JULY 10, 1902.

If the Democratic nomination in 1904 is to go to the South, Bailey and Tillman appear to be running neck and neck.

Congress is entitled to a rest. It has worked hard for seven months and the fruits of its labors are unusually important.

Senator Beveridge is out with a statement that under no circumstances will he be a candidate for vice-president in 1904.

How would it look for the Portland ball team to win a game?—Eugene Guard. About the same as it would look for the Eugene team to win a game.

It is said the state fair this year will have a better class of exhibits than ever before. It would be better if all the people of the state took more active interest in preparing and exhibiting their products.

Tracey, the desperado, is a man of great resources and furnishes fresh surprises each succeeding day. He evidently gets whatever he wants when he wants it, and goes wherever he chooses when he chooses.

Now the people of the east are suffering a period of intense heat, and scores of prostrations and many deaths are reported daily. First they are stricken by storm, and then by heat. Oregon offers a good refuge.

Over 10,000 Oregon Republicans scratched their candidate for governor, and that enabled the Democratic candidate to pull through by 256, official. The Republican majority on supreme judge was 17,146. —Globe Democrat.

By counting in the total cost of the isthmian canal and adding $75,000,000 on general principals, some of the papers figure out that the present Congress has appropriated a billion dollars. These loose-jointed estimates are more lavish than Congress will be.

King Edward is progressing so well toward recovery that it has been decided to have the coronation ceremonies take place in August instead of September. But can the crowd who want to see the great spectacle be held even till August? Even if not, other crowds will in large part take their places.

A QUEER MAN

Dead Now, but When Alive His Behavior Was Strangest of the Strange.

A curious character has just died at Union, Oregon. He owned a railroad, but never accepted a pass on it, it is said, had never ridden on it, preferring a cayuse to his steam horse. He also possessed a fine residence, which his family occupied, but the greater portion of his time was spent in a cabin near Drewsey. He had three large general stores in Eastern Oregon, filled with clothing, yet he only wore overhalls, a cheap cotton shirt, a pair of cowhide boots and an old wool hat. He owned a $10,000 flouring mill at Drewsey, but he had never been inside of it, though he passed it almost daily. With every reasonable luxury on earth at his command, a splendid home, and a devoted wife always pleading for him to come and remain at home, he preferred a rude cabin in the alkali desert, a board bed, and bacon and beans, and the companionship of cowboys and sheepherders.—Corvallis Times.

We Welcome Him to Roseburg.

The Two Harbors, Minn., Iron News says in its issue of July 4: Hon. Thos A. Bury, who has located in Oregon with a view of making that state his permanent home, was very pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening. Desiring that he take with him some testimonial of regard of his many friends here, made by his public spirit and genial qualities during his long residence, a fine gold watch was selected as the article most appropriate. He was met by a delegation having the matter in charge, while down town, and the presentation was made with a few appropriate remarks by John Dwan. It was a complete surprise, but Tom was equal to the occasion, and he expressed his thanks in a manner which indicated that they came right from the heart. The members of the fire department, with which he has been identified as chief since its organization, presented him with a handsome thomsonite charm as a fitting companion to the watch.

Tom was one of the early comers to Two Harbors, and during his long residence has been one of the most liberal and public spirited citizens. No demand was ever made upon him that he did not respond to with a heartiness and capacity which indicates the good citizen, and the testimonial could not have been more fittingly bestowed. He has filled many public positions here most creditably and some of our most valued public improvements were inaugurated while he was in office. He will not take his family west until later. He has located in Roseburg, Oregon, and we commend him to the people of that city.

MURDER IS CHARGED.

Lovell Given a Preliminary Hearing Today.

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY.

Several Witnesses Examined. Some Conflicting Testimony. Held Without Bonds.

The Preliminary examination of T. H. Lovell, was called before County Judge M. D. Thompson this morning at 10 o'clock. District Attorney George M. Brown conducting the prosecution and Attorney John Long appearing for the defense.

Burt Brown, of Wilbur, was the first witness called and testified that Lovell came to him and told him he had shot Roadman, asking him to go to the body, and stating that he, Lovell, was going to Roseburg to give himself up. Brown accompanied Lovell to Wilbur, and then with several others went to the scene of the tragedy. He testified as to the bullet holes also.

S. J. Chenoweth was called, and simply testified that he was a member of the coroners jury.

Carl Kent Lovell, son of T. H. Lovell, 15 years old, was called and testified as to the the circumstances before the shooting, as were well explained in the last issue of the PLAINDEALER. He was not personally acquainted with Roadman and only knew him by name. Said that Roadman had called Sunday during his fathers absence and asked what time his father would return. He talked about a wood road and said if Lovell did not quit talking about him he would have to close up the road and that there would be trouble.

He said "Roadman was 25 or 30 feet behind father when the gun was fired." He testified that Lovell said "Roadman—now your time has come" when they met. Roadman then pulled his pistol and Lovell fired. Roadman then said, "don't shoot, but Lovell fired again and Roadman fell. Then Lovell fired again. He then walked up to him and said. "The d—m— — — — — of a pistol flew out this way." He then took hold of Roadman's pants leg and turned him over on his back, picked up the pistol and put it out by the road side and then said, "Now dam you, you'll not run after my wife and break up my family." He then told the children to come along home. They had dinner and he and Willie left. First he told them to say that Roadman pulled a pistol on him and he, Lovell shot him.

When asked if he told his father of Roadman's visit, during his absence, he answered. "Yes I did, and papa said, "If he don't stay away from here he will get into trouble" if I shoot him I won't be cheated out of many days."

When asked what his mother had said on their first meeting since the tragedy he answered. "She said, "Now your pa has got into it again. He is in trouble and has killed Roadman." He said his mother had told him to tell the truth. The boy said further that "Roadman never said a word but 'Lovell'; and then pa shot and Roadman's pistol was not pointed toward pa at all."

Coroner Twitchell was called and testified to the cause of Roadman's death, stating that he had taken two loaded cartriages and one empty shell out of Roadman's pistol and that evidence would show the cartriage had not been recently discharged. The pistol and Lovell's gun were offered in evidence. Lola Lovell the 18 year old daughter of the defendant was called and testified that Lovell has threatened to kill Roadman at different times, because of his intimancy with her mother. She had seen nothing wrong. Said threats had been made at her mother's house on Mill street in this city.

On cross examination Attorney Long questioned the girl regarding Lovell's visits to their Roseburg home. She stated that Roadman had her mother's picture, but that he did not receive it from her mother but from her, the girl.

AFTERNOON

The only witness call by the defense this afternoon was Willie Lovell whose testimony was suotantially the same as that given in Monday's PLAINDEALER, except he said that Roadman had said, "don't shoot" after the first shot was fired by his father. Both Attorneys Long and Brown made brief arguments and Judge Thompson ordered that the defendant be confined in the county jail without bond to await the action of the circuit court.

CORONER'S VERDICT.

Tuesday afternoon the coroner's jury in the inquest held over the remains of Horace Roadman, who met his death last Sunday at the hands of Thos. H. Lovell, rendered the following verdict:

"In the coroners court for Douglas county, Oregon:

"In the matter of the coroner's inquest held in Douglas county, Oregon, to inquire into the cause, time and the manner of the death of Horace Roadman:

We, the coroner's jury, empanelled to inquire into the above entitled matter and cause, find:

"That Horace Roadman was killed in Douglas county, Oregon, on the 6th day of July, A. D., 1902, by Thos. H. Lovell; that the age of said Horace Roadman was at the time of his death 53 years; that the cause of the death of the said Horace Roadman was gunshot wounds inflicted by the said Thos. H. Lovell.

"We believe from the evidence before us that the crime of murder has been committed by the said Thos. H. Lovell, and we believe Thos. H. Lovell purposely and of his deliberate and premeditated malice feloniously killed the said Horace Roadman by shooting him with a gun contrary to the statute in such cases made and provided.

Dated at Roseburg, Douglas county, Oregon, this the 8th day of July, A. D., 1902.

G W GRUBBE, foreman
W G HILL
W B LAMB,
Jas B DAVIS
S J CHENOWETH
T J WILLIAMS
J C TWITCHELL, coroner.

This verdict was filed with County Judge Thompson Wednesday afternoon, Justice Buchanan being still absent in Eugene. Judge Thompson at once issued to the sheriff a warrant of arrest for Lovell who has been in jail since the killing. The accused appeared before the committing magistrate with his attorney, John Long, and the date for the preliminary hearing was fixed for today at 10 o'clock, a. m.

A Lively City Council Meeting.

It seems as if the Portland reform movement has become somewhat infectious here in Roseburg, at least, those who were in attendance at the regular meeting of the City Council last Monday evening were thus impressed. To say that this meeting was bordering on the sensational is putting it mildly. Parliamentary rules were entirely dispensed with especially in regard to the English employed by some of the city dads. The cause of the commotion was the appearance of Attorney Louis Barzee, in behalf of a number of prominent citizens, with an eloquent appeal for the suppression of certain bawdy houses said to be conducted on the city's main business street and adjacent to respectable business houses, and when it was charged that one of the councilmen was the lessee of one of these houses the meeting began to liven up. The said councilman did not deny the charge of owning the property in question, but alleged that he was not aware of its harboring immoral characters, whereupon another councilman emphatically questioned his veracity. The marshal was finally instructed to investigate these resorts and enforce the city ordinance regulating such matters.

E. H. Otey was requested to remove his portable coffee house from the street near the depot.

W. C. Conner was appointed as a committee to solicit funds, and endeavor to bring about the improvement of North Jackson Street.

Other street matters were considered including the letting of the contract for laying eleven crosswalks to F. J. Blakely for $505, F. F. Patterson's bid being $615.

The city recorder's monthly report was received and bills were allowed.

The council meets again tonight to receive W. C. Conner's report on the improvement of North Jackson Street.

Another enterprising mercantile firm in this city this week demonstrated the fact that their business is increasing, making necessary immediate provisions for more shelf and store room to accommodate their constantly increasing stock to meet their growing trade. We refer to Wollenberg Bros. dry goods establishment where the carpenters have been busy this week removing petitions in their store and constructing a gallery or loft over the rear room which will be devoted entirely to ladies' furnishings. This will be made a new and valuable department of this big store.

An Imitator of Tracey.

SEATTLE, July 9.—Excitement is intense in Fairhaven today. A masked man went into a grocery store at Ferndale, held up the proprietor, locked him in the back room of the store and rifled the till and safe, then ran across the street to a restaurant kept by a woman and also held her up. The woman screamed and started to run out into the street when she was grabbed and thrown to the floor and bound and gagged. The marauder then set fire to the store and in the excitement, succeeded in making his escape.

Justifiable Shooting.

ORANGE, N. J., July 8.—Anna Hildebrand, 28 years of age, a trained nurse, shot and seriously wounded James K. McCiallen, her lover, here.

She says she went to his boarding-house and on bended knees begged him to keep his promise and marry her, and when he refused she fired.

"I am not sorry," she said. "If more women would do that there would be better men in the world today.

Eugene vs Roseburg.

It seems the Hampton Cros. base ball club of Eugene have been playing under an unlucky star for the past week. July 4th at Junction they were beaten, July 5, Grants Pass simply walked away from them, Ashland gave them an unmerciful drubbing and lastly they were beaten by an unpracticed team in this city, the score standing 11 to 12. Had it not been for an oversight of Umpire Willett in calling a foul, a fair ball, allowing Eugene to score two men on it, Roseburg would have won to the tune of 9 to 12. It was clearly demonstrated at this game that the position of umpire is indeed a hard one to fill, but one who is not acquainted with the rules of the game should never attempt to act in that capacity.

The game was not without errors on either side, still several very good plays were made. Most of the plays was good, clean ball and what little wrangling was done was good natured and of short duration, as both sides were ready to make concessions.

There was a good crowd in attendance and all joined in saying that Eugene has a gentlemanly team and that Roseburg could have a good team if it was in practice and could gain some financial support from our citizens. The line-up and score by innings follows:

EUGENE		ROSEBURG
Starr	c	V Ramp
Hartley	1 b	Corliss
Griffin	2b	Westbrook
Branstetter	cf	F Ramp
Gibson	lf	Gray
Gaby	c	Terrell
Hamlin	3b	Baker
Willhight	p	Goodman
Hayes	rf	Reisenstine

Corliss pitched last two innings for Roseburg.

Roseburg—4-0-3-0-3-1-0-0-1 —12
Eugene—1-0-2-1-2-3-2-0-0—11
