NEW AGRICULTURAL HALL

Interesting Dedicatory Exercises at the Oregon Agricultural College,

SPEECHES BY PROMINENT OREGONIANS

A Roseburg Man the Father of the Bill Creating this Popular Educational Institution.

J. G. Flook and wife, of Roseburg, attended the dedication of the new agriultural college hall, at Corvallis, Wednesday of last week. A fine program was arranged and very successfully the bill creating the Oregon Agricul- lows: tural College, which, from a small beginning, has grown to be one of the very practical educational institution.

THE DEDICATION EXERCISES.

Addresses pertinent to the occasion were made by Governor Geer, Congressman Tongue, Consul H. B. Miller, State Lecturer A. T. Buxton, of the Grange; President Weatherford, of the board of regents, and others. The attendance from abroad was several hundred, and ncluded state officials, leading farmers and distinguished men in all walks of life. The guests were banqueted by the women of Corvallis in a manner that elicited warmest praises from all the visitors. A slight mist pievailed a portion of the afternoon, but it was not heavy enough to interfere with the m. to 3 p. m. all Corvallis business to all who participated, whether as

There, in a mostly of wiid blackberry, intertwined with clematis, hung in festocons from column to column. The tables were decorated with autumn leaves, grape vines and huge bunches of grapes. The whole effect was very pleasing.

The building stands on the south side of the college campus, to the right and front of the Administration building. The lower story is of granite, quarried om the Cascades, and the two upper tories of Pioneer sandstone. The roof
