RUSSIA ON THE WAR PATH

WARNS NATIONS NOT TO INTERFERE.

THE KISHINEF HORRORS WILL NEVER BE MADE PUBLIC.

The Associated Press of July 1, says it is authorized to state that the Russian Government most positively and absolutely denies the report that it has offered any official explanation to the American Government...

It is semi-officially announced here, says an American dispatch, from Kiel, that as a further demonstration of the onerous between the Imperial Government and the United States...

At Chicago on Tuesday, for remitting the Jews of a crowd of newswriters which were directed at his woman companion, Arthur J. Weber, 22 years old, was shot and instantly killed by one of the boys.

William E. Benkert, chairman of the National Executive Committee of the United States party, has issued a call for a National Convention of that party for May 1 to 4, 1904, at the World's Fair, in St. Louis.

Eugene Linow, editor of the Labor World and Secretary of the Trades and Labor Assembly of Decatur, Ill., has been arrested on a bench warrant, brought to Springfield and taken before Judge Humphrey of the Federal Court.

Another Negro Outrage.

A news dispatch from Scottsboro Alabama, of Tuesday's date says: A mob of fifty men came here from Larksville last night and took Andrew Diggs, colored, from the jail and lynched him.

The sheriff rejected the mob which appeared at the jail threatening to kill any one attempting to take the prisoner. The threat was met with a volley, one shot taking effect in the sheriff's leg and another in his arm.

Dr. Emily Dunning, the first woman physician to be appointed an ambulance surgeon in New York, has begun her work. The first call was not a serious matter, however, only the trial of two patients from a convalescent hospital.

Every precaution human foresight could devise has been taken by the authorities to prevent the spread of the disease, which has been spreading along the coast since the first of the month.

Myrtle Creek Mailings.

C. W. Bailey, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bailey, met with an accident last Saturday. While quitting a log the axe slipped and cut his left foot, severing an artery.

Some unknown person entered the Myrtle Hotel last Thursday night and rummaged around until some of the occupants were awakened and frightened him away.

A portion of the 19th regiment of infantry passed through here last Saturday, in a special, on their way to Vancouver. They are just home from the Philippines and will be stationed at Vancouver.

It is peculiar that someone with pecuniary capital does not see the fine opportunity there is in Myrtle Creek for a bank with a small capital to do a good business.

I. B. Dean was over from the Cow Creek valley Wednesday, for another load of shingles. He is just finishing a new barn 20x30 to keep his goats in bad weather.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall departed for San Francisco, Wednesday, taking with them a car of ore from the Hall mine.

Correspondence from Day's Creek.

June 25th, 1903.

Having been near by, and knowing all about the following accident, I will forward you these few lines describing as accurately as I can, the same, believing you'll be glad to publish it.

George C. Higgins, assisted by F. Hamersley, was sawing down a large maple tree about 18 inches in diameter near Perdue, Oregon, Friday, June 20th, 1903, and was instantly killed by the falling tree.

The men were working on a little flat near the bank of the South Umpqua river, and near the tree is a sink in which Mr. Higgins was standing while sawing.

While falling, the tree had split, the sharp edge striking him on the forehead, cutting a great gash in his skull and striking his brains upon the ground.

It seems as though Mr. Higgins was trying to step over a log when caught by the tree and crushed into the ground.

He was born in Lafayette County, Wisconsin, July 8th, 1854, and was married in Iowa to Miss Margaret Mort, Dec. 27, 1875.

He leaves a wife and five children, four girls and one boy, to mourn his loss, the oldest daughter being married to Joseph Wright.

The family recently came to Oregon and purchased a part of the Old Stewart farm near Perdue, intending to make it their future home, but having landed the last load of lumber with which they were to leave the day before he met his sad death.

His father then had left us, and my step-mother we'll hear, and the land that once nursed us, Norovers can be so near.

Only yesterday a hope, Within us brightly burned, Of a happy future here below, But now 'tis gone to never return.

Our home again is vacant, That can never again be filled, And the cheerful voice once wakeful, Sleeps in death upon your hill.

COAL MINE DISASTER

THE DEAD MINERS NUMBER 236.

HANNA, WYOMING IS THE SCENE OF THE TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

LARAMIE, Wyo., July 30.—A terrific explosion took place at 10:25 this morning at the Union Pacific coal mine, at Hanna, Wyo., known as No. 1. Two hundred men were working in the mine at the time.

It is estimated that some one hundred have been rescued from the burning mine, 12 of them unconscious and one dead. The rescuing party, under the direction of the superintendent of the mine, which was organized immediately, has succeeded in getting air into the mine, and it is hoped to soon reach others of the imprisoned men.

The explosion was caused by a miner going into a condemned entry of the mine. Quantities of gas had evidently accumulated, for a terrific explosion ensued the moment the gas touched the miner's lamp. A special train has taken physicians and nurses from Rawlins and Laramie to the mine, which is reported to be burning fiercely.

At 1 o'clock the party of rescuers reached the surface with the bodies of 23 miners who were taken out of the mines by the rear shaft, or main lode. Some of the men were alive when found, but many will die. Those that can talk say that the men who were working further on in the mine are probably dead.

Of 282 men who went into the Union Pacific Coal Company's No. 1 mine yesterday morning at Hanna, Wyoming, 235 were killed by the explosion of black damp that occurred at 10:25 o'clock in the morning, Tuesday. Most of the dead are Finlanders and negroes.

Members of the rescuing party told of painful scenes about the 17th level as deep as it has been possible to penetrate. Some of the survivors were driven inward and fought like lions against the rescuers.

For hours the scene at the mouth of the level was heartrending. With clothes and hair awry, mothers, wives, sweethearts and children huddled together crying and wringing their hands.

Many saron shattered timbers blown from the mine's interior, insensible to their surroundings. The most frantic pushed to the edge of the gap and tried to force a way into the mine.

A special to the Desert News from Hanna, Wyo., says: Officials of the Union Pacific mine have given up all hope of reaching the entombed miners alive. Two hundred and eighty men went into the mine yesterday morning, and of the number 44 have been accounted for. Of these 44 were brought out alive and two dead. No bodies have been removed since yesterday afternoon but rapid progress is being made and more bodies may be brought to the surface Wednesday.

President H. H. Bart and other officials of the Union Pacific, and Superintendent D. O. Clark, of the Union Pacific Coal Company, arrived here early Wednesday and have taken personal charge of the work of removing debris from the stopes and entries and reaching the bodies of the victims. The miners believe the awful explosion occurred on the 17th level from the fact that the stopes and entries are more and more choked as it approached. The bodies found here will probably be badly burned and mangled.

An improvised hospital has been located near the mouth of the stopes and the morgue is close at hand, but there probably will be no use for the former unless it is to care for those who may be injured in removing the debris. Of the 235 miners believed to have been killed by the explosion, 215 were men and the balance boys from 13 to 20 years of age. One hundred and sixty-five were married and leave large families.

SATURDAY OR SUNDAY?

JEWIS IN COUNCIL FAIL TO DECIDE.

QUESTION TO BE DECIDED BY SOME FUTURE ASSEMBLY OF HEBREWS.

A special from Detroit of July 1, says: "The Sabbath question, one of the most important matters now before the Jewish people, was taken up at today's session of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. Rabbi J. Voorsanger of San Francisco, chairman of the Sabbath committee, appointed at the last meeting, to consider all phases of the Jewish Sabbath and the question of changing it from Saturday to Sunday, presented the report of the committee.

The committee, after a most careful consideration, decided that it had no jurisdiction to recommend anything in the nature of legislation looking toward any change, and declared that the conference was incompetent to legislate any fundamental Jewish institution out of existence.

The commission reported that a definition of the religious authority that should regulate the authority and discipline of the Jewish people was paramount to any other question. They recommended the creation of a National conference, composed of Rabbis and laymen, constituting an authority to which all ritual and discipline questions might be referred.

Immediately after the report was read the Rabbis went into executive session to consider it, and announced that at its close they would issue a statement on the deliberations.

Diggs had been arrested for assaulting Miss Anna Smith, white, at Larksville, last Sunday night, and was taken to Scottsboro for safe keeping. Sheriff Austin resisted the mob until he was shot down and the lynch taken from him.
