The Vote of June.

Unquestionably President Roosevelt is popular in Oregon. Unquestionably he will receive the largest majority ever thrown for a candidate in the state. But as an earnest of their support for him the people of Oregon ought to throw the largest possible majority in June for the party which, later in the month, will make him its formal candidate. A big majority in June will have enormous significance. Any majority in November will suffice.

Closely connected with national politics also is the election of representatives in congress. Hermann and Williamson will be elected, of course; but it is important that their majorities should go towards the highest possible high-water mark. It is the way to assure the country of the earnestness of Oregon for the party and the cause of which President Roosevelt now is the leading representative.

Not for years, if ever before, have the republicans of Oregon been so generally in harmony as they are now. Factional differences have passed away, with disappearance of the causes that produced them. The one thing necessary is to get out the full vote. Remember, therefore that this is the last week of registration.

Two years ago the republican vote for supreme judge was 49,876, and the plurality was 17,146. The republican vote of the state next month should not fall below 55,000, and may much exceed that figure—carrying the plurality above 20,000. The aggregate plurality for representatives in congress should be as large. These results are legitimately to be expected, on a full registration and a full vote. Such majorities are due to the country from the people of Oregon. For Oregon has been treated with great consideration by the republican party and by President Roosevelt. The opportunity of requital will be presented in June. Let us have a full vote.—Oregonian.

Changes Football Rules.

The national committee on intercollegiate football at its recent meeting in Philadelphia, made the following changes in the rules for next fall:

Goal from field to count four points, instead of five.

Six men must be in the line of scrimmage at all times. If seven men are in the line when the ball is snapped, the first man to receive the ball from center may run with it, providing he goes outside the second man from center—that is, the tackle.

Team which is losing can have choice of kick off or the wind, but cannot have both.

The team which loses twenty yards by penalty is not to be given first down.

"Brown's in Town."

"Brown's in Town" is said to be one of the cleanest, brightest and funniest entertainments seen in a long time. The farce is of just the build and texture that makes multitudes of laughs and people would more readily be lashed out of their money than they would be willing to have it cut off by a frown or given up for a too serious drama. This farcical effusion comes to the opera house Thursday, May 28. "Brown's in Town" is about a young couple who are living in the country under an assumed name, so the father of the young man will not hear of the match. Incidentally, every one they know, the father, the wife's suitor, a girl friend, and everybody who should be at home comes around and makes things interesting. Of course it takes a deal of preparation to straighten things out and before the audience knows it, the suitor of the wife is pretending to be her husband and she is obliged to maintain the supposed relationship. The whole thing about the play is "go."

When "Brown" gets to running nothing can stop him but "time to go home." Prices, lower floor, 50 and 75, gallery, 25 and 35.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by A. C. Marsters & Co.

A WORD WITH THE VOTERS OF OREGON

Republican State Central Committee, Portland, Or., May 21.—If the electors of this state will but appreciate the importance of the first gun to be fired off this Presidential year, and will avail themselves of an opportunity to show their appreciation of President Roosevelt and his policies, and their appreciation of the doctrine of the Republican party of this state as enunciated in the platform adopted by the recent State Convention, they will see to it that a full vote is polled on the 6th day of next month. In that event, at least 100,000 votes will be cast, and the majority for Judge Moore, our nominee for Supreme Judge, will be at least 20 per cent thereof, and the combined majorities of our Congressional nominees will equal 20,000.

All that is necessary for the people of the First district to manifest their appreciation of Hon. Binger Hermann's services in Congress is for the voters of that district to go to the polls and vote; and the same thing may be said of Hon. J. N. Williamson, our nominee in the Second District. After the November election nobody East will enquire how Oregon went, but Republicans all over the United State, particularly in doubtful states, should an unprecedentedly large Republican majority be cast at the coming election, will emphasize the question, "Have you heard from Oregon?"

In 1888 Mr. Hermann received a majority of 7407 the largest majority ever received up to that time, there being but one Congressman then. Let the voters of his district see to it that he carries his district this time by a larger majority than he did that memorable election.

FRANK C. BAKER, Chairman.

RUSSIA'S STAR RISING.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 21.—Three things are of interest here tonight. The first is the report that the cruiser Bogatyr grounded off the tortuous Vladivostok entrance, where she now lies waiting for assistance. This the government officials deny, but their report is doubted by many.

The second feature of the war which brings much joy to the Russian mind is that it has been proved that by land the blockade of Port Arthur is not effective.

The third is that by sea, when the time comes, the Russian fleet can come forth, join its allies from the Baltic and make short work through mere superiority of weight of the Japanese squadrons. Port Arthur is not bottled. The cork is out.

Certain it is that the tide has turned in Russia's favor.

With the reversal of the Japanese advance from Feng Huang Cheng, the gallant opening of the Port Arthur line by Stoessel, permitting a train to pass through to the beleaguered garrison and the unbolting of the Port Arthur entrance, there seems to be no doubt that Russia is nearly ready to assume the offensive.

GOVERNMENT HAS NEWS.

The government received news this evening which is a practical confirmation of the report that the road to Port Arthur is again open and that a battle had been fought.

By wireless telegraphy plans were made for a train to come through. General Stoessel at the head of a detachment made a sally from the fortress and met and defeated the Japanese at a point some distance from Port Arthur and nearly on a line with Port Adams.

The reports received here estimate that the Japanese lost nearly 1,000 killed and wounded. The Russian list of casualties were less than 150. The train which was loaded with supplies and ammunition, made its way to the port as soon as the port was clear. The Japanese road destruction seems to have been of a poor order, as the report indicates that but little difficulty was found in making repairs.

Port Can be Entered.

It is reported here tonight, but without any official confirmation, that a dispatch has been received through runners that the entrance to Port Arthur is now sufficiently opened to permit of the fleets operating whenever necessity arises. If this be true there can be no doubt that the Japanese task of stopping the fleet will prove a difficult one.

All arrangements are being made for the complete outfitting of the Baltic fleet, which, when it joins the Port Arthur fleet, will prove formidable.

The Russians are now recovering their wonted confidence and believe the outcome of the war will prove most satisfactory.

The czar today attended a special prayer service of thanksgiving for the recent change of fortune in the war, and seemed for the time to have abandoned his melancholy mien. He appears in better spirits than for some time past, but remains firm in his determination to go to the front.

Great Monetary Deals.

Seldom have so many big financial operations come simultaneously as have taken place within the past few days, comments the Globe Democrat.

The United States has just paid out $40,000,000 on account of the Panama canal. Russia is floating a loan for from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000, and some of the money is being put up by the United States. More than half of Japan's $50,000,000 loan has been furnished in this country, the rest of it being provided by England. New York city has just borrowed $37,000,000 on its stock, at 3 1/2 per cent interest, the money to be used on public improvements which are designed to make that city one of the most attractive spots in the world.

Yet these vast monetary operations have not unsettled the markets to any perceptible degree. New York's loan has all been taken in this country, though Europe's investors were anxious to share in the deal. A premium was obtained for the stock, which proves that New York's credit is good, as it ought to be. Gold is going out of the country rapidly these days on the Panama canal and other accounts, but nobody is showing any concern about the matter. The working balance of the treasury has been reduced by this $40,000,000 disbursement, yet the cash on hand is so large in amount that the void due to the big outgo has not been noticed.

These things show that the United States is especially well provided with cash. A comparison between the present situation, when we are furnishing money to other nations, and the situation ten years ago, in Cleveland's days, when we were borrowing in order to prevent the country from dropping to the silver basis, shows the contrast between Republican and Democratic financing. This lesson will impress the American people. Democratic adversity has been succeeded by Republican prosperity, and the world at large, as well as the American people, was quick to discern the change. These big financial operations of the past few days furnish in themselves a powerful argument for the retention of the Republican party in control of the government. They will add many thousands to the vote which the Republican ticket will receive throughout the country in November.

A special from New York says that bright-eyed Kuki Kato, the Japanese four-months' bride of George D. Morgan, nephew of J. Pierpont Morgan, stood on the thronged deck of the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland today, alone and wistful. A Japanese would have seen at a glance that the dark colors of the native costume she wore expressed a polite sorrow on leaving America, and the bright, cherry-red fan that she was glad to start back to the land of the cherry blossoms to her father, the sword-maker of Kobe. None of her husband's family came to see her and her husband off. In the four months she had been a bride, beyond the affection of the husband there had been no kindness shown her. She had been ignored.
