DECEMBER 28, 1903.

FOR A HIGHER STATE OF MORALITY.

The series of articles on public and private morality which the PLAINDEALER has been publishing is bearing fruit and meeting with the hearty support and commendation of democrats as well as republicans, and so great was the demand for papers last Thursday and Saturday that we could not supply the numbers asked for. We are glad to know that there are scores of good men in Roseburg and Douglas county who say that they desire a change: and we hear that a non-political, civic federation has been organized for the enforcement of law and the inculcation of a higher state of public and private morality. Such an organization should meet with the hearty support—moral and financial—of every citizen of Douglas county and especially of Roseburg. The enforcement of law is the safety of the nation. If there are bad laws they should also be enforced until they can be amended or repealed. As regards saloons running wide open on Sunday and, like some in Roseburg, being nothing more nor less than gambling hells, and, some, the very lowest kind of bawdy houses, where, abandoned, degraded, filthy, in their vile immorality and proud in their shameless abandonment—these places are cess-pools of iniquity and the breeders of crime. And our courts—do they know? Are they cognizant of what is going on? Do they wink at such anarchical proceedings? Do they attempt to enforce the laws on the statute books? Have they tried, time and time again, to enforce the laws against the crimes we have mentioned, and have the juries composed of the best citizens of Douglas county turned the offenders loose on a verdict of "not guilty?" If the juries have done so and the court officials and judges have become "heartsick" in their effort to enforce law there is a possible excuse or, rather, a palliation, for failure for not attempting to enforce the law. If the laws are being violated daily in open defiance of order and good government and the courts make no effort to prevent violations, but, on the contrary, close one eye and wink the other, instead of being courts of justice and of law they are criminal-making machines. We have no excuse to offer, no inflections of the voice to tone down, no words of double meaning to use when we say: Any court having the power to suppress crime and failing to do so, is a blighting, withering curse upon the people at large and no man can conceive of a worse hell than a hell fed by courts of supposed justice by actually conniving at crime.

Now, we do not know where to place the gross miscarriage of law and justice in Roseburg. We know that it exists. We have seen the laws violated, or at least supposed that violations were going on. There must be several broken cogs or the eccentric out of fix, but we have not yet had time to examine into and find out what part of the court machinery is beyond repair. We want expert testimony, so as to know exactly where to place the blame. If there is one place in these United States demanding the highest order of patriotism, intelligence, sterling honor and integrity, it is the tribunals of our land; and as the officers of these courts come from all political, social and religious parties, it is to our individual benefit that no man except a pure man, and well qualified, be elected to office. Are there any republican officials standing in with crime? Down them at the coming election. Are there any democrats pandering to criminals? Down them. If there is any part of the machine that is still true to principle, retain it. But there are men in office who are not directly responsible for the enforcement of law who favor turning Roseburg into a Sodom and Gomorrah, because of the money that can be made out of the fruit of immorality and vice.

The civic league should be backed up by every father and mother in Roseburg who wants to raise children in a "for God and morality community." It is time that the black flag of vice be pulled down. It is time that the horrible stories of human and animal depravity be forever forgotten. It is time that Roseburg, Phoenix-like, arose from ashes of the past and became renowned for virtue, morality and law-abiding. We could wish the city no greater joy or happiness than, that by one mighty effort, the year 1904 be ushered in by a determination to redeem the past years of vice and lawlessness.

MOST HASTY LEGISLATION

While the joint legislation is to be commended for the close application to business, yet it becomes apparent that the haste in which the work was done did not give the representatives or senators time in which to properly go over the hills and guard against errors.

It was the intention of both branches of the legislature to have passed a bill exempting $300 worth of taxable property consisting of household furniture and personal effects from taxation to the head of every family. The bill passed and became a law but so far as next year's taxes is concerned, it is inoperative, because the emergency clause was not attached and Attorney General Crawford states that in the next tax assessment that no exemption can be allowed. That the passage of the bill without the emergency clause was either by mistake or design there can be no doubt, but as the framers of the bill desired and those who voted for the bill believed that $300 was exempt from taxation, the intent should be taken into consideration. The tax law provides that the tax assessment shall date March 1, 1904. The Exemption law will not go into force until March 23, 1904.

It is hinted that this was another specious scheme to get into the citizens' pockets. Suppose there are $50,000 taxpayers in tha State and the exemption of $300 to each taxpayer this would give a tax exemption on approximately $15,000,000 worth of property. At 3 per cent the tax would be in total $450,000. We do not believe that there was any design to pass the bill in its present form and under the circumstance if a test case could be made before the State Supreme court, that body might rule that the intent to exempt $300 worth of property should be taken into consideration as that is the spirit of the bill whatever the letter may be.

BROWNELL FOR CONGRESS.

Is the Lost Anti-Gambling Bill His Plea for Office?

In the three days session of the legislation last week, the House passed a very commendable bill when it was attempted to put this state on as high and progressive plane as Washington by adopting the anti-gambling bill of that state and making it a law of Oregon. The House is to be commended for the good work which it did and the record it made. After passing the bill it was sent from the House to the Senate where it was lost. The Most Honorable George C. Brownell was presiding in the Senate when the bill was sent in and immediately the bill was lost and no great effort to trace or find it was made and the man who went to Scott and under a plea of friendship and fealty wormed himself into his victim's confidence to sell him out a short time later, is now trying to prove that the loss of bills passed by either branch of the legislature and sent to the other is of little moment. The bill was stolen or made away with by a thief. The bill was in the interest of law, order and good government and it would have undoubtedly have passed the Senate and became a law. Now we have no desire to say that Brownell stole or made away with the bill because of his friends hip with gamblers and the element, but as President of the Senate he made no effort to find it by employing the methods known to any presiding officer of a legislative assembly. His course, to say the least, shows that his sympathes and support was against the best interest of the State.

It is this same Brownell who aspired to be United States Attorney for Oregon and failing in that ambition, has announced that he is a candidate for Congressional honors for this district. Now we want this man's record to come squarely before the public and although we have only been hearing of this man for the past fifteen months, yet we have watched his course and his very erratic performance before the public as a politician. He may be a brilliant man. He may be a shrewd politican. He may even be an honest man, but his public record is against him, and republicans of Douglas county, this is the man who is sought to be brought before you for your support to send to Congress. This man is a political huxter, trixter and trader in poltroonery. He is undoubtedly a double-shuffled statesman of the sawbuck brand. Now we are not opposing him because we are supporting or supposed to be supporting Binger Hermann for re-election. We write what we publish from conscientious motives and we care not who is the successful candidate for the Congressional nomination provided he is a man of good political standing and is a man of sterling honor and integrity. With the record that this man Brownell has, to make him the nominee of the party would court defeat. A man who was a Judas Iscariot and a Benedict Arnold even to an open enemy into whose confidence he had wormed himself under the sacred plea of friendship, such a man is a proper candidate for the shades of oblivion.

Now the PLAINDEALER is not going to make a fight on the candidate for the Congressional honors after the nomination, it is going to have the matter thoroughly discussed before.

We do not know that Binger Herwill be a candidate to succeed himself in Congress nor do we care; but one thing we do care about and that is, whoever is the candidate, we want him to be a man of whom we can say: Fellow citizens we believe him to be a man worthy of your suffrage; a man who will add honor to the office instead of getting all his honors out of the office. Truly if there is one Republican Congressional candidate of whom it can be said: "Thou are weighed in the balances and found wanting" it is George C. Brownell.

A fierce blizzard and snowstorm has been raging in all the states east of the Rocky mountains for the past four days. The thermometer fell in North Dakota to 30 degrees below zero. On Saturday it was so dark in New York City at noon that the city had to be lighted and then the brightest electric light only made darkness visible.

A railroad collision at Grand Rapids, Mich., on Saturday caused the death of 18 persons and 31 were badly injured. The blizzard blew out the signal and two engines met with a frightful crash and loss of life.

On Saturday, Mrs. Roosevelt entertained 500 children at the White House, while the President slipped in and grinned at the amusement going on.

An Alabama mob, on Friday night, attempted to cover up a lynching and set fire to the jail. The fire was communicated to other property and $35,000 damages was the result.

A Democratic Candidate for President.

A New York special of Saturday, says: "Judge Alton B. Parker's boom for the democratic nomination for President will be launched next Monday evening at a dinner to take place in Sherry's, at which ex-President Grover Cleveland and ex-Senator David Hill will speak. The dinner was arranged by Charles Murphy, and, while it is ostensibly given in honor of Mayor McClellan, it will really show for the first time Murphy's hand in National politics.

Murphy has been in communication with party leaders and has laid his plans to carry the state for the democratic electors. The fact that he has invited and has received acceptances from the Cleveland wing of the party is an indication that the Bryan element has been thrown overboard.

The features of the platform of the democratic party may be outlined at this dinner.

Murphy has not only invited Cleveland and Hill to speak, but has been assured that W. Bourke Cockran, August Belmont, John G. Carlisle, John D. Crimmins A. P. Fitch, Hugh J. Grant and other men of influence in the financial world will sit at the main table. Mr. Cleveland has sent a letter of acceptance.

Mr. Cleveland in his speech is expected to outline what he considers will be the paramount plank in the Democratic platform."

The PLAINDEALER desires it to be understood that it is making no fight on the saloon as a licensed establishment. It is making a fight to cause the saloon to conform to the law of the land the same as any other legitimate business.

Chief Newell, of the Irrigation department of internal affairs will make a visit to Oregon to talk over intended plans for bringing large bodies of land under cultivation.

The Department of Justice will not allow settlers on "overlap" lands in Clark county, Wash., to settle the matter with the railroad company. The government will make its own terms with the parties interested.

Japan has decided to land 15,000 soldiers in Corea.

A New Kind of Quarantine.

The PLAINDEALER learns that Dr. Du Gas has done a good work by issuing a quarantine not dreamed of in Roseburg philosophy. As health officer he finds the conditions prevailing in some of the resorts of the city, likewise the conditions of the inmates, such as to make quarantine necessary as a public protection, and such quarantine was declared this morning.

Olalla.

Christmas day was observed at this place with the usual fine dinners and social meetings of neighbors and friends.

The Christmas tree was tastefully arranged and laden with costly and beautiful presents. "Uncle" John Byron, besides a number of of other presents, received vouchers for his pension and back pension. Of course the old gentleman was well pleased.

The dance on Christmas night was well attended and enjoyed by those who like to indulge in tripping the light fantastic toe.

Installation Ceremonies at the Masonic Hall.

The installation of officers of the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star which occurred at the Masonic Hall Saturday night was largely attended by the members of the two orders and their immediate families, about 200 altogether witnessing the ceremonies. Following the installation of the officers which was attended with most impressive ceremonies, Mrs. I. Wollenberg rendered a selection on the piano, followed by a able address by Hon. G. M. Yoran, o Eugene, Grand Master of Oregon Free Masons, which received a hearty applause. The program concluded with a soprano solo by Mrs. A. T. Steiner. After the ceremonies an elaborate banquet was served, the tables well nigh bending under the load of tempting viands. Special Christmas services were held in the First Presbyterian church last night, the services being attended by a large an attentive audience. From start to finish the program was well rendered and pleasing but special mention is due Mrs. Adams' soprano solo, "Christmas Chimes," Mr. H. W. Out West for 1904.

The publishers of "Out West" published in Los Angeles, Cal., announce that it will be as beautifully illustrated and filled with as entertaining a variety of history, description, story, verse and editorial comment upon life and literature as ever.

Special features announced for the year 1904 are a primary course in Spanish which, it is promised, will be the most complete and satisfactory elementary course of the kind ever published; the very valuable and interesting reminiscences of Gen. John Bidwell, covering his life in California between 1840 and 1850, and a translation of a remarkable treatise on mining printed in 1561. This will be profusely illustrated with reproductions from the splendid engravings included in the original treatise and will show that with the possible exception of cyaniding and a few other recent refinements in chemical process, the miners of that date were familiar with and used substantially every method of mining and reduction of ore now practiced.

Altogether the subscriber to "Out West" for 1904 will get unusually large returns for his two dollars.

A Request.

The prisoners in the County jail would greatly appreciate reading matter, such as books, magazines, papers etc. Time passes very slowly when one is in confinement, but many an other wise dull hour could be passed if we had something to read. We wish to state that the treatment accorded us by Sheriff Parrott and Deputy McClallen is such as is consistent with their sworn duty and is much appreciated by us.

Six Inmates.

Books Lost.

A number of books belonging to the public school library have been lost. The return of any of them will be greatly appreciated. Will the patrons of the school kindly look for such books in their private libraries and return any that may be found?

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the deceased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollors for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
