JOSEPHSON'S The Big STORE

K. of P. Anniversary.

Last evening, at Castle Hall, from 8:30 to 12 o'clock, the Roseburg Knights of Pythias, received their ladies fair and a few friends, in celebration of the 39th anniversary of the order. Dr. E. Hoek officiating at the evening's entertainment with a very apt address of welcome. Dr. Hoek referred to the inception of the order which sprang into existence in the city of Washington in '64, just at the close of the civil war when even kinsmen were estranged by the terrible and bloody conflict through which our nation had come, and coming at such time as it did, the need of just such an order being felt by all, the roll grew rapidly and now numbers a half a million members. The order is founded upon that signal friendship between men, the love and faith of Damon and Pythias, and is the story true or legendary, the true heroic loyalty of the knights of old, a principle so pure and noble, is that which the modern Knights of Pythias emulate. Following Dr. Hoek's address several numbers, interspersed with orchestra selections were rendered. Messrs Dale's Strang, Will Van Lewin and Wilbur Ross sang. Miss Neita Krieb performed a piano selection. Mr. Free Johnson read, and Mr. M. F. Wright recited, Geo. W. Kimball concluding the program with an impromptu speech. Each number on the program was more than well rendered and was greeted with enthusiastic applause. Following the program, the guests spent a half hour or so at "hearts" after which lunch was served. The menu of which comprised all the delectables known to culinary art. The floor was then cleared for an informal dance and not till the clock struck the witching hour did the merry makers disperse, going then with the spirit of Rip Van Winkle famous toast in their minds if not on their lips, for the Knights—Here's to your good health and your families, good health; may you all live long and prosper."

Cleveland Store Burned.

Last Saturday evening, during the absence of W. M. Fraken and family, the Cleveland merchant, his combined store and residence was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at about $12,000, with only $200 insurance. All store and household goods and clothing were lost.

Plugged Up.

A wild report comes to the PLAINDEALER from Myrtle Creek. It is claimed that the well was plugged last fall and that the "insiders" have made a desperate effort to purchase all the stock owned by the "outsiders." Now we give this item for what it is worth without reflection on anybody, but we once had a little stock in an oil well and the "insiders" plugged the well to let the fact leak out and then unload their stock on the "outsiders." So you cannot always tell which way the cat will jump even in an Oregon oil well.
