TROOPS LEAVE FOR ENCAMPMENT

COMPANY D. JOINS COMPANY B. OF ASHLAND AT THIS PLACE WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Pursuant to orders from the adjutant general the troops of the Oregon National Guard took their departure Wednesday evening for American Lake, Washington, to join the annual encampment. Company D, about 55 strong commanded by Capt. F. B. Hamlin marched from the Armory in this city in heavy marching equipment to the 11:45 p. m. overland and their special car was attached to the car carrying Company B of Ashland. A large crowd gathered at the depot to see the soldier boys off and wish them a pleasant and profitable encampment, the two companies and the crowd of spectators presenting a very animated scene about the depot. The companies of the First Separate Battalion, Major Geo. O. Yoran, Commanding, left their home stations as follows:

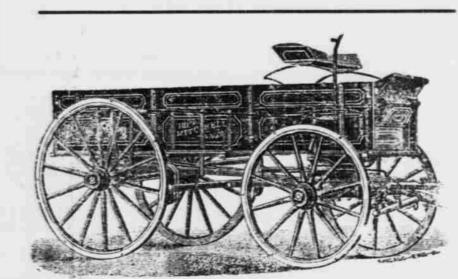

Company B, Ashland, July 6, 4:25 p. m.; Company D, Roseburg, July 6, 11:45 p. m.; headquarters, Co.'s A and C, Eugene, July 7, 3 a. m. Upon arrival at Portland the battalion commander will report to Colonel C. U. Gantenbein, Third Infantry.

The whole organization of Oregon troops will leave Portland on two special trains of fourteen cars each. The first train will leave the Union depot at 9:30 o'clock and the second train about one hour later. The trains should reach their destination, stations of Lake View and Huggins' Crossing about six hours after leaving Portland.

Sucker Creek Gold Discovery.

How a whipped dog brought a fortune now in Portland from the Sucker Creek

Free gold amounting to $31,000 had been taken out of the Briggs ledge on Sucker Creek up to last Thursday, according to Mr. Kramer, a millman of Douglass, who is now in Portland. Besides this the ledge has been traced for a distance of 200 feet along the surparing to put up a stampmill on the property in order to turn the gold into bullion in the shortest possible time.

Mr. Kramer, who knows all the cirhis dog to take a deer trail. The dog refused to do so, and young Briggs, becoming angry, beat the canine in order to make him do better. While scurrying about the hillside a rusty-looking rock was turned over and on its under side the gold glittered in such a way as to interfere with the dog-whipping process instanter. The trail of the deer was also considered of secondary importance, as young Briggs knew he had thousands of dollars in sight.

"At present the hills around the head of Sucker Creek are alive with prospectors," Mr. Kramer said, "and I look for more big discoveries before the summer is over. The region is high up in the Siskiyous, within a few rods of the California line, and the prospecting will be a pleasant outing for bundreds, even should they not succeed in finding any-

Pheasants May Be Shot.

Albany, Ore., July 2.-State Game Warden J. W. Baker is authority for the statement that hunters may kill Chinese pheasants this year during the open season without fear of prosecution. At the last session of the Legislature a bill was introduced to protect the pheasants until October 1, 1906. This bill was reported to have passed both houses. and people had given up the idea of kill-Crawford that officers of the lower house, in going over and correcting the records of the session preparatory to records of the session preparatory to sending them to the printing office, had discovered that the bill did not receive discovered that the bill did not receive a majority of all the members elected to the House of Representatives, and hence failed to pass.

Terrible Marine Disaster.

LONDON, July 4 .- The Danish Transatlantic liner Norge, which left Copenhagen June 22, for New York, laden with emigrants, struck Rockall Reef, 290 miles off the west coast of Scotland, last Tuesday June 28, and went down. The Norge carried 768 persons, and of these less than 200 have been accounted for. All the rest are thought to be lost. The Norge went down half an hour after she struck, while her decks were still black with passengers. The captain refused to leave the ship, and was seen on the bridge in an attitude of prayer when the vessel went down.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoes Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much Watch Repairing in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by A. C. Mars-

ROSEBURG DID NOT GELEBRATE-GROWDS WENT TO OAKLAND, DILLARD, YONCALLA AND ELSEWHERE.

The Fourth of July was naturally quiet in Roseburg, most of the inhabitants going to neighboring towns, where the national birthday was fittingly celebrated. A large number of the townspeople went to Oakland, Yoncalla and Dillard, where the day was observed with the biggest celebrations ever held in Douglas county and the little cities did themselves proud. Others found their way to the wildwood and elsewhere, while those few who stayed at home passed the day as they would any ordinary holiday. The children celebrated in spite of the fact that the city held no formal observance of the occasion and kept up the usual din with firecrackers and bombs. However, the little folks seemed to enjoy the day and made their share of noise. Hon. Dexter Rice orated at Oakland, Geo. M. Brown at Canyonville, while Hon. O. P. Coshow filled a similar engagement at Glendale. Among the other places in the county which held celebrations were Elkton and Gardiner, while public picnics were held at Glide; Olalla and other places.

Babe Found on River Bank.

sation in the neighborhood of the river bridge that is furnishing material for the people to talk about to their hearts'

Last night about 7:30 o'clock, while looking for his cowe slong the bank of the Willamette in the vicinity of Barker's sawmill, L. M. Beebe was surpriced to hear the wailing of a little child in a thicket of brush on the very edge of the bank. On further investigation the old man was fairly startled to see a tiny nude babe lying face down in the bushes. He was bewildered and did not know what to do, so went quickly and notified some of his neighbors.

A little crowd of wondering women and men followed Mr. Beebe to the babe and Mrs. Henry Hopkins picked the little unfortunate up, put it in her apron and took it to her home. The little mite of a girl was perfectly nude. It was badly ecratched and in a deplorable condition. Mrs. Hopkins, with the assistance of several kind neighborly women, tenderly cared for the child, washing, dressing and feeding it so that it soon was perfectly content and eleeping peacefully.

From the evidence it is presumed that the child had been thrown in the brush several hours before by some fiendish person in order to hide the shame and d sgrace of its mother. The officers were notified and immediately began to work on the case, as some good clues were given them.

It seems, however, that they have discovered the girl who gave birth to the child, but inasmuch as that no crime against the statutes has been committed in neglecting the waif, and as the child will live and is being cared for, no action will be taken against the mother. The officers and people who live in the vicinity of the bridge are certain that they know who she is.

One old lady after examining the child carefully volunteered the statement that it was "really a pretty little thing," and tree down there that babies grow on, into the bushes."

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets Better than a Doctor's Prescription.

Mrs. J. W. Turner, of Truhart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine.
