WHOLESALE AND RETAIL HOUSE FURNISHERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Osborn and son, Grant, returned home Tuesday evening from a two weeks outing at Newport.

Dr. Pearson has removed his dental office to rooms in the Taylor-Wilson building, formerly occupied by Dr. Studley.

Mrs. Amanda Whitney returned last week from a trip to Portland and Newberg, and a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Clements, at La Grande.

J. E. Winniford was over from Lower Calapooia Monday. Threshing is just completed there, the yield of fall sown grain being very good on the Calapooia.

Judge Thompson says the building of the new fence about the Court House enclosure has no political significance whatever; but is simply effective steps to prevent Bill Cardwell's geese from pasturing on the Court House lawn.

Hon. A. C. Marsters went to Portland Tuesday to attend the grand Republican rally at that place Wednesday evening and at Salem this evening, on the occasion of the visit and opening campaign speeches delivered by Secretary Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. John Livingston and sons, of Peel, were in town Tuesday enroute home from French Settlement where they attended the funeral of their son and brother, Jean Claud Livingston. The deceased was aged 24 years, 2 months and 17 days.

Salem Journal: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Perkins, of Drain, are guests of their son, Wm. T. Perkins, of the state treasurer department. Miss Susie Watson, of Roseburg, has come to make her home with Attorney-General and Mrs. Crawford, and attend school at Salem.

Prof. G. Conley arrived at this place last week from Saylor Springs, Illinois, and has decided to locate here permanently. He is an able and practical young school teacher and comes very highly recommended. He is at present looking for a position as teacher of some of the district schools of this county. He appears to be a very worthy young man.

Monday witnessed an important transaction at Eugene when Leonard G. Brown, sold to Duncan Scott a patent on a lemon squeezer device for the sum of $12,000. It is combined with a device for separating the yolk from the white of an egg, the principle of which depends upon the greater specific gravity of the yolk over the white.

Mrs. E. J. Beidler and son, Ira, accompanied by Miss Anna Richards, of the Calapooia valley, visited Roseburg Tuesday and favored the PLAINDEALER with a pleasant call. The Beidler Bros. have rented the farm known as the Cooper place 3 miles north of Wilbur, of A. F. Brown and will move thereon and take possession about Oct. 1. It is a good farm and the boys being first class farmers will no doubt do well on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lewellen and little son of Myrtle Point arrived in this city Tuesday evening enroute to their old home to visit with relatives and friends whom they have not seen for many years. They were accompanied as far as Roseburg by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hampton who are visiting with Mr. Hampton's sister, Mrs. Walter Pickhorn, in this city and also at the old Hampton home in Ten Mile.

Judge J. W. Hamilton returned home from Gold Beach, Curry county, Monday evening where he has been holding a term of Circuit Court. He was accompanied as far as Port Orford on his trip over by his family who enjoyed a seaside outing at that place, the family returning home with the Judge. The rain of last Saturday night did not extend over to Coos county, hence very dusty roads are reported over the Roseburg, Myrtle Point stage route.

Development work is in progress at the Briggs property, Sucker creek district, southern Oregon, that will prove the permanency and depth of the rich deposit that has commanded such wide attention of late. Lessee Staples is driving a short crosscut, which will give a depth of 35 to 40 feet on the vein at a point almost directly under where the rich gold has been mined this summer. While this is little depth it will prove whether the magnificently rich ore found at the surface is in the nature of a chimney, bunch or ore shoot.

In sending a subscription remittance to the PLAINDEALER a Coos county subscriber says: "I have just visited a ten acre Coquille Valley hop yard and the hops look fine. It is one of the few hop yards in the county. People from hop-growing sections say it is as fine as any in the state. If it proves all right there will be many yards planted next year. Crops are fine here, of all sorts, still they tell us that this has been an uncommonly dry year. This is a fine dairy country, nearly every one milks cows and all seem to make money. The county shows thrift, as all have good, neat, houses and barns, and good stock."

Dr. E. V. Hoover returned home from above Glide Tuesday afternoon where he was called Monday afternoon to attend Burley Wright, the 17-year-old son of C. H. Wright. While returning from Klamath county, accompanied by a son of Chas. Watson, of Peel, young Wright, when mounting his horse Sunday morning, about 15 miles above the fish hatchery at Steamboat, accidentally discharged his shotgun, the charge frightfully mangled his right wrist. It was with much difficulty that the boy reached the home of his parents at Lone Rock, a distance of 45 miles. Dr. Hoover found it necessary to amputate the arm above the wrist and left the patient resting easy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Handaker, for many years residents of the Umpqua valley, were in Roseburg this morning on their return to their Eugene home from Coquille City, where they have been enjoying a pleasant visit with a son. The venerable old pioneer couple came to Oregon 51 years ago, and "Uncle" Sam was engaged in all of the Indian wars in this state. An interesting story of those thrilling pioneer incidents from his own pen will be published in the PLAINDEALER in serial form commencing with our next issue, which will no doubt be read with great interest by the old settlers, as well as all of the other readers of the PLAINDEALER. Mr. and Mrs. Handaker will spend the coming winter in Southern California.
