Mrs. Louvisa J., consort of Judge Geo V. Phillips, departed this life April 6 1904, at the family residence, near Belle view, Mo. Mrs. Phillips was born in Indiana, November 20, 1842, and was the daughter of Rev. J. M. Carle, who, in his earlier life, was an itinerant Methodist preacher, who served his church in the states of Indiana, Minnesota and Iowa, finally locating in Southern Illinois, where the subject of this outiding of the roads by the labor of notice was reared. August 8th, 1858. she was united in marriage to he now bereaved husband. In early life she gave her heart to God and with her hus band identified herself with the Meth odist church. Her life has been one of devotion to her family and neighbors and of beautiful consistency to her faith and her God. The funeral obsequies were conducted by the writer at the family residence. Then, followed by a large concourse, made up of the young, as well as those who had known and loved her for more than a conster of a century, we laid the worthy dead to rest by the side of her father, who had years ago preceded her to the Land of Spirits. While the remains of this woman sleet in the cemetery near Caledonia, yet w believe that the bereaved husband an three sone and three daughters who survive will, if faithful, meet their loved one "In the Sweet By-and-By."-LESTIE H. and even the vital importance of this policy to our national prosperity and integrity; but not so many of us are aware that government aid to the construction of highways was one of the earliest acts authorized by the government for the internal development of the country.

In the commission's brief it is declared that "the building of a road from tide water to the Ohio country was a pet project of Washington." He did not live to see it acted upon, but in 1811 such a road was begun, and seven years later it was completed at a cost to the United States of $7,000,000. For thirtyour years subsequent to that time ,it was the one great highway over which bassed the mails and the bulk of the rade and travel between the East and the West, and like the $7,000,000 paid for Alaska, the purchase price was repaid to the people of this country many

That seems to at once establish th ropriety and the expediency of the roposition. The commission state ery truly that the money appropriated or roads is largely wasted, for the rea on that the local roadmaster does not now how wisely to expend it, whereas n those States where aid has been given under scientific direction for this purose, "it has worked a revolution. The roads built have convinced the mos ceptical that they not only cost less t $ 100 aintain, but reduce the cost of hauling 244 24 rom 25 to 50 per cent."
