RULES AND REGULATIONS.

THE PUPILS MUST BE VACCINATED.

THE LAW ORDERING MICROBES TO BE INJECTED INTO CHILDREN.

The great, moral and religious newspaper of Southwest Oregon, has been requested to publish the following—Rule XXIV, of the Oregon State Board of Health:
It shall be the duty of all school boards in all the districts of whatever class in the State of Oregon, to prohibit the entrance into any of the public schools of the State, of all children not previously vaccinated (the evidence of which is shown by the scar), without proper vaccination; and it will be the duty of the teacher or teachers in any of the public schools of the State of Oregon to satisfy themselves that such order has been properly enforced, the evidence being a scar, or by a certificate of vaccination signed by a reputable physician.

Fighting Fire.

A dispatch says: Chewaucan Marsh, Lake County, is a roaring mass of flames, and 200 men are engaged in a most desperate fight to prevent the spread of the devouring element. Already hay to the value of $60,000 has gone up in smoke, and cattlemen will be left to face the winter without a straw to feed their immense herds. Night is made hideous by the horrible sight of a sea of fire roaring over the plain and by day dense clouds of black smoke obscure the heavens. Tules, growing to the height of six feet, furnish excellent food for the destructive element and the rich soil is sure to a depth of several feet. Firefighters fall in their tracks from exhaustion and are revived only to resume the battle for their homes and property.

A rancher, surrounded by the flames, escaped certain death by making a desperate dash over the burning ground. The scene of the fire is in an isolated part of the county, difficult to reach.

Roman Catholic Reform Movement.

An inquiry ordered by the Vatican regarding a movement favorable to the establishment of a Western Catholic Patriarchate to include all Anglo-Saxon countries which might be called semi-independent of Rome, has just been completed, according to a Tribune dispatch from Rome. Evidence was found of the existence of a movement of this kind among the advanced section of the clergy, especially the French and Irish, who wish to join forces with America to give to the church a more modern and liberal impulse.

Two Filipinos, Gomez and Kalbaza, have been arrested in Manila, charged with being concerned in fomenting the disturbance which have lately taken place in the northern province of Luzon, where a guerilla warfare has been carried on for some time past by ladrones against the peaceably inclined natives. They are now held to answer on charges of rebellion and insurrection against the authority of the United States.

Portland schools are crowded and bonding the district in the sum of $250,000 seems a necessity.

Did it ever strike you that the man who does good farming seldom has an unfavorable season, asks the Corvallis Gazette. More crop failures are due to the farmer himself, than to droughts, floods or untimely frosts. The man who plows deep early in the season, who cultivates frequently and late in the season, who looks after his trees and sprays them when needed, who looks as carefully to his business as a merchant or banker in a city does to his, seems to stand in with Providence much better, and have better success than the man who scratches his head and puts the blame of his own ignorance and inefficiency on that convenient scape goat, the weather. Think the master over, gentleman.

For Five Year Pastors.

At the Illinois Methodist conference now in session at Quincy, delegates to the general Methodist conference to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., next May have been instructed to support the rule of the five-year limit of pastors in their charges.

A resolution supporting the local option movement was adopted, and also one providing that the superannuated relation be put on the best three, and that the representation of delegates be changed from one to forty-five to one to forty laymen in the general conference.

High Society in Spain.

The society circles of Madrid have received a sensational shock by the arrest of three of the most beautiful among the young leaders of the aristocracy, on a charge of fraud. The accused are the Marchioness Maria Reina, daughter of Gen. Reina, formerly minister of war and former governor general of Cuba; also sister-in-law of Gen. Bascaran, chief of King Alfonso's military cabinet; Dona Engracia Sanchez, daughter of a general who has been governor general of Cuba; and the Countess Carlotta Duran, daughter of Gen. Duran, formerly minister of war, and at one time professor to King Alphonso.

The ladies are charged with defrauding the bank of Spain of $60,000 with a bill of exchange forged in the name of Garcia Gutierrez, a banker. Their alleged accomplices, who signed the bill, was the notorious forger, Mariano Conde.

The forger has been known to some of the most eminent men of the kingdom for some time, and they, as well as King Alfonso, tried to prevent the arrests, but the scandal was so great the authorities were compelled to act. It is reported that the mansion where the Marchioness Maria Reina and Dona Sanchez lived together was nightly the scene of banqueting and gambling.

A. O. U. W. Supper. Hungry Lawyer. Red Box. Dollar Bill.

For genuine flimflaming commend us to the A. O. U. W., and theirs is no graft either. It is smooth, finished work, such as a confidence man might be proud of. It is no "stuck up" like Hitchcock hands to the people, or Mayor Williams to the Portland gamblers; but is accomplished work handled by artists in the business. It appeals to a man through his most vulnerable point his stomach; but nevertheless is calculated to separate a mark from his pocket. It is master degree work and is not peddled out to uncle Reuben; but is framed up for the wise guy. At their box supper held in the opera house on Monday evening the A. O. U. W. had for sale a great number of beautiful boxes, each supposed to contain an elegant lunch. These boxes were sold to the highest bidder and, according to a time honored custom at such functions, the purchaser was entitled to feast on the contents of the purchased box with the fair donor of said box for a partner. Box after box was sold and snatched up at what appeared to the hungry lawyer, with the sweet water running down his chin, as great bargains. Presently the auctioneer lovingly lifted a large red box, neatly tied with white ribbons, raised it to a position level with his nose and shouted: "March! I offered for this charming young lady's box?" The box bore a label on one end marked "men's shirts" and the eyes of our hungry lawyer sparkled. His mental comment was that the box contained at least four square meals, reasonably worth 25c each, and he then determined to own that box. Now, here is where the lawyer was easy. He expected to find a winter's grub stake in a box marked shirts. But suppose the label were true and that the contents were really shirts—well, he needed a clean shirt anyway. "Going at an 'af, an 'af, an 'af," yelled the auctioneer. "A dollar," says John T. Notshort, the lawyer. "Dollar'm offered, goin't a dollar'm sold!" With a satisfaction "beyond a reasonable doubt" the disciple of Blackstone reached for his lady's box. It was pretty enough and the consolation of ownership was probably intended as value received, for the actual contents were neither food nor raiment. The box with its contents, three cucumbers, four tomatoes, a slice of squash and a little green cabbage, can be seen at the Board of Trade. John T. Notshort thinks he was unhooded and when interviewed by a reporter answered by mumbling such incoherent, broken sentences as "Obtaining money under false pretenses," "Grand Jury," "Indictment," "Jail!"

Moral: When Simon says, "Thumbs up," get your hand on your pocket book.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take other after having once used it. MUZZLING THE PRESS.

AN ENTIRE NEWSPAPER FORCE ARRESTED.

COLORADO IS CURSED BY MILITARY AND CITIZEN ANARCHISTS.

A despatch from Victor, Colorado, of yesterday afternoon says: Shortly before midnight a troop of cavalry and a company of infantry, under the command of Major McClelland, surrounded the office of the Daily Record, the official organ of the Miners' Union, in this city, and with a detail of several picked men, entered the newspaper office and placed the following under arrest: George Kayner, proprietor; W. S. Langdon, Charles D. Langdon, linotype operators; W. A. Sweet, circulator and H. J. Richardson, foreman of the composing room.

The prisoners were taken to Camp Goldfield and after a conference with General Chase and other military officers, the prisoners were placed in the guard-house.

A strong guard of infantry was left at the Record office, where it will stand guard until some disposition of the proprietor and his employes is made.

Affidavits have been prepared and will be filed in the District Court this morning, charging the men with coercion, intimidation and criminal libel. The information will be sworn by Thomas Scanlon of Victor.

General Chase, when asked for a statement in regard to the arrests, said that libel proceedings would be prosecuted, and they were being held as military necessities.

The business manager, A. Q. Miller, hearing that a possible attempt to arrest the office force would be made, was out of the way at the time the soldiers took possession. A new force of printers has been secured, and, with General Chase's permission the official organ will be published as usual.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Sept. 30.

Information will be filed in the District Court today, charging George Kyner, manager and editor of the Victor Record; W. L. Sweet, the circulator, and W. S. and C. G. Landon, linotype operators, who were arrested by the military last night, with malicious slander. An affidavit made by Thomas Scanlon, a member of Company K, First Regiment, was prepared by Judge Advocate Thomas McClelland and handed to Deputy District Attorney Cole. The affidavit sets forth that Scanlon was designated a spotter in connection with the arrest of Robert Murphy, in the Victor Record office.

Harry Scott has been engaged as counsel for the men thrown into the bullpen and if the prisoners cannot secure their release on bond he will apply for writs of habeas corpus in the District Court, to the end that the men may secure their freedom until the trial on the information.

Judge Advocate McClelland, when asked why the entire force was arrested, said they were all equally guilty in publishing the alleged libelous article in the Victor Record, and that every attempt would be made to send all the men arrested to the penitentiary.

The Victor Record is securing a new force today and will be able to continue publication.

C. E. Woodard, president of the Typographical Union, discussing the arrest of the Record force, says that no greater outrage could be perpetrated.

"I was a soldier in the Philippines and was through all the stirring times there, but I saw nothing so boldly brazen and in violation of constitutional rights as took place in Victor last night," said he. "It is time that something should be done to resist these high-handed measures."

Tom Foster and T. C. Mallaney, union men, who have been in the bullpen for 13 days, were released today. They say they were at all times intimidated and were fearful of losing their lives.

Roosevelt and Labor Chiefs.

President Roosevelt proposes to settle the controversy with union labor through a heart-to-heart talk with the labor union leaders. He has told the members of the administration that he has nothing to fear from what he has done in connection with the controversy which has developed at the government printing office. He wants to tell the labor leaders the same thing.

So confident is the President of the justice of the stand he has taken, and so sure is he that the labor leaders are broad minded and fair, that he will risk all in a frank discussion of the case of Miller, the bookbinder, about whom there has been so much talk.

The President has advised John Mitchell that he wants to meet him and his colleagues some time this week at the White House. The President will tell the men that he has done nothing except to see that fair play is exercised and that the statutes of the law were rigidly observed. He will seek to show that a narrow construction was not put on these statutes but that they were taken in their broadest application, and that when the case came up to him there was no other course open.

The President hopes to reach an understanding with the union labor people about the government printing office. He will be fortified with confidential reports which have been in course of preparation for some weeks. From these he will cite facts to show that anything but a satisfactory condition has developed in the government printing office because of the blind adherence to union demands. He will point out where certain changes could be made that would be of direct value to both the cause of union labor and the government.

Work on the Old Coos Bay Wagon Road.

The portable saw mill which is to saw out lumber to plank portions of the Coos Bay wagon road, has been taken from Myrtle Point to the Steiner place, near Fairview, where the first work will be done.

D. McIntosh, county commissioner, informs the Mail that the intention is to work on the eastern slopes of the hills first, as the heavy mail is westward bound, and the stages go back light, so that the improvement is most needed where the loaded stages have to be hauled up.

The county commissioners, on their recent trip over the road, had ocular demonstration of the good results of cutting the timber back from the road to let in the wind and sunshine, but it seems that this year's appropriation will be expended mostly in planking the road where relief for the coming winter is most urgently demanded.—Coast Mail.

Walcott on Top.

Former United States Senator Edward O. Wolcott won a decisive victory Tuesday in the contest before the Republican State Central Committee between the rival factions at Denver, Colo., and afterward in the State Convention. He committed, by a vote of 71 to 18, placed the Wolcott delegates on the temporary roll call of the convention, by a unanimous vote. No opportunity was given the anti Wolcott delegation to make a contest before the convention.

For City Recorder.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by A. C. Marsters' and Co.
