Engene Halsey and John Alderson, have been taking a vacation from their work at the Greenback, for a few days about the Fourth.

Mr. H. S. Bond returned to Leland last Thursday, after being called to the home of his parents who reside at Halsey, Ore., during the illness of his mother, who died at that place a few days before his return.

Mrs. Mary Loller died of consumption at Leland, last Thursday morning, after a lingering illness of several months. She leaves a husband and one child and a host of friends to mourn her sad death.

Hurrah for the Fourth, were the words that rang from Leland town about 6 p. m. on Saturday. We had almost concluded that Leland had forgotten that there was to be a 4th of July this year until it was announced that there would be fireworks in abundance, and all went well until they were more than half through, when some fire by accident was dropped into the fireworks magazine and the alarm was given. "The whole works are on fire, run people." And the people ran, especially the ladies. The remainder of the fireworks came at once, and a lively time ensued for a few minutes. No damage was done but some were badly frightened.

Myrtle Creek Mail News.

The many friends of Miss Emma Bailey are pleased to see her up and well again.

Will Armitage is down from the mines and will remain until after the celebration.

Grave Creek Items.

Cool, cloudy weather.

The Leland school closed on Friday last, with a short program, after which ice cream and lemonade were served. Miss Allen, the teacher will return to her home in Salem.

Fred Virtue has gone to the Greenback where he has accepted a position. He says he intends staying there only a few weeks.

Mrs. J. W. Johnston has returned home on Grave Creek, she was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Davis and children. Their many friends mourn with them over their sad bereavement.

It was given out that there was to be preaching in the school house on last Sunday, by Rev. W. C. Long, of Winona. But whoever gave it out took great care that no one heard it, consequently there was no attendance.

Mrs. Chas. Strong, of Leland, is quite sick, although she is not in danger.

We think that the one who wrote the notes from Grave in our last issue must have dreamed a part of her items and then wrote them.

Diana certainly tried to make her column sound, but we should strive for the truth and not the sound.

We think that we can soon write up the notice of a wedding, for it is whispered in the breeze that one of Graves most popular young ladies is soon to enter the matrimonial state.

The quartz ledge owned by F. Fitch, of Grants Pass, has recently been purchased by a Colorado Mining Co., and will be developed to its fullest extent.

Carl Wimus, of Grants Pass, while coming down the Grave Creek hill, on Sunday last, met with a slight accident. His team became frightened and ran down grade for about a quarter of a mile, where the buggy was thrown over grade, and one of the horses got its leg broken. But Carl escaped uninjured, and proceeded to make his Sunday call without further interruption.
