LATE NEWS SUMMARIZED.

State, General and Foreign News Condensed for the Perusal of the Busy Reader.

Northwestern Iowa and Nebraska corn suffered from frosts Tuesday. Considerable damage was done.

The whole Puget Sound country is covered by a pall of smoke from forest fires. Navigation is rapidly becoming dangerous.

Gen. Delaney and Gen. De Wet, the Boer leaders, are coming to the United States to get pointers on farming. They don't need any pointers on fighting.

After three days' street fighting at Barcelona, Venezuela, President Castro's forces have been beaten, leaving 600 men and General Bravo, their commander.

The Santiago de Nicaragua volcano, threatens an eruption. It towers above the town of San Fernando de Masaya, whose 20,000 people are greatly alarmed.

Senator James McMillan died of heart failure at Manchester-by-the-sea, Mass., Sunday. He represented Michigan in the United States Senate since 1889.

$250 and $1500 cows have been secured for the proposed condensed milk factory at Forest Grove. That industry is expected to be in operation by January 1 next.

Mounts Resolute, Hamma and Angustia, at Cook's Inlet Alaska, are still smoking, according to the report of the captain of the Santa Ana, which has just arrived at Seattle for the North.

Henry G. Ploger, once treasurer of Coos County, attempted suicide at Marshfield on Saturday while temporarily insane. He gashed his throat badly and severed the arteries in his right arm.

A Canadian has invented a machine for laying bricks which does the work of six or seven skilled bricklayers and cost $500. The new machine is adapted only to plain work, and should lay from 9,000 to 12,000 bricks a day. Two men and a lad are required to operate it.

Johnson grass was introduced from Turkey into Alabama and South Carolina 90 years ago; it spread West until now it is found along the irrigating ditches of Arizona and California and the coast region of Oregon and Washington. It is described as of great value as a hay and forage plant, but it is also a pest, as it is difficult to eradicate.

Nineteen townships are to be surveyed by the government this fall in Douglas, Coos, Josephine and Jackson counties, in response to the big demand for timberlands. Surveyor-General Mel-drum has placed the applications on file, and is preparing to make contracts. He thinks there will be very little timber land left after next year, as Eastern people are taking it up this time.

George Wilder hanged himself in a barn at Galt's Monday. Back of the suicide is supposed to be a terrible crime. On Wednesday Wilder's home at Elliott, Calif., containing his wife and three children, was burned. His stories of the fire were conflicting, and on investigation a knife was found beside the burned bodies, the bedroom window was nailed down and the doors locked. Wilder fled to Galt and there suicided.

United States Consul Gottschalk, at Bluefield, Nicaragua, called today that Dr. Russell Wilson, of Ohio, the physician who was imprisoned and sentenced to death for participation in a rebellion, is safe at Boca del Toro and soon will return to the United States with his mother, who traveled to his aid and enlisted Senator Hanna's sympathies. President Zelaya pardoned Wilson upon representations from the State Department.

The wife of De Wolfe Hopper, the famous comedian, signs as co-respondent in the divorce suit with Mrs. James D. Bergen is bringing against her three-year-old husband. Mrs. Hopper, before she married the comedian was Bergen's second wife and secured a divorce from him on statutory grounds. Now Mrs. Bergen number three accuses her husband of manifesting undue fondness toward the present Mrs. Hopper. Strange to say Comedian De Wolfe does not seem to appreciate the comely side of the situation.

Ashland Oil Well Burned.
ASHLAND, Aug. 12.—The splendid drilling plant of the Southern Oregon Oil Company, of Ashland, located on the Alford place one and one-half miles east of town, was destroyed by fire, the origin of which is a mystery. Saturday afternoon at about 2 o'clock. The large barn of Mr. George M. Wright, with its entire contents, situated on adjoining ground, was also destroyed by fire at the same time, the barn having caught from the flaming buildings of the oil company's plant. The fire represents a loss of approximately $250 to the oil company, and $1000 to Mr. Wright. There was no insurance.

LATEST NEWS.

Special Session of Congress.—Elks and Knights in Convention. Ingram at Home.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Advices received here indicate that President Roosevelt will call the Senate in Extraordinary session early in November. Ever since it became evident that nothing would be accomplished as to reciprocity with Cuba at the recent session of Congress, rumors of a more or less definite nature have been in circulation that the President would call an extra session either of the entire Congress to enact Cuban reciprocity legislation or of the Senate to ratify, if possible, a reciprocity treaty with Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—So far as known here there is no justification for the revival of the story that the President intends to call the Senate in extra session to consider a reciprocity treaty with Cuba. The statement issued last night from Oyster Bay is undoubtedly a personal expression of the President's views. According to this he is in the same frame of mind as when Congress adjourned. He is determined that concessions shall be granted as soon as possible, but if he should receive assurances from the party leaders that Congress during next session will take definite action he will abandon all effort to force any reciprocity treaty through the Senate before the regular time of meeting.

ELKS AND KNIGHTS IN PARADE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—The street parade of the Uniform Rank was the principal feature of the Pythian convention today. Immense crowds lined the sidewalks, and viewed the parade from every window and point of vantage. The drill was perfect and caused much flattering comment. The electric canopy over the streets and other illuminations last night were brilliant.

SALT LAKE, Aug. 13.—The second day of the Elks' reunion was ushered in by a parade of all visiting lodges who competed for $1750 in prizes given for general appearance and bearing, beauty and originality of costumes and members in line. Prizes were offered for the most unique display and float and the best marching band.

At the Elks' parade this morning the prizes for the best appearing and marching corps were awarded as follows: Montana, first; Wallas, Tex., second; Omaha, third; for the most unique display, Park City, Utah took the prize with their mining prospectors; the Mississippi cotton pickers, second; Joliet, Ill., with a lock step by the members dressed in convict's stripes, third.

INGRAM AT HIS OLD HOME.
ALBANY, Aug. 13.—Ingram, the pardoned convict, who lost a leg in the penitentiary fight with Tracy and Merrill, has returned to his old home at Albany. Ingram says that the recent newspaper story from Salem about him being shot by Merrill accidentally is entirely untrue. He met Merrill, as stated in the recent story, while the latter was looking for a ladder, and attempted to take the rifle away from him. He says that Merrill undoubtedly shot him purposely. He also says that the papers gave Tracy too much of the credit for the outbreak and consequent fight. He considers Merrill just as bad a man as his companion in crime. Although Tracy did the most of the shooting when they escaped, it was probably by an agreed plan that Merrill should get the ladder while Tracy took care of the guards. He also says that it is possible that Merrill killed one of the guards.

MINERS RELEASED.
PARKERSBERG, W. Va., Aug. 12.—Judge Jackson today released Thomas Haggerty and six other members of the United Mineworkers who were serving 60 and 90 days in jail for contempt of court. The prisoners filed a petition for release, alleging that they had not known they were violating the injunction when they did so and promising not to do so again. Attorneys for the coal companies opposed their release, but it was granted subject to re-arrest to complete the original sentence if they violated the injunction again.

ACROSS THE OCEAN IN FIVE DAYS.
STETTIN, Germany, Aug. 12.—The new liner, Kaiser Wilhelm de Sweite, the largest vessel in the world, which is 707 feet long, was launched here this morning. The Emperor witnessed the ceremony. The new ship will have a speed of 25 knots, and is to cross the Atlantic in five days.

BEATS THREE OF A KIND.
JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 12.—Joe Banks, wife of a farmer near Benton, has presented her husband with four bouncing babies—two girls, two boys—all doing well.

The itinerary of the President's Western trip is being prepared. The only definite statement concerning it is that he will be in Indiana, September 23.

General (kill and burn) Smith's attorney advises him to fight against President Roosevelt's action concerning him.

The battle of Barcelona, Venezuela, lasted three days, the rebels being victorious and capturing the city, and the governor.

MR. HERMANN AT PORTLAND.

Says President Will Tour This State Next Spring. Many visitors for Commissioner.

PORTLAND, Aug. 11.—"President Roosevelt is very anxious to visit Oregon," said Hon. Binger Hermann, Commissioner-General of the United States Land Office. Mr. Hermann is on his way to his home at Roseburg, and is visiting the United States Surveyor-General in this city. In a conversation this afternoon the ex-Congressman referred to the intentions of President Roosevelt to visit this state.

"Many times has the President spoken to me of coming to Oregon," resumed Mr. Hermann. "He has repeatedly declared that he is desirous of touring this vast, wealthy region of the Pacific Coast. Of his great interest in Oregon there can be no doubt. I do not believe he will come to Oregon this Autumn, however, but I am positive he will make the journey next year. As is well known the President is enthusiastic when big game is concerned and Oregon is adequately supplied in this direction.

"There are a number of matters pertaining to land office affairs which will come up at the next session of Congress and these will be suggested and recommended in my annual report, which I am now preparing. The statement will be completed in October. During my present trip I have visited land offices and interviewed various Surveyor-Generals, besides having many conferences. The records will show a vast improvement during the past year, the business growing rapidly. Officers from the land office at The Dalles and Roseburg were in Portland to confer with me, and I expect one or two others to arrive before taking my departure for home. These conferences, of course, have for their object suggestions and plans for the betterment of the service.

"We are not bothered much with forest fires this year. Thus far we have heard of but one fire in the reserve and that is in Eastern Washington. Men are now hurrying to the scene to battle with the flames. There are fires in the mountains, but then they are in the reserves, the parks being owned by private individuals.

Since his arrival in Portland Mr. Hermann has been a busy man. His room at the Imperial Hotel is the Mecca for scores of prominent citizens and not a few politicians. Mr. Hermann has for years been a factor in Oregon politics and his visit is enabling numbers of local politicians to call on him.

Commissioner Hermann says his presence in Portland at this time has no political significance. There has been considerable quiet talk of his being a candidate for United States Senator next winter, but he says he knows nothing of the situation as it now exists and has been so tied up with his multifarious duties in Washington that he has given no thought to politics.

While Mr. Hermann declines to discuss politics or Senatorial candidates, it is known that he has a number of ardent supporters, members of the next Legislature, who intend to support him with their votes when the Senatorial contest is on. In some circles Hermann is being talked about a good deal and later in the campaign no one will be surprised to see his Senatorial candidacy announced, backed with a substantial following.

"Mrs. Hermann and I will be in Oregon about a month, most of our time with our family at Roseburg and Coos Bay, for which places we leave tonight," said he this morning. "While I am making a visit to my Southern Oregon home during my vacation, I have made brief inspections at some of the land and surveyor-general offices in this and other Western states on the way out here, remaining business with pleasure.

While I have no real estate right on Coos Bay likely to be enhanced in value by the building of the new belt road there, I have some interests in Coos county which together with its twin sister, Curry county, contains some of the finest timber, coal, gold, agricultural and dairying land in the world. It is all there in the most abundant quantity, only waiting to be developed, and that is coming rapidly. The building of the railroad and opening up of traffic relations with the outside world heretofore dependent on small coasting steamers, will naturally increase the value of all the lands in those two counties, and awaken the dormant resources of mineral and lumber which have waited these many years the magic touch of commerce's rejuvenator, the iron horse."

HO, FOR NEWPORT!
