NO MORE CANNED HORSE.

Linnton's Cannery Near Portland
Totally Destroyed by Fire.

The horse cannery at Linnton, eight miles below Portland, was burned to the ground Saturday night, entailing a loss of $15,000 to its owner, S. Kinsman. He carried insurance to the amount of $3000.

The Linnton horse pickling works was a two-story frame building, and covered 150x100 feet of ground. It was erected in 1895 by a company of Portland men, among whom were Thomas Papworth, Ben Selling, L. May and others. Several hundred carcasses were butchered at the works every fall, and the meat placed in pickling barrels and shipped to Norway via New York. As a corporation the concern never made money, and a few years ago Mr. Kinsman, who had been manager, bought out the other stockholders. Since then the enterprise has been paying better, and was recently considered a prosperous concern.

Since the ripening of the apple crop this fall, Mr. Kinsman has been canning apples for shipment abroad. About 20 hands were employed at the business, and these will be thrown out of employment that would have lasted all winter. It was the owners intention next month to begin the slaughtering of carcasses for the Norwegian market, but it is not now decided when the factory will be put in operation again, if at all. The fire will practically ruin Mr. Kinsman, as a large amount of canned apples and pickled horse were still on hand, besides several hundred dollars worth of salt, tin, etc. The canned apples alone were valued at $2500, and these were awaiting the arrival of boxes for shipment. The pickled horse meat was also to be shipped within a few weeks.

GENERAL NEWS.

James Younger, the famous outlaw, committed suicide at St. Paul, Sunday morning by shooting himself. Despondency and ill health was the cause.

John M. Kelly has severed his connection with the Drain Nonpareil. The paper will hereafter be under the management of F. H. Rogers, of Gardiner. Success Bro. Rogers.

Thoroughbred cattle cost money. Last of the Washington County stock farm, sent thirty-nine head to the Spokane Interstate Fair last week for auction. They realized $12,680, an average of $320.

A Kansas exchange says it has rained until the roads are so bad that the authorities have had to prohibit people from driving because the horses can't pull the heavy loads to the cemetery. This beats our wet-foot state all hollow.

The big Southern Pacific oil tank at Ashland was completed last week and the remainder of the construction crew departed Sunday to complete the Dunsen tank. The structure cost $17,400, and will hold 500,000 barrels of oil.

The damage suits of Mrs. R. M. White and Mrs. S. L. Fish against the Southern Pacific Company for the death of their husbands, who were engineer and fireman respectively, on an engine which was wrecked near Salem, in September, 1901, have been compromised for $2,250 each one-half of the amount asked.

The Maj. Mullah in Somalia land are about to wipe out the British forces in that country. In a dispatch from Colonel Cobb, who is in charge of the English forces there, states that they will be compelled to retreat across the desert or perish, as there are 15,000 assailants against only 3,000 soldiers.

A man who has a claim out in the hills north of town brought in a fat steer last week and sold him for $45. An acquaintance asked how much he had sold for the animal and he said, "To tell the truth it has not cost me a cent. He has run out in the woods all the time and I have never given him a bite of grain since he was a calf. I have looked after him occasionally to see that he did not stray and that is all I have ever done for him. He is all clear profit."

A Shower of Nickels.

W. C. Brown, a rich old hop grower of Douglas, Polk county, announced that if hops would sell this year as high as 25 cents he would scatter $100 in nickels on Main street of Dallas for the small boys and girls. The other day he sold his hops at 25 cents per pound and now says he will make good his promise. He announces that on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25th, he will scatter 2,000 five-cent pieces on Main street in front of the court house and the little people under 13 years old are invited to attend.

To Appraise Klamath Lands.

Secretary of the Interior E. A. Hitchcock has, on the recommendation of Hon. Binger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office, appointed R. A. Emmett, of Keno; Nathaniel Langell, of Medford, and Elmer I. Aplegate, of Klamath Falls, to appraise certain lands formerly a part of old Fort Klamath military reservation. The lands are to be sold at public auction at not less than their appraised value.

Sales of Public Lands in Oregon.

The net receipts from the disposal of public lands in Oregon in the last fiscal year were $546,025, against $364,988 for the preceding fiscal year. These combined amounts go to the credit of the state and will eventually be used in constructing irrigation works within its boundaries under the new law. The gross receipts of the United States from public lands last year were $6,201,927.

THE GREAT COAL STRIKE ENDED

Work Resumed in All of the Big Coal Mines To-Day--
Not a Dissenting Voice.

WILKESBARE, Pa., Oct. 21.—The coal strike was settled at 12 o'clock, noon, today. There was no dissenting voice when President Mitchell called for a vote on the resolution presented by the special committee which reported this morning. This unanimity of opinion is more than even the most sanguine had hoped, and there will be a resumption of operations by the workmen on Thursday in accordance with the committee report. President Mitchell patiently listened to the remarks of all delegates who cared to address the convention, declaring there would be no action taken and no vote permitted until each had been given opportunity to speak. An effort to force the issue shortly after the committee report had been read was balked by Mitchell, who declared he would stand for fair play, and would not let anyone take the conducting of the campaign upon himself to the detriment of others who might choose to be heard.

ROADS GETTING CARS AND MEN READY.
New York, Oct. 21.—Anthracite coal-carrying roads, through orders just issued by the general managers, have called back into service all trainmen, station agents and clerks laid off in consequence of the suspension of coal transportation during the strike. The Philadelphia & Reading and the Jersey Central Roads will reinstate between 500 and 600 trainmen this week, and other coal-carrying roads probably 10,000 more.

The coal roads are making preparations to rush anthracite to the market.

DEATH OF GEORGE RIDINGER.
The Well Known Valley Contractor
Died at Medford Friday.

George Ridinger, the well known contractor and bridge builder, died at Medford Oct. 17, 1902. He had been suffering sometime with Bright's disease; but death came sooner than expected. Mr. Ridinger had the contract for constructing the steel bridge now building across Bear Creek. A wife, nee Hattie McDougall, survives him.—Ashland Town Talk

Mr. Ridinger was well and favorably known throughout Douglas and Coos counties where he has contracted bridge and other building for many years. One of his last contracts completed in this county was the construction of the big bridge across Cow Creek at Riddle.

The Curry County Recorder, published weekly at Gold Beach, by August J. Krantz, is the latest Oregon newspaper seeking public favor. It is a very neat and money six column, four page paper gotten up in a manner to interest its readers and attract people and capital to its town and county. It will be devoted principally to local news and will be very ably in politics. Mr. Krantz held a position as foreman on the PLAINDEALER two years and proved himself an expert printer and a good all round newspaper man. He is a very exemplary young man and deserves to succeed and we have no doubt but what he will. Here's wishing the Recorder and its enterprising publisher success and prosperity galore.

Miss Baker distinguished herself, chiefly for her great presence of mind and unconcernedness. It will be remembered that instead of screaming when Tracy made himself known to her, she said enthusiastically: "Really, Mr. Tracy, I am glad to meet you." Then during the entire walk from the meeting place to the Garrel's home the two kept up a running fire of banter and repartee that was astonishing, considering the unusual circumstances.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION.

Permanent Organization. Senator
A. C. Marsters Elected a Vice President.

The Oregon Good Roads Association held its first meeting last week at the conclusion of the Good Roads convention, and elected the following officers: President—County Judge J. H. Scott of Salem.

Secretary—J. E. Magers, of Portland, formerly County Judge of Yamhill.

Treasurer—County Judge C. J. Trenchard, of Astoria.

Vice-Presidents—H. M. Palmer of Linn, J. O. Booth of Josephine, F. W. Spencer of Yamhill, W. W. Traviation of Baker, George C. Blakeley of Wasco, S. B. Cathcart of Coos, Robert Blumstein of Union, Virgil E. Walters of Benton, O. L. Peterson of Clatsop, L. E. Webster of Multnomah, A. C. Marsters of Douglas, A. C. Woodcock of Lane.

H. B. Thielens of Marion. County Judges of other counties than those above named are also vice-presidents.

The committee on resolutions appointed at the convention reported a plan of organization which was unanimously adopted. The plan is as follows: Any citizen of Oregon may become a member; the association will meet every October and the executive committee to whom the management of business will be entrusted will meet once in three months. This committee will consist of president, secretary, treasurer and four other members to be named by the president.

Resolutions were adopted favoring convict labor on the public highways, recommending that County Supervisors be appointed by the respective County Judges, that a better law pertaining to the location of county roads be enacted, also a law providing for a state fund, not to exceed five miles per annum, to be levied upon all of the taxable property within the state, and to be distributed to the respective counties therein in proportion to the value of the assessable property in said county; said money to be expended under the direct supervision of a competent civil engineer, to be either elected by the people or to be appointed by the Governor of the state.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the Government Commissioners for the good work they have done in Oregon, to the Chamber of Commerce, to Thomas H. Tongue and to the press.

The Commissioners left for the East Sunday morning. The time intervening was taken up with a trip to Cascade Locks, by courtesy of the White Collar Line; also a trip to Astoria and Seaside as guests of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad, and a trip to Salem and back by courtesy of the Southern Pacific.

Death of Miss Nannie Applegate.
Relatives in Ashland received on Thursday, a telegram from Los Angeles announcing the death of Miss Nannie Applegate on the morning of that day is that city. The intelligence was not wholly unexpected, as Miss Applegate has been in failing health for some time past. One year ago last spring she came to Ashland, and spent the summer with her sisters, Mrs. A. McCallen and Mrs. F. W. Dodge, returning to Los Angeles in the fall. Deceased was the daughter of the late James Applegate, and a native of Douglas county, where the early year of her life were passed. From there she removed with her family to Goose Lake, Lake county, where they remained several years. In 1893 they went to Los Angeles, where Miss Applegate resided up to the time of her death.

Beside her sisters in Ashland she leaves one in Portland, Mrs. Mary Clayton, and the fourth, Mrs. H. C. Oakley, in Los Angeles. Her mother also resides in Los Angeles.—Tidings.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury.

The jury empaneled in the Coroner's inquest over the remains of Taylor Beckley, who was killed under the wheels of a switch engine in the Roseburg Railroad yards Monday morning, rendered this verdict:

"We, the jury, duly sworn, find that the deceased, Taylor Beckley, came to his death about 5:40 a. m., this 20th day of Oct. 1902, by being run over by a switch engine in the Roseburg yards, and we further find that it was by his own carelessness and through no fault of the Southern Pacific Co., or its employees."
