THE OREGON PANTHER.

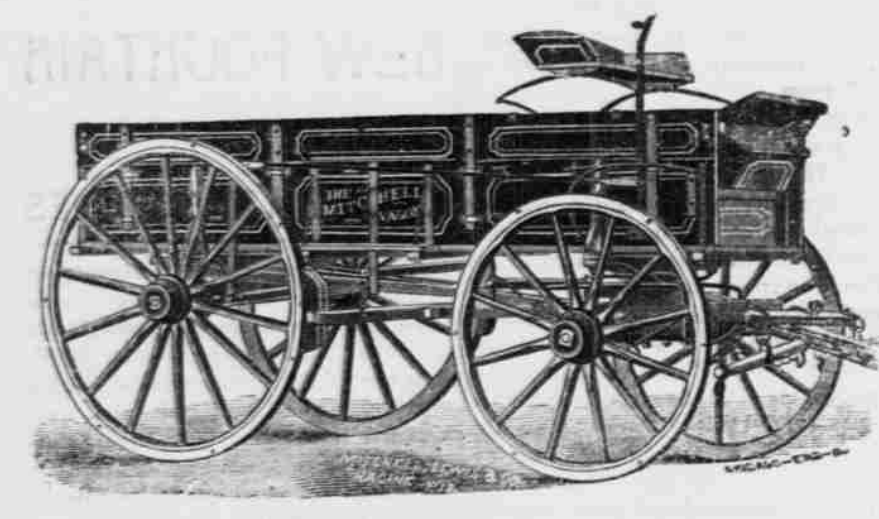

THE GREATEST VIOLATOR OF THE LAW FOR THE PROTECTION OF DEER.

T. C. Scurr, of Dothan, this county, makes the following good point relative to the protection of deer. He writes: "It takes about two little beauties (spotted fawns) each day to satisfy the appetite of the panther. I can find these little fellows nearly every day in the week now, and in the Fall I will perhaps see a hundred large deer before I see one of them, and where are they? It would be much more to the credit of the state to fix a bounty of not less than $25 for the scalp of every panther killed in the state instead of arresting a poor man living in the hills for killing a buck at this time of the year. If the state is too poor to afford a bounty, then the federal government ought to place a bounty on them, for I do believe that a panther kills more deer in a year than any half dozen hunters. It is said that a panther cannot be caught in a trap. I have a steel trap that weighs 42 pounds, and during the last rain storm a panther killed my largest Angora wether. The next day we found what was left of the goat (about one-half) neatly covered up. We set the trap and in four hours had him. I have long since learned that when a panther furnishes the bait himself he can be caught in a trap, and in no other way have I been able to get them into a trap. This is my experience with the cowardly brute."

FANATIC DOWIE AT ZION CITY.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Returning from his tour around the world Eljah Dowie today was welcomed at Zion City by hosts of his followers, who turned out despite a terrific thunderstorm. Dowie, addressing the multitude from a carriage, declared that the thunder peals and the lightning flashes were signs from heaven, signifying the approval of the Almighty.

Popular Lane County Teacher Wedded to Douglas County Young Man. Will Reside at Gardiner.

The marriage of Miss Ennis A. Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Stuart, of Mohawk, to Mr. Mark E. Brownell, of Gardiner, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. O. C. Wright, pastor of the Engene Baptist church, officiating. The wedding was a very pretty affair, about 60 guests being present. The parlor was decorated very beautifully with maiden hair fern and white roses and the ceremony was performed under a wedding bell of white roses. Little Echo Hawk was flower girl and led the bridal party. Miss Maude Hammit was bridesmaid and the bride's brother, Will J. Stuart, was best man. After the ceremony an elegant wedding supper was served on the lawn, which was lighted with Chinese lanterns. Afterwards the wedding party drove to Eugene and the newly married couple took the early morning train for Portland on a honeymoon trip up north. They will reside at Gardiner, where Mr. Brownell is engaged in the sawmill business.

The bride is one of Lane county's fairest daughters and has hosts of friends. She is well known as a school teacher, having taught in several districts in this county and in the Roseburg public schools.

The groom is a wide-awake and prosperous young man and has bright prospects before him.—Eugene Guard.

State and General News.

Lewisburg has a big new lumber mill. Heat prostrations are numerous in the East.

Saw Mills in Rainier and vicinity are doing a big business.

Forest Grove is to have a new $5,000 Congregational church.

Hepner people subscribed $1,800 to improve the cemetery.

About 5,000 crates of strawberries were shipped from Union this season.

The yield of sugar beets in the Grand Ronde valley will be larger per acre than ever before.

A new brickyard at Klamath Falls turned out 7,000 in one day, and will put in a kiln of $8,000.

If it will be any consolation, Williamette valley people who need rain badly may consider that the drought is much worse in California.

A large beet sugar factory may be established in Klamath county, where it is believed the soil is excellent for raising sugar beets.

Willows county expects a railroad next year. If the O. R. & N. company won't build, local capitalists will. This shows a commendable spirit.

Ion Perdicaris and Cromwell Varley, who were captured by the Moor bandit Raisuli, have been released upon the payment of the ransom by the Sultan.

No town in the Willamette valley can boast of the steady growth and up-to-date improvements as well as can Forest Grove this season, declares the News.

A Myrtle Creek man says strawberries in large quantities can be made profitably raised there, as they ripen two weeks earlier than the Hood River or Willamette valley berries.

The Klamath Falls Express has secured an investigation by the post-office department of the alleged nondelivery of copies of that paper to Bly subscribers just before the election.

From the frequency with which King Edward and Emperor William visit, it might be supposed that uncle and nephew were fairly in love with each other, but such may not be the case.

Port Oxford Tribune: George Forty and crew are having good success slaughtering sea lions and gathering murre eggs. More than 200 dozen eggs were taken from the reef rocks alone, in one day, last week.

A package of sheep dip powder had been left lying in a shed near Dayville to which cattle had access for 10 years past, but it was not until the other day that the bovines tried to eat the stuff. Five head licked a little of the poison and all died.

Aginalto is coming over to visit us at last. But he is a small figure in point of public interest as compared with that he cut a few years ago. Still, he will be gazed at considerably, no doubt, and so will be tolerably happy.

Wednesday Eugene Pythians went down to defeat at the hands of the Cottage Grove Knights at Cottage Grove to the tune of 10 to 4. It was an exciting and well played baseball contest. The visit was accorded royal entertainment.

The number of deaths in the Slocum disaster was 905, the greatest loss of life by any marine disaster on record. A jury found the directors of the company and officers of the steamer criminally responsible and have held them to bail in sums ranging from $1000 to $5000.

There are not a few idle men in Portland at the present moment, but this is no indication of hard times. And the number of idle men will augment from now on to 1905, as considerably more laborers will arrive than there will be demand for them.

POSTOFFICE ADVANCED TO SECOND CLASS.

UNMISTAKABLE EVIDENCE OF ROSEBURG'S GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT.

On Friday July 1st, the Roseburg postoffice passed from the third class into the list of the second class postoffices of the United States, by order of the postal department at Washington. This order was issued as a result of the rapidly increasing business of this office, which has brought it up to the second class list. The new order of things gives Postmaster W. A. Frater, an assistant postmaster and one clerk, whereas under the former order he was made an allowance for but one clerk by the department, the second clerk being employed at his own expense. This new order, we understand, places this office under civil service regulations and makes it the second of the Southern Oregon postoffices in this class.

Postmaster Frater has appointed as his assistant Miss Clara McCoy, who has held a position in the office nearly four years and for some time past has been chief clerk. She is thoroughly acquainted with the business of the office and has proven herself very faithful, trustworthy and efficient, and she will fill the position of assistant most acceptably, it being a deserved promotion. Miss Ella Cox will be retained in the office and will become postoffice clerk under the new order, while the services of Miss Wells at the box will probably also be required and continued. With this change in classification, brought about by the volume of business transacted, Postmaster Frater says material changes will probably be made in the matter of more room, more lock and call boxes and better facilities for handling the business generally, an improvement which would be gratifying to the patrons of the office.

PROHIBITIONISTS NOMINATE A PRESIDENTIAL TICKET

S. G. SWALLOW, OF PENNSYLVANIA, FOR PRESIDENT—G. W. CARROLL, OF TEXAS, FOR VICE PRESIDENT

INDIANAPOLIS, June 30.—Chairman Wolfenberger called the big convention to order at 9:30 a. m. Oliver Stewart made a rousing speech concluding with a plea for a campaign fund. No one replied to the query of who would contribute $5000, but W. H. Smith, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., donated $1000. Two qualified in the $500 class, three in the $300, two in the $250 and quite a number in smaller amounts. There was a flood in the $100 class, including I. H. Amos, of Oregon, and Clara Crowhurst, of California. F. M. Kirchner of Oregon; contributed $150. Of the smaller contributions from $50 down there was a veritable deluge. The collection netted $11,000. At the afternoon session Chairman Stewart announced pledges to the amount of $16,000. The credentials committee reported and Cyclone Davis, of Texas, spoke. The platform was adopted amid wild enthusiasm. General Miles telegraphed the convention this afternoon that he would not accept the nomination for president refusing to permit his name to be used in the convention. W. W. Hague placed Silas C. Swallow, of Pennsylvania, the veteran leader, in nomination for president. Thos. Orwig, of Iowa, seconded the nomination. There were no other candidates.

Swallow was nominated by acclamation. George W. Carroll, of Texas, received the nomination for vice president by acclamation.

THE PLATFORM.

The Prohibition platform declares the destruction of the system of legalized sale of alcoholic beverages to be the most important question in American politics and denounces the lack of statesmanship exhibited by the leaders in the Democratic and Republican parties in their refusal to recognize the paramount important subject. Six planks deal with liquor traffic venturing into broader fields. The platform declares in favor of impartial enforcement of all laws safeguarding the people's rights by rigid application of principles and justice to all combinations of capital and labor, the wise adoption of the principles of the initiative and referendum and international arbitration; reform in the divorce laws, extirpation of polygamy and the overthrow of illegal sanction in the social evil.

CHEATING CONSUMPTION.

A Strenuous Young Lady Adopts the Open Mountain Air Treatment and is Cured.

This true story comes from Lake Cushman in the wooded wilds of western Washington:

Miss Margaret Whitmore, a young college girl whose home is in New Orleans, is here in the Olympic mountains cheating consumption of a victim and giving the lie to the decision of a number of learned doctors, who, after a grave consultation some six months ago, pronounced her a hopeless invalid with a bare half year to live.

Miss Whitmore was seemingly in a decline in New Orleans and her lungs were thought to be affected, but when the doctors said she could not live she refused to accept their decree. With her mother and a companion she set out for western Washington, and when she arrived at Lake Cushman, she immediately began a system of out-of-door life and sleeping under the skies. She refused even the shelter of the tent which her mother and companion slept in, and despite all protests spent the coldest nights out of doors, except when the rain made that impossible. She began to grow stronger almost immediately, and to her tramp through the woods she added other exercises. Hunting and fishing and occasionally chopping down trees grew to be her favorite pastimes, and as skirts were hampering in all of these pursuits she discarded them and substituted a neat masculine costume of sweater and golf trousers with high boots.

That Miss Whitmore's plan has successfully held consumption at bay and restored the invalid to robust health is attested by the fact that she has increased in weight from 108 pounds to 133 pounds, and that she is firm of flesh and hard-muscled.

Notwithstanding the latter fact and that the plucky young woman is now past all danger of the fatal malady, she refuses to go back to her southern home. She has become so fond of her free life in the woods that she says she intends to spend the summer here, camping out and "roughing it." It is her pride that all the firewood burned in the camp is felled and chopped by her ax, and old lumbermen who have seen her at her work say that she handles the ax like a veteran wood chopper.

The usual rains, which seldom fall Southern Oregon in June, did not arrive this season, and it is unusually dry as a result.
