THREE BIG BRAINY OREGONIANS.

Sturdy Western Statesmen Whose Ability and Influence is Recognized Throughout the whole country.

Oregon has had the pleasure during the heated term of entertaining one of her favorite sons, Hon. Binger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office under President McKinley and retained by President Roosevelt. It is Mr. Hermann's wont to come to Oregon for a few weeks each summer to escape the elevating heat of the Capital and he certainly selects a grand summer resort in coming to any part of Western Oregon. But this is not the point. What should be said is that Commissioner Hermann is one of Oregon's influential men among the powers that be. He has ability and force and has the confidence, respect and esteem of the senators and representatives in congress. He has done and is doing much for Oregon and much of this state's prestige at the capital is due to his untiring labors in behalf of western interests.

SENATOR MITCHELL.

Oregon's United States senator, Hon. John H. Mitchell is also spending a few days in Oregon resting from his labors—if listening to the wearying song of the man who wants an office may be considered as resting. Anyway, Senator Mitchell is at home receiving the congratulations of the people who are satisfied with the things he has accomplished for Oregon and Oregonians at Washington. Mr. Mitchell is a tireless worker and his respite at this time is for a few days only, as he is enroute to Hawaii, where as a member of the island committee he will pursue his investigation.

CONGRESSMAN TONGUE.

And Congressman Tongue, too, is spending his summer vacation in Oregon, gathering strength with which to renew his labors at Washington in December in the interests of his constituents. Mr. Tongue during the last session added new laurels to his crown and is proving to possess much strength and ability. He will no doubt thoroughly look after the people's needs before his return to the Capital.—Salem Sentinel.

Several of our exchanges profess to see in the present visit of Hon. Binger Hermann to Oregon an examination of the U. S. senatorial fencibles as well as an inspection of the forest reserve boundaries. Well, a worse choice than that of Mr. Hermann could be made. Mr. Hermann is an influential man at Washington, and in the senate his power for good for Oregon's interests would be felt, says a Salem newspaper.

A marked improvement was noted in the last issue of many of the state papers. Their editors were in attendance at the press association at Newport and the papers were the product of the local composing and mechanical forces.

The city of Roseburg is in the healthiest condition in its history. It is receiving a steady and permanent growth, fortunately without any boom features.

PAY YOUR TAXES.

Unpaid Accounts Become Delinquent October 6th.

Under the new law for the collection of taxes, unpaid taxes become delinquent after the first Monday in October. The county courts have absolutely no jurisdiction in the premises, and do not have the right to extend for a day the time for the collection of unpaid taxes. Under the old law regulating the collection of taxes, the payment of the same became delinquent after April 1st, but the county court had the authority to make such extensions of time which to make the collections as was deemed proper. But the county court has no power to act in this relation under the new law, and taxes will become delinquent after the first Monday in October.

Section 19, of the new law, treats with the delinquent roll, and prescribes when and in what manner it shall be made as follows:

"If any of the taxes mentioned in the roll shall remain unpaid, and the sheriff shall be unable to collect the same, he shall immediately after the first Monday of October extend the amount of the tax on each several parcels of real property, and upon the personal property assessed to each individual, a column provided for such purposes on the tax roll, headed delinquent and shall return such roll, together with a statement compiled thereon showing the total amount of taxes collected, the total amount of taxes delinquent, and other errors." etc.

Subsequent sections of the act provide that after the examination by the county clerk of the roll, and when the proper credits have been made for errors, etc., then the roll shall be returned to the sheriff with a warrant commanding him to sell the property upon which the tax was levied. So it will be seen that the county court has no voice in the matter. The time when the unpaid taxes become delinquent is regulated entirely by the statute, and there will be no extension of time this year.

Letter from J. L. Stratford.

Rev. J. L. Stratford, who is so well and favorably known in this country, and who for the past year has been pastor of the M. E. church at Orland, California writes us as follows:

EATON PLAINDEALER—Dear Sir: I see by your paper you have had a few days of 98 degrees in the shade. That is balmy weather to what we are experiencing. We recently experienced 118 degrees in the sitting room of the parlour and 120 degrees down town in the shade. Well it was hot and no mistake about it.

In company with another man I made a trip of 500 miles a wheel, and visited the country around and North of San Francisco and after seeing that part of California, have concluded that unless there is a much better country south of San Francisco, it will not compare favorably, at all, with Oregon. Of course there is more wealth in the best locations here, but it is a much older country than Oregon, and much more money has been expended in its development, but with the exception of a few favored localities, it is almost sure the climate of Oregon is much preferable.

With best wishes for your success. I am truly yours,

Second Annual Encampment.

Second Annual Encampment of Pioneers, Veterans, Native Sons and Daughters will be held at Olalla, Oregon, Sept. 3, 4, 5, 1902.

Every one cordially invited to attend and have a general good time.

With best wishes for your success. I am truly yours,

J. L. STRATFORD.

Roseburg Brewery Enlarged.

Since the Roseburg Brewery & Co. was first organized and commenced business, their product has been in demand and now it has become necessary to enlarge their plant 3½ times their present capacity. They have lately purchased the vats of the Star Brewery Company of Vancouver, Wash., and are now placing them in position in the Southern wing of their building. They are also enlarging their cellar and making a general change. At the present time their output is 15 barrels a day and that being their entire capacity, it is impossible for them to supply the demand, until the new plant is installed. They will be able to brew 52 barrels a day making it necessary to brew only about twice a week and will give their product more time to age, which is impossible at the present time. It is needless to say that Max Weiss is producing a beverage which is second to none on the Pacific Coast. At present it is impossible for Mr. Weiss to increase the capacity of his ice plant this season, but the time is soon to come when that branch of the business will also be enlarged.

About Rare Coins.

A correspondent desires to know the value of the half dollar without the sun rays behind the eagle coined in 1854. According to the coin catalogues of the leading philatelists of this country there is no premium upon the coin mentioned.

To Veterans of Indian Wars.

I have made arrangements with Wm. H. Robson, a resident Attorney of Washington City, to prosecute claims for pensions on the part of the Veterans of Indian Wars, or their widows, and can assure you of the prompt and energetic prosecution of claims.

I have on hand the necessary blanks, and would like to make out your applications.

In order that your applications may be speedily presented I find it necessary to have some responsible party in Washington to look after the matter in person, thereby insuring an early settlement of all claims, and for this reason have made the arrangements above noted, address all communications to or call on,

CONVENTION OF EDITORS.

Oregon Editorial Association at Newport Hear Reports of Officers.

Newport, Aug. 15.—The 16th annual session of the Oregon Editorial Association was called to order here this morning by President E. S. Hardigree. Some 30 Editors were present from various sections of the state. The order of business at today's session consisted of the address of the president, report of the secretary, an able paper by George H. Himes, giving the history of the first newspaper of the state, and an address by President E. S. Hardigree.

The president and secretary each endorsed the matter of urging along the Lewis and Clark Centennial, and all present pledged their support toward the coming great fair.

Another session of the association will be held this evening. There will also be a business meeting tomorrow morning, followed by an address by Judge Pipes.

EDITORS ELECT OFFICERS.

Newport, Ore., Aug. 16.—The Oregon Press Association at its session Friday night elected the following officers for ensuing year: President, Arthur Conklin, Grants Pass Mining Journal; First vice-President, Hon. Frank Bayley of Salem; second vice-president, C. A. Woolley, Pacific Baptist Advocate; Secretary, Albert Tozier; treasurer, Francis E. Gottschall. The next meeting of the association will be held at Salem.

The Wild West a Panorama of War.

As a perfect and accurate panorama of war as practiced in America, Cuba, Russia, South America, South Africa and the deserts of Arabia, the Wild West stands peerless and alone. From it we learn just how mounted soldiers and warriors maneuver and fight. We see the system of the plains, the rocky mounds, the sterile steppes, the veldt and the ever-shifting sands. It is a picture and a poem, a realization of the art and methods of actual hostilities. The realism, the genuineness pertaining to each and every feature explains the enthusiasm with which Col. Cody and his horsemen have everywhere been greeted. Only a man who has passed his lifetime in the saddle as has Buffalo Bill, could conceive and perfect the successful gathering together of so many representative horsemen, while the business talents and generous expenditure of Mr. Nat. Salsbury have supported Col. Cody in a way few men could accomplish. The various cavalierales are fresh from battle and field,—you see real roughriders and not a rehearsal company. Such is the Wild West, a living, sensation and thrilling exhibition of the horsemanship of the world. It will be in Roseburg on Aug. 30th.

All Were Saved.

"For I myself I suffered such untold misery from bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnson, of Broughton, Ga., "that when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Croup medicine in the world. A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50¢ and $1. Trial bottle free at A. C. Marster's drug store.
