Geological Survey, and at present is working on the boundary between Canada and the United States.

The PLAINDEALER joins their many friends of Douglas county in extending to their congratulations and best wishes. Stanley was the last of the great equatorial explorers. He was a man fearless and determined. His experiences in tropical jungles, with savages and wild beasts, interested the boys of a generation ago most strongly. Said the great explorer on his return to the many audiences he addressed, "Joy's soul lies in the doing, and the rapture of pursuing in the prize." After his work was done he passed from public view. His passing marks the end in a way of old conditions. Soon there will be no "Darkest Africa." Civilization is reaching out to the uttermost parts of the earth. The locomotive disturbs the sunsets where not so many years ago the gorilla was lord of the forest. The thing that Stanley was to do is done. Yet, as a man who found "Joy's soul in the doing," Henry M. Stanley is worthy of place in memory's halls.—Ex.

Mr. Day says of the Improved Mineral Smelting Co., with which he is now connected, that since perfecting the new patent the company have placed a 50-ton plant at Min-ral, Idaho, a 50-ton plant at Sumpter, Oregon, and a 100-ton plant in Mexico. They have also sold a radius of territory in Canada extending over 50 miles square for a consideration of $150,000. As a result of negotiations opened more than eight years ago by James Dunsmuir and F. C. Davidge, of Victoria, B. C., for a direct steamship service between Vancouver and Mexico, aided by subsidy from both interested governments, arrangements have been completed so that the new line may be inaugurated by July. Mexico and Canada each give $50,000 annually. Fourteen-ten steamers are to be employed, with monthly sailings, the steamers to call here inward and outward, and end their northward voyage at Vancouver. Postmaster-General Sir William Mulock reported favorably upon the plan upon his return from Mexico recently. Now Senor Santiago Mendez and P. Mendarais, from Mexico, have closed the deal with the government at Ottawa. Mexico promises to spend dollar for dollar with Canada in promoting the success of the new avenue of trade. Penny postage will also be arranged and trade reports exchanged regularly.

Leading churches of the country have united in a war on divorce. The trouble is deeper seated than the immediate conditions that call for separation. So long as some kinds of marriages take place divorces will follow. The first thing to do is to stop the marriages that feed the divorce mills.

A mass meeting was held at Grants Pass one day last week and a committee was appointed to notify the Southern Pacific Company and all other companies or private parties that might be concerned to immediately discharge all Chinese or other foreign laborers employed by them in Josephine county. The action is tough about, it is said, by the importation of a gang of Chinese to work at the railroad gravel pits in the vicinity, and the Chinamen have since been removed, the Observer says.

Among the multitude of startling circus novelties and trained animal acts which Norris and Rowe are offering this season with their new big two ringed and elevated stage shows, there are two that stand out with more than ordinary prominence. They are the Gardner Family of six persons and the McDonald Brothers. The former perform upon horizontal bars, placed at the top of the huge tent. With such precision of time and accuracy they repass each other and with giant swings toss between them two others of the members of the troupe. It is an achievement bordering the marvelous and requires the greatest possible strength, skill, daring, courage and grace. The McDonald Bros are a trio of sensational trick cyclists. Upon one, two and three wheels, they go through wonderfully intricate maneuvers, riding backwards and forwards on one wheel, riding blindfolded, riding at breakneck speed down long flights of stairs and going through many other difficult evolutions. The acts make a really marvelous spectacle and it is but two acts of the nature which Norris and Rowe have provided for our entertainment this season. The shows will exhibit at Roseburg Monday May 16

Eugene Blues Lose's Retz.

Retz, Eugene's great second baseman, has been sold to the San Francisco Club, of the Coast League. He joined the team on the train going through Eugene Tuesday morning, and will cover his old position in the Seattle-Frisco series at Seattle this week. Retz is in the pink of condition, and will easily be the premier man in his position in the Coast League. In eight games for Eugene he made but one error and hit at nearly a 400 clip. The Eugene Club regrets his departure but is glad to see him resume his proper place in fast company.—Oregon Sportman.

A most peculiar state of affairs has recently developed as the result of the falling off of the supply of salmon in the Yukon river. One of the most happy men in the state of Oregon today is Charles Wickey of the Soldiers home in West Roseburg. When the Civil war broke out, Mr. Wickey, who is a Frenchman by birth, was a resident of Richmond, Va., and enlisted in the Confederate army, but before very much time had expired he found that he was not in sympathy with the south and in attempting to leave the south to join the northern army, he was arrested as a deserter and sentenced to be shot. At about this time McClellan, who was operating through the section where Mr. Wickey was held prisoner captured the camp among which Mr. Wickey was numbered and when he explained his position he was allowed to enlist in the Federal army and made a fine Union soldier. Several years ago Mr. Wickey applied for a pension, but on account of his record as a Confederate soldier it was withheld. Lately all things have been squared up and this week Mr. Wickey was notified that he had been granted a pension of $8 per month and $900 back pay.

An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

This will best serve to show the many new wild animals and birds of rare breeds, trick ponies, horses and lephants, lions, bears, camels and so many other beasts that Messrs.
