AN ADVANCE MOVEMENT.

We do not fully comprehend the meaning of various orders issued by the Bishops and Arch Bishops of the Roman Catholic church in this country in rebuking the scarcity of material being used in fashionable society women's apparel. One brother goes for the peek-a-boo dress which is cut off about ten inches below the neckhole and filled in with light mosquito bar netting. Another brother goes for the pull back and another for the dress that is attached around the shoulder by a strip of narrow ribbon instead of the good, old fashioned sleeve. And worse than this the church by a dogmatic letter from the Pope opposes divorce and remarriage of divorced persons. And think of it, no man can get absolution and remain a saloon keeper or the keeper of any kind of a dive, and a gambler, well he is "not in it" here or hereafter; and still more: many of the Bishops have pronounced for entire abstinence from spirituous drinks and abstinence is denied a confirmed drunkard member of that church. We are glad to see this advance movement, for if it is sincere and prompted by sincere motives much good will result. But there is another surprise for the frivolous element of that church. The women are debarred not only from peek-a-boo and pull-back dresses and dresses without sleeves, and those cut down combinations that bring their beauty points so prominently before admirers, but they must under no consideration engage in the fantasied pleasures of the may waltz or any other good, hugging dance. Now the editor is too bad headed to think of such things, or to dream of such sights, but we do believe with all our heart that these Catholic Bishops, Arch Bishops, Popes and Priests will do a good and noble work for purity of life and if they will preach against and issue bulls of excommunication against the doers of such wanton conduct. Any religion that grapples with the evils of society is to be commended and in this matter the Roman Catholic church is doing a good and commendable work.

THE IOWA DEMOCRACY.

The Iowa State Democratic convention assembled at Des Moines, yesterday. The temporary chairman, J. H. Quick, of Sioux City, in his opening speech said:

"What are the conditions against which we protest? Is not the Nation prosperous? It is true that all over the land labor seems discontented and labor disturbances agitate the people. Capital is arrayed against labor, and labor against capital. But, strange to say, we have grown to regard these strifes as something to be expected, and it may be said by some that their existence is no proof that we are not prosperous.

"It is true that in many occupations wages are lower than ten years ago, and that where they have seemed to advance the cost of living has advanced still more. Yet, employment is more easily obtained, the mills and factories are running, the railways are gorged with traffic and all the processes of production are going on, pouring out golden streams of wealth. Of what, then, do we complain?"

"Within the past few years we have all become conscious of a great and ominous change in the conditions under which we live, a change which fills every thoughtful man with regret and foreboding, a change which has crept across the spirit of American institutions and cast over all a sinister shade of doubt and fear. This change has come with the gradual cornering of our mines, our coal and oil fields, our highways, the great original source of production, the means of transportation, the avenues of employment, until the time has arrived when the once free-born American is born into a monopolized and fenced-off world, in which he must walk in the mighty shadow of the owners of his country and ask of them the right to labor, to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"Here lies the wrong at which the spirits of Jefferson and Jackson bid us strike. This issue we must meet. If the Democratic party has any mission today, that mission is to set itself in battle array against these new masters of our people, these industrial Caesars for whom we have coined a new name—the trusts.

"The more unlike the Republican party we become the better our chances to win. The policy of imperialism abroad and of shameless subservience to the demand of monopoly at home must in time bring destruction to the party in power. We, as a party must stand for the reform which they oppose. We must not be afraid to speak out for the things in which we believe. In 1822 we moved up from the platform of 1822 and won. In 1866 we advanced from the position of 1862 and saved the party from destruction. In 1900 we added that noble appeal for righteousness against imperialism which raised the party to a moral altitude superior to that of the churches. And now let us take counsel as to how we shall apply the eternal principle of liberty and democracy to the new conditions of 1903.

"For that there are new conditions who can deny? Let us not make the mistake which the convention of 1892 so narrowly avoided—the mistake of worshipping the verbal expressions of former platforms as fetiches. Therein lies the backward road to ruin.

"The chief issue of 1896, in the form then put forward, is dead. To attempt to galvanize it into life is to be false to the spirit of 1896. The spirit maketh alive but the flatterer killeth—let this text shed light upon our deliberations. The paramount issue of 1900 must wait. The consciences of men were and still are wrong by our arguments against imperialism but the fancied welfare of their pocket books prevailed on the day of election.

And now the new feudalism of the trusts so overshadows all else in men's minds that they will not shape their political course by considerations of our foreign or colonial policy. The issue of today was implied in every past platform: yea, in the declaration of 1779, in Magna Charta, wherever right has striven against might. But it awaits expression at our hands. All forms of oppression have been bound into a single sheaf and named the trust. In it is slavery for the producing masses. In it is the tariff wrong. In it is the currency monopoly, reaching out for the banking business of the world. In it is government by injunction, invoked by corporate employees of labor. In it is imperialism seizing the homes of weaker people for the exploitation of capital. At the trust we may aim our blows, confident that when the Goliath falls, down with him will go all the hosts of Philistine evils at which we have been hunking."

At the district caucuses held in the forenoon the gold men won a decided victory. Seven out of 11 districts elected gold men for their respected members on the committee on resolutions. The committee on resolutions began discussing the various plans to be placed in the platform immediately after the adjournment of the convention for an hour.

At 1:30 the committee on resolutions took a vote upon reaffirming the Kansas City platform. The roll-call showed seven votes against and four in favor. This settles the discussion of reaffirmation.

The democracy will be forced to get something more real than the ghosts of Jefferson and Jackson to conjure by. We are living in the 20th century and though like the ghost in Hamlet, Jefferson and Jackson are compelled to masquerade in dead issues before a living people the same as they have masqueraded in every issue that has been advocated by that party and afterwards discarded and denounced as foolishness. The only point made in the speech is kick! kick! kick! Like a founding kid taken from a public institution to be fed and feasted on the milk of human kindness and kicking like the devil because it will not come faster these democrats kick at the abundant prosperity given to them over their own protest, and after acknowledging that they have made fools of themselves in days past they resolve to kick at the party's effort that has clothed and fed them so lavishly.

That River Stealing Scheme.

EDITOR PLAINDEALER:

I wish to thank you for your timely warning in regard to the attempted stealing of the North Umpqua river by the Oregon Boom and Lumber Co.

If that corporation wants to erect saw-mills and factories as they claim, why don't they do as all other lumber companies did, acquire suitable sites for mills and booms and build them. But that isn't what they are after. They want the exclusive right to control the beautiful North Umpqua, and then if any bona fide concern wishes to build mills, the Oregon Boom & L. Co., will act the dog in the manger and compel everybody to "stand and deliver."

They claim that they are going to do some blasting etc. Yes, they are letting off some tremendous blasts in the newspapers for the sole purpose of throwing dust into the eyes of the public and the County Court.

A legal advertisement, published in an Elizabeth, N. J., paper, gives notice that the cruiser Chattanooga will be sold by the Sheriff within three months for the payment of claims against her, unless these are liquidated. A Deputy Sheriff who captured the cruiser a few days ago, is still in command, but work is proceeding.

According to the Pekin correspondent of the Times, Prince Ching, president of the Foreign Board, admits having submitted to M. Lessor, late Russian Charge d'Affaires at Pekin, a memorandum of an agreement between Russia and China, regarding Manchuria and Niu Chwang, which is now being discussed at St. Petersburg. He declines to intimate what the character of the Russo-China agreement is to the Ministers of the other powers, but there seems small doubt that the agreement is satisfactory to both China and Russia.

Reduced Summer Excursion Rates.

The Denver and Rio Grande, popularly known as the "Scenic Line of the World" has announced greatly reduced round-trip rates from the Pacific Coast points for the benefit of teachers who will spend their vacation in the East, and of delegates to all the prominent Conventions—N. E. A., at Boston; A. O. U. W., at St. Paul; E. P. O. E., at Baltimore; Woodmen of America at Indianapolis; Eagle, at New York; Mystic Shrine, at Saratoga Springs; K. of P., at Louisville, and T. P. A., at Indianapolis.

Tickets at the reduced rates will be based upon one fare for the round trip, but will be sold only on certain days. These tickets will carry stop-over privileges on the going trip, giving passengers an opportunity to visit Salt Lake City, Glenwood Springs, Colorado Springs and Denver; and will be good to return any time within ninety (90) days. Passengers going via the Denver and Rio Grande are given the privilege of returning via a different route.

For the rate to the point you wish to go, and for dates of sale and other particulars, as well as for illustrated pamphlets, write

Ancient City in Mexico.

A dispatch to the Tribune from Mexico City, Mex., says: The recent discovery of an ancient city of pyramids in a dense forest in a remote part of the state of Puebla, has been found to be of the greatest archeological importance. The Federal Government has commissioned the sub-director of the National Museum, Señor F. Rodriguez, to visit the ruins.

Nicholas Leos, an archeologist and ornithologist, accompanied the sub-director to the ruins. General Leon reports that the ruins are such as never before have been known to the world of science, and the most primitive ever discovered in Mexico. In fact, so ancient as to require a great deal of time and study to learn in what epoch they were built, as well as by what people,

NEWS NOTES.

A crew of men is now at work cleaning and repairing the Albany Woolen Mills. The mills are being put in complete condition for resuming work in the near future.

At Elk Valley, Tenn., yesterday, Cass Jones, the negro accused of assaulting 12 year old Margaret Bruce yesterday, was caught during the night. He confessed and was promptly strung up by his body being riddled with bullets.

Lured from St. Louis to San Francisco by a man who pretended to love her; then drugged, robbed of $7000 and abandoned, is the substance of a story told by Mrs. Julia Klein, of St. Louis, who has just caused the arrest of Charles Marco, Marco, a well-educated Hungarian, who is married and lives in Chicago, declares he is innocent.

A London dispatch of Wednesday date says: A compromise was reached today between the Nationalist landlords and the government whereby serious opposition to the Irish land bill is withdrawn, and unless unexpected difficulties arise the measure which comes up again in the House of Commons tomorrow, is likely to be speedily passed. The compromise consists in the landlords' acceptance of an amendment to clause 1, enlarging the purchasing rights of tenants.

Enough giant powder and nitroglycerine were found in the penitentiary at Canyon City, Colorado, on Tuesday, to blow up the entire prison. This discovery was made after the convicts who had attempted to escape Monday were put through the sweating process. The explosives were concealed in the wall of one of the shops. It is believed that the nitroglycerine was manufactured by Kirsch Kaykendall, the convict who was killed Monday.

Several members of the committee on territories of the United States Senate assembled in Denver, yesterday and departed for Seattle, en route for Alaska. The committee will visit all the prominent mining and Coast settlements, will climb the passes and float down by the Yakon to the sea, thence going by boat through the seal fishing preserves. The party includes Senators Dillingham, of Vermont; Nelson, of Minnesota; Barnham, of New Hampshire, and Patterson, of Colorado.

Men of Sloan City are up in arms against an attempt to introduce Chinese into the lumber camps. Two Celestials were taken up from Vancouver to work at the Ontario Lumber Company's mill, whereupon all the whites quit their jobs and walked out. Manager Clew says he was unable to get enough whites. The Chinese got out of Surrender to Dunsmuir.

A special dispatch from Vancouver, B. C., of yesterday date says:

Victory unqualified and complete has been won by James Dunsmuir in the battle with the Lady Smith colliery workers, who were supported by the Western Federation of Miners. After 16 weeks of hard struggle the miners last evening surrendered unconditionally, abandoned the federation and accepted the mineowner's terms, upon which they will resume work immediately under the contract existing before the inception of the trouble.

The primary cause for friction was Dunsmuir's refusal to acknowledge the Western Federation in any manner. He had no objection to his men forming themselves in unions, nor did he object to dealing with such unions instead of with miners as individuals. He refused, however, to deal with any organization of international character through and by which "American agitators" might endeavor to dictate conditions under which his business should be conducted.

Restored to Citizenship.

On Monday Governor Chamberlain restored Fred L. Moxley and J. W. Collins to full citizenship. Moxley served a four-year sentence in the penitentiary, from Wallawa County, for larceny, and Collins served a five-year sentence for obtaining money under false pretences, committed from Multnomah County.

Both restorations were granted upon good conduct during their incarceration, and since, and upon the petition of many prominent citizens of their respective neighborhoods.

"Golden Ray" is the name of the picturesque spot on the Rogue River, near Tolo, the site of the big power dam being built by the Condon Water & Power Company, of which Doctor C. R. Ray is general manager. It is directly on the line of the Southern Pacific, and in time a station and depot will be placed there by the road. At the present time Golden Ray is a busy place. Nearly 100 men are at work and more than that number will be employed during the Summer in completing the big work the Condon Company has before it. A mammoth ditch is being cut on the opposite side of the river from the railroad, into which the water will be diverted by the dam and which will carry the life-giving moisture to the vast arid region of that section, and which will make productive thousands of acres that are at present useless. Aside from irrigating, 6000 horsepower will be generated by the dam, and distributed to the surrounding towns and mines.

The Glendale District school is going on successfully under the supreme management of Mrs. H. T. Hamlin and Miss Bem.

At the regular school meeting held June 16th, Ambrose Marshall was re-elected director, and W. D. Smith, was re-elected clerk.

Miss Maud Warner is spending a month at Greenback. She is greatly missed in our city and we hope she will soon return home.

Glendale is making great preparations for the celebration of the coming 4th, and visitors from adjacent places will be sure of a good time if they come to our city.

Mrs. Andrew Jacques who was called to Days Creek on the illness of her mother, Mrs. John Howks, returned home last week, her mother is now getting better.

One of the employees of the Steam Shovel now at Glendale, had his foot badly crushed as the train pulled into the Glendale yards on Saturday noon. Dr. Bowers R. B. M. D. of this place was called and attended the injured man.

Our city is enjoying a period of unusual prosperity. Work of all kinds is plentiful and wages are good. There is not an empty house in town. And we know of six families from Josephine Co., who will move to Glendale as soon as they can get homes to live in.

The Little Chief Mining Co., of Myrtle Creek, of which C. O. White is president, will install concentrators, crushers, rollers, and other machinery to the amount of over $6000 at their property near Myrtle Creek. This machinery will arrive in the next two months. We are informed that the company can install this plant, and by so doing will save the money expended in treating their own ore. At present they are making shipments to California, which is very expensive. Good returns were received from their last shipment.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Marriage license has been issued to Miss Dora Price and S. F. Smith.

Jay Jones and family, of Oakland, are in this city today, seeing the carnival shows.

Prof. Ross, leader of the Carnival band was formerly an employee of the PLAINDEALER.

The glass fiends, the kind that makes collections of glasses, not eats glass, now have a chance to get glass with their names etc. neatly engraved on them. A booth on the midway does that class of work.

F. H. Burch, the promoter of the Southern Carnival Company, who has been in this city for the past four weeks in the interest of his attraction, left this morning for Spokane to make arrangements to show in the city.

Until a late hour last night, Jackson street was a moving mass of swarming merry-makers, and there was a continual rain of confetti. All took the dousing of confetti with good grace and there was no one who showed that he was mad, and those who at first would not buy confetti certainly did so before the night was over. Many of the young fellows who cannot grow mustaches were befriended last night by those who had them to sell, and several young ladies grew quite indignant at young fellows who wore dark mustaches, until they found that those fellows were either their best friends, brothers or sweethearts. Saturday night will be mardi gras night, when everyone will throw confetti, wear mustaches, wigs, masks and make merry for the last night of Queen Willetha's reign.

Bad Summer-Time.

Of all the ungrateful — that has ever visited Roseburg, we believe Somer the pitcher who was recently signed by Manager Josephson is "it." Somer arrived in this city Friday evening, from Colfax, on a ticket forwarded to him from here. Saturday morning, he went to Eugene and pitched a game against the team of that city. Then the gambling aggregation that was managing the base ball team at that place induced him to jump to them. It was their intention to have him pitch Sunday's game for Roseburg and throw it. But Somer lost his nerve, and then he sprang a little, not enough to get to the ground, the game was called and the Roseburgers returned home, and Somer, the — came also. The Eugene papers announced that Somer had signed with them, and when the Roseburg people asked if it were a fact he said no; he was going to stay in Roseburg, but Wednesday, Somer could not be found, and when his room was visited his grip was missing, and like a — that he is, he had taken leave during the night, for Eugene, without even being gentleman enough to inform the manager of the team that he was going, after having accepted money from them. Of course Roseburg will be slightly crippled during the next two games, but there will be an attempt made to induce a few honest and sincere ball players to sign with us. We will not be dirty enough to induce anyone to jump from some other team to ours, because we know that a man who will be dishonest with one team would surely throw another down had he the chance. Roseburg was glad to see Eugene strengthen up after their team was so badly beaten, and we extended the hand of friendship to them, but like all foolish dogs, they bit it, but—(7)

Gigantic Mountain Lion.

What is undoubtedly the largest panther ever killed in the wilds of Oregon was recently slain by the two boys of John Fromm, a rancher of the Lower Rogue river country, Curry county. The animal measured 9 feet 4 inches from the tip of its nose to the tip of its tail. It was a monster beast and possessed jaws of unusual size and strength. The two boys were out hunting and came suddenly upon the great panther. Luckily they were both good shots and succeeded in dispatching the cat before it could reach them. Old hunters declare they have never seen a panther of such enormous size as this one. Had it been slain a few miles farther south and across the state line, it would have been called a "California lion."

First Love.

People who marry while very young are apt to find out when it is too late that they have made the greatest mistake in their lives and that, though it may seem very sweet to marry "the first and only love," this same "first love" is the very last person in the world that they ought to have married. Some, indeed, may advise couples to marry before they are out of their teens and settle down before the distractions of the world can attempt to shake their allegiance to each other, but this settling down too often proves to be a mere temporary phase and is followed by an unsettled condition that lasts for the rest of their unhappy lives. Second thoughts are often best in love.

Cheese Souffle.

Cheese souffle is a delicious luncheon dish. Cook together for five minutes two tablespoonsfuls of butter and two tablespoonsfuls of flour. Stir them into a cupful of sweet milk; season with salt and paprika until the sauce thickens. Remove the dish from the fire and add five tablespoonsful of grated cheese. When the mixture is cool incorporate the well beaten yolks of four eggs and then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Butter some ramekins, fill them two-thirds full, sprinkle the tops with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until they are light and brown.
