DEGENERATION OF MONARCHS.

Not long ago a slip of a boy 16 years old was crowned king of Spain. From what we can learn of young Alfonso he is not even an average boy of his age.
We have no doubt that there are 10,000 boys in the state of Oregon alone who are 16 years of age and better fitted to manage a kingdom than Alfonso. But just think of the responsibility of having a boy of 16 raised to the position of president of the United States. Pick out the smartest 16-year-old boy of all your acquaintances and then imagine him put at the head of this nation.

It is no particular wonder that the monarchies of the old world are sinking into a state of decay. The sovereigns have married and intermarried until there isn't a sound one both mentally and physically in the whole bunch. Part of them are scrofulous and part of them semi-idiotic and part of them insane. But the descendants of these royal families are what the people of most of Europe have to take for their rulers.

The wonder is that they will stand such business as patiently as they do. It is marvelous that they do not rise up in general revolution and whoop the royal families out of the country. That is what will happen if the degeneration continues. In the meantime you ought to thank God that you are a citizen of this hilly republic.

Two sets of morals seem to have been set up for the human race—one to protect men, the other to destroy women, and the sooner the American girl learns this the better it will be for her, says the Eugene Register. But the press and the pulpit are continuous in their warnings on this point without any appreciable results, for the world wags on in the same old way without giving heed to the admonitions, which if followed, would materially lessen the prevalence of vice and the consequent downfall of many a bright girl whose previous life gave promise of a splendid future. What is needed is not so much the exercise of authority as of judgment and control in the home. When young girls cease to run the streets unattended we can hope for better moral conditions.

It is observed that the Mogwump Capital Journal and the Democratic Portland Journal are again trying to justify the calling of a special session of the Oregon legislature this winter. The same old argument in favor of the special session is advanced. The Journal says: It is reasonably certain that an extra session of the Legislature will be held. Governor Geer has not explicitly said he was going to issue a call, but that he will convene the special session in the latter part of December next, is firmly believed. The call likely will be based on the urgent need of putting all state officials on flat salaries before the new terms of office begin, and to secure an adequate appropriation for the Lewis & Clark Centennial.

It is understood that Col. Bryan is tired of the vandyville circuit and is anxious to get back into legitimate come.

Having swollen net earnings by tax evasion, the railroads are now capitalizing the taxes they have saved and floating them as stocks and bonds on the market. When the attempt is made, then, to impose on them a fair share of the tax burdens they will complain of confiscation of their property and appeal to the courts for protection.—Omaha Bee.

Roseburg has about decided to follow Eugene's example and build a rest cottage for the convenience of the country people. We assure Roseburg the Douglas county people would prove themselves grateful for so thoughtful a consideration for their convenience.—Eugene Register.

A. T. Kelleher, a prominent lumberman who has just returned to Salem from the East, prophesies that Oregon will have 2,000,000 population by 1910. He says a great rush of Eastern settlers is just now beginning.

Hon. Grover Cleveland now carries the honorary degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence. For a number of years he has been carrying the degree of M. S.—Master of Soup-bose Administration.

Judge Boise, of the Supreme Court sitting at Salem has rendered a decision that building and loan companies in Oregon cannot collect a combined interest and premium charge to exceed 6 per cent.

Formal steps have been taken by the Seattle Humane Society looking to the preparation and presentation of a bill to the next Legislature compelling negligent fathers to work and support their families.

Portland has had many good exhibitions and fairs. The Street Fair and Carnival this year, however, promise to eclipse all previous efforts in this direction.

The Democratic Portland Journal is very busily engaged electing a Republican United States Senator to succeed Hon. Joe Simon. Energy wanted!

What the democratic party needs is new principles, new leaders, new records, new methods and new opportunities.—Kansas City Journal (dem)

It was thought at first that General Kitchener was going to hang up his sword, but now it transpires that he is to get married.

Imperialism is not a real issue. It is only a scarecrow.—Memphis Appeal (Dem.)

HON. BINGER HERMANN HOME.
The Genial Commissioner of the General Land Office Enjoying His Annual Vacation.

Hon. Binger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office at Washington, arrived in Roseburg Wednesday evening accompanied by Mrs. Hermann. They were met at the depot by a large number of old friends and former neighbors and a very cordial welcome was extended to them. They proceeded direct to the family home at the intersection of Main and Mosher streets, where they will remain during their stay here, the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. K. L. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Hermann, notwithstanding their long tiresome journey are looking well, time seeming to have dealt kindly with them. They were preceded on their Western visit some two or three weeks by their son and daughter, Mr. Delbert and Miss Mabel, who are at present guests of relatives in Coos county, whither Mr. and Mrs. Hermann will go, after their sojourn in this county, to visit with their oldest son, Representative Schiller B. Hermann and family at Myrtle Point, at which place a sister and also several brothers of Mr. Hermann reside.

Commissioner Hermann is enjoying his annual vacation which is an event which he always looks forward to each year with a great deal of pleasurable expectation. He will remain on the Coast about six weeks, during which time he will visit the various land offices in this state and Washington and give attention to other official business that requires his personal attention here.
Just now he is kept very busy receiving and greeting his old time friends, many of whom are numbered among the old esteemed pioneer settlers of this county, who have been intimately acquainted with Mr. Hermann since his early manhood, when he first began teaching public school and later practicing law in this county. It is indeed, a great source of pleasure for Mr. and Mrs. Hermann to visit the old familiar haunts and scenes of those eventful bygone pioneer days, note the changes wrought by the rapid onward march of progress and Western enterprise, and with old neighbors recount the pleasures, sorrow and important events of the period in which, these self-same pioneers were laying the solid foundation on which our sturdy, progressive commonwealth was built.

A more extended notice of Mr. Hermann's visit to his home state will be found on the first page of this issue of the PLAINDEALER.

Is an Irrigation Inspection Tour.
Congressman Thomas H. Tongue, who is now on a trip to the new Crater Lake National Park in company with Governor Geer and party under guidance of Will G. Steed, is authority for the statement that Professor F. H. Newell, chief hydrographer of the United States Geographical Survey, who is also of the party, is simply making his present trip to Crater Lake as a preliminary tour of inspection in connection with the proposed National system of irrigation.

Professor Newell and Congressman Tongue, in addition to visiting and viewing Crater Lake, will together visit a large section of both Lake and Klamath counties, to which the newly passed irrigation law will mean so much.

Pithy and Pointed.
Now is the midsummer of our content. The water mullion is ripe.

Politics is uncertain. Today a man is on the stump, tomorrow he may be up a tree.

A paper recently remarked "Tracy will soon be in the favorite haunt of the desperadoes." He is there.

The very startling information comes from Baltimore that a series of bee stings is a sure cure for rheumatism.

Do not blame the editor if your ad does not pull as it should. The fault may be in what is said in your ad.

"In the next letter you write me," wrote a Eugene girl, who was at the beach, to her mother, "send my bathing suit. I forgot it when I came away."

A Pennsylvania man drowned himself because his mother-in-law was coming to see him. That is carrying the mother-in-law joke too far.

Another argument has been made in favor of a trip to the mountains. A man in Montana was driven thirty miles over a mountain road and cured of appendicitis.

Here is a poser: The Roseburg Plaindealer complains because a "tourist" appropriated two checks from the cash drawer during the absence of day light. It is now up to the Plaindealer to explain how a country newspaper came in possession of checks and a cash drawer.—Corvallis Gazette.

Channey Dewey, when he was president of the New York central, perpetrated the best mother-in-law joke ever heard of, when he sent a post to a young married man for the latter's mother-in-law, accompanied by this note: "Dear Sam—Enclose pass and to Albany for your esteemed mother-in-law. Note that I have limited it to ten days."

A WILEY ADVENTURER.
Visited Portland with His Bride. Wanted at Several Places for Swindling.

PORTLAND, Aug. 13.—A few days ago a wealthy and distinguished looking young couple registered at Hotel Portland, as Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Watkins, of Omaha, and said they were on their wedding tour. The afternoon was spent in sight seeing and the couple disappeared in the evening after paying their bill. It later transpired that this Watkins is the noted bogus check swindler and all around crook, yet belongs to a very wealthy and influential Eastern family. The officers have long been on his trail, but he invariably succeeds in eluding them. His latest feat in winning the affections and hand of a well known Omaha young lady in an hour, eclipses all past romantic incidents in his checkered career.

Regarding Watkins, the following was reported from Omaha:
"Henry Shonfield, who stands at the head of one of Omaha's best families, says plainly that he would not feel responsible for his actions should he meet Philip D. Watkins, who is considered by Shonfield as the worst type of an adventurer. He succeeded in inducing Shonfield's daughter, Mary, to marry him after a few hours' acquaintance on board a western-bound train. About a week ago Mand Shonfield left Omaha to visit her sister, Mrs. A. L. Bell, of Ogden, Utah. She never reached her sister's home and she has never returned, nor, with two exceptions, has she written her parents. On the train she met Watkins. Either this man was exceedingly clever in his pleading or else he was a hypnotist, for it is known that Miss Shonfield and Watkins eloped and were married at Ogden and then took a train going West before Miss Shonfield's sister knew what was brewing. A few days later Mrs. Bell received a letter from the girl, giving an account of her escapade and stating they were on their way to San Francisco, where they were to live. The letter also said that Watkins was receiving $500 a month salary, was dealing in fruit for exportation and was 'exceedingly wealthy.' When the girl's father learned of the affair, he consulted with the Chief of Police here, and was told that a man answering Watkins' description and name was wanted in San Diego for a $400 swindle, in Boston for a forgery and at other points for similar crimes. The family were prostrated by the news."

Killed by Lightning.
ASHLAND, Aug. 12.—Richard Payne was killed by lightning at his home 1 1/2 miles east of Phenix yesterday evening at 5 o'clock. Just prior to the accident Mr. and Mrs. Payne had been in the milk house, in the rear of their residence, where Richard was making a table for his wife. He completed the piece of work, picked up his two year old boy and kissed him, then stepped out into the yard. A few moments after he had stepped outside a great flash of lightning and then a terrific peal of thunder frightened Mrs. Payne.

The lady had a presentiment that something dreadful had happened to her husband and she ran out calling "Richard." She started for the barn and found the prostrate form of her husband lying near a large oak tree, which had been splintered by the bolt. A hole was burned through his left eye, the right side of his face burned and his mustache scorched. He was also burned on the feet and legs. Death was instantaneous.

The storm was far from being a severe one near the Payne home. Few flashes of lightning were seen and not enough rain fell to lay the dust. This is a most unusual and rare occurrence in this state.

Chas. Nickell Laid.
Chas. Nickell, the veteran editor of Rogue River valley and now publisher of the Southern Oregonian, has sprung a surprise on his many acquaintances in this section of Oregon.

He has been married to Miss Belle Potter, now of Napa, Cal., but formerly a teacher in the Jacksonville public schools.

The marriage license was issued at Oakland, Cal., last Friday. Mr. Nickell is 46 years of age and the bride 30.

Coal in Douglas County.
Grants Pass Journal.—Two prospectors, one of them being a coal miner from the coal fields of Pennsylvania, came in Monday from a long prospecting trip in the mountains in Douglas county. They report the discovery of coal of a most superior quality, and of great extent and of surprising depth of vein.

When asked what they proposed doing with their find, they said: "Being poor men, we shall await the action of capital that is looking for a good thing in the way of a very remunerative investment."

Drain News.
Mr. J. Sawyer contemplates making a change in his residence soon.
Mr. Horace Putnam had the misfortune to lose his residence by fire, a few days since.

Mrs. A. L. Butler, of Scottsburg was in town Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Davis.

Mrs. Anna Spencer, who has been visiting her daughters at this place has returned home to Gardiner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. E. Applegate and several others intend going to the beach in a few days.

Mrs. M. D. Thompson, Miss Maxie Thompson and Mrs. H. H. Witter were in Drain Monday, on their way to their home in Roseburg, corner of Oak and Chadwick Sts.

Mr. James Sawyer, deputy county clerk, who has been roustating in the mountains near Scottsburg, at this place, is about to return to his duties. He has been having a good time, and is tanned by the ocean zephyrs.

E. Grubbe, and a gentleman while enroute for Drain from Elkton, had the misfortune to upset their vehicle over a bank almost into the creek one night last week, near Mrs. Davis' place, owing to the darkness and the drowsiness of the driver. No serious damage was done, and after getting the buggy righted up, the next morning continued their journey.

ANOTHER BUSINESS CHANGE.
Mesdames Lohr and Gegax Succeed to the Management of the Railroad Eating House.

This morning, Mesdames Lohr and Gegax, who have so successfully conducted the Home Cafe near the depot, for some time past, succeeded to the management of the popular railroad eating house, which for several months has been under the efficient management of Messrs. Bayless and Starmer. Mrs. Lohr and Mrs. Gegax will combine their home cafe with their newly acquired eating house and conduct the business in the same commodious brick building which was occupied by Bayless & Starmer and it is an assured fact that the well established reputation of this splendid dining hall for its excellent bill of fare and prompt and courteous service will be fully maintained by the new management. The traveling public, as well as the town people will always be assured of a homelike and good, wholesome, appetizing meal by calling at the Railroad Eating House.

State Normal School.
Let those expecting to attend the Normal bear in mind the date of opening—Monday, September 22—and if possible be on hand the first day.

The Normal essays to put students and teachers on a footing that leaves no good certificate. Review work is a feature of our course. The coming year the Normal will be more a home than ever before. Material internal and external improvements of the school building are making for the enjoyment and benefit of students. Physical education is a part of the course.

Strong work in English and mathematics will be given from a practical point of view; also in science.

Letters from students, old and new, say: "I'll be with you next year."
The success of our graduates has created a demand for Drain Normalists in good schools. The Normal has helped many to good positions and will help you if you will let it.

For information, address
J. H. Orent, president.

To Veterans of Indian Wars.
I have made arrangements with Wm. H. Robeson, a resident Attorney of Washington City, to prosecute claims for pensions on the part of the Veterans of Indian Wars, for their widows, and can assure you of the prompt and energetic prosecution of claims.

I have on hand the necessary blanks, and would like to make out your applications. In order that your applications may be speedily presented I find it necessary to have some responsible party in Washington to look after the matter in person, thereby insuring an early settlement of all claims, and for this reason have made the arrangements above noted, address all communications to or call on.
