ON THE BANK

Is not to be compared to the run on T. K. Richardson's Music House at Cottage on May 27th. Three instruments in three hours and one later in the day, making in all for the afternoon four sales as follows: One Kimball Piano, one Singer Piano, one Needham Piano and one 6-Octave Kimball Organ. It is fortunate for us that we have already on the way a lot of fine pianos to supply our prospective customers.

Our Second Car-load

For this season will arrive in about 10 days and our third car-load is ordered. The Roseburg House is also enjoying a good business: one large stock of Organs are all gone and only three pianos left:

One Fine Chickering, One Fine Kimball, One Fine Cable.

Our prices are such that the people see it is to their advantage to patronize us.
