To Protect Girls at the World's Fair.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Mrs. Warren S. Buxton of Springfield, Mass., president of the international board of Christian associations of older and younger women; Mrs. William S. Stewart of Philadelphia, first Vice President of the board; Dr. Anna L. Brown of Boston, the assistant secretary; Mrs. Charles N. Judson of Brooklyn, one of the trustees; Mrs. R. A. Dorman of Manhattan, vice president of the board of trustees, and several other members of the international board of the Y. W. C. A., held a meeting today, at which Mrs. Buxton, Mrs. Stewart and others made addresses in which the terrible danger to young girls who may go to the World's Fair unattended was dilated on.

It was decided to make a general appeal for funds to supply the money to employ agents to watch all incoming trains to St. Louis to look after girls who seemed to need care and to employ lawyers to prosecute all persons who induced young women to go to St. Louis on false representations.

The meeting was held behind closed doors.

Roosevelt to Defend the Recent Pension Order.

The President hopes to satisfy his critics when he sends to Congress the information, recently called for by the Senate and House, relative to his executive order defining old age to be a pensionable disability. It will be forwarded to Congress very shortly.

The strong point that will be brought out is that in issuing the order of March 15, for which he has been criticised as having by executive act usurped the powers of Congress, he has but followed the distinguished precedent set by Grover Cleveland, the only Democratic president since the Civil war, and endorsed by McKinley, his own Republican predecessor. The President will set forth that in the order of March 15 no new principle had been established, but the executive acts of Cleveland and McKinley have simply been reconstructed and reinterpreted for the benefit of a class of veterans whose claims became more pressing and more deserving of liberal treatment as the years go by.

It was Judge Lochren of Minnesota, democratic commissioner of pensions under Cleveland, who fixed 75 years as the age at which the maximum rate of $12 per month should be paid for disability, and it was H. Clay Evans, republican commissioner under McKinley, who fixed 65 years as the minimum age for which pensionable rate is $6. The President's message will make it appear that in reducing the maximum age to 70 years and the minimum age to 62 years the head and front of his offending has been to follow in the path of his illustrious predecessors.

Glendale Primaries.

As per call for a mass meeting, a number of our citizens met in the city hall Monday evening and nominated the following ticket, which they named "The City Improvement Ticket," to be voted upon at the city election to be held next Monday afternoon, April 14th.

Mayor D. N. Fish acted as chairman and B. K. Montgomery secretary of the meeting.

For councilmen—P. Cattanch and C. Stueffert were nominated, each for two years, and Joe Jones for the one year term.

For recorder—R. K. Montgomery. For treasurer—H. G. Sonnemann. For marshal—Neil Jones.

The citizens who met on Wednesday of last week and nominated "The People's Ticket" met again on Tuesday and nominated J. D. Harper for councilman to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Bowersox. The People's Ticket is now as follows:

For councilmen—E. A. Wall and P. Cattanch, each for two years.

For councilman for one year—J. D. Harper.

For recorder—S. P. Shutt. For treasurer—J. A. Turnbow. For marshal—Neil Jones.—News.

The Race Question.

It is noticeable that lynching, with circumstances of savage cruelty, is practiced in the South under circumstances of lighter provocation than in the South. An ordinary murder such as made trouble at Springfield, would not, as a rule, have been followed by a lynching in the South, where an assent upon a woman is deemed the only justification for the irregular mode of punishment. Delaware, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Illinois, and Indiana—these and other States by their resort to lynching confess to a sentiment which demands exceptional treatment of a race favored by the constitution as amended after the Civil War.—Baltimore Sun.

TRAIN ROBBERY
NEAR REDDING

EXPRESS MESSENGER KILLED AND SAFE DYNAMITED.

THE ENTIRE GANG HAS ESCAPED BUT IT IS THE BELIEF THAT IT'S MEMBERS ARE KESWICK CITIZENS.

REDDING, Calif., April 1.—(Special)—The South-bound Oregon Express was held up at Copley, about 11 miles north of here at 11 o'clock last night, by three masked robbers, and Express Messenger W. J. O'Neal was shot and instantly killed by one of the robbers.

The safe was dynamited from the top, and the top was literally crushed; but the robbers did not secure any booty. The small safe was blown to atoms, and the silver certificates and green backs contained therein was blown into many pieces and scattered over the ground for many feet around. The through large safe was crushed in at the top by the concussion in such a manner that the robbers could not get the gold coin contained therein.

The express car was a total wreck; the entire top being blown off, and the sides literally crushed into fragments. It was taken to the Sacramento yards today.

The Express messenger's remains were brought to Redding last night, and the inquest was held today. He was shot on the left side, just under the arm and the ball ranged upward, slightly, and lodged in the skin of the right arm near the ball and socket joint of the right shoulder, producing instant death.

The robbers compelled the engineer to let them off at Keswick station. It is thought that they are toughs who are holding out in the smaller town of Keswick, but up to the present time they have no definite clue upon which to work.

REDDING, Cal., April 2, 11:30 p. m.—The robbers are still uncaptured. Despite reports received here today to the effect that two of the men had certainly fallen within the pale of the law to answer for their doubly penalized crime, notwithstanding the constant efforts of a hundred men, and regardless of the close cordon thrown around the city of Keswick, the railway bandits are still at liberty.

Discomfited officers, disgruntled citizens and disheartened detectives mark time, while those who shot down Express Messenger O'Neil, wounded Brakeman Stone and demolished a safe containing an amount of money which the Wells-Fargo people still refuse to name, are at large. And the pitiable feature of it all is that none can give a clue of definite worth which will cause the sullen bay of justice to become the victorious bark of retribution.

Today the light of hope flared high. Tonight it flickers fitfully.

But the men who are centered here and at Keswick are not of that stamp which loses tenacity in a first dash. They are of that type which clings to a scent while it lasts, be it ever so faint. The desperadoes have not yet made good their escape, nor, it is firmly believed, will they.

New features have been injected into the case and new beliefs established. The latest, and the one on which the officers are now working, is that there were at least eight men in the holdup. It is believed, too, that the men form a regularly organized and well informed gang and that the robbery of the Oregon express may be but a prelude to other no less daring attempts at crime.

COSMOPOLITAN.

Legal Status of Osteopathy.

Osteopathy is not a confidence game its credentials will satisfy the most exacting. Its legal status is equal to that of medicine. It was first legalized by the legislature of Vermont, in 1896. It was later recognized by law as a system of healing in the states of Iowa, Michigan, Missouri, North Dakota, Illinois, Tennessee, Ohio, California, Montana, Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana, Wisconsin and Connecticut.

There is no state in which the practice of Osteopathy is prohibited. Wherever it has gone, and its practitioners are found in every State and territory of the United States, in Canada, Hawaii, and in some other foreign countries, it has so well demonstrated its claims to recognition that it has been welcomed as a permanent institution. Osteopathy has come to stay. Its only recommendation, now and always, is its power to cure sick people. A sick man cares not what is the theory of the school of practice under which he recovers his health. Thus the people have become the friends of the science. They have prevented every one of the frequent attempts made at the instigation of medical men to pass restrictive measures by which osteopathy would be prohibited. It has gained legal recognition in one third of the states of the union, and this in less than five years.
