Mrs. E. E. Thornton killed a deer on the premises of Mrs. O'Neil on Upper Calapooia a few days ago.

Mrs. Maggie Carter has arrived from South Dakota and will in the future reside with her father, C. G. Durland, on Lower Calapooia.

William Brown & Co., of Salem, have purchased the remaining 14,000 pounds of hops in the Stearns yard. Shipment was made yesterday.

W. A. Taylor went to Drain the first part of the week, where he purchased 18,000 bushels of wheat which will be shipped to Oakland and converted into Charter Oak flour.

Miss Alma Hanna is holding a position in a Cottage Grove Millinery store. Many friends regret Miss Hanna's departure from Oakland and hope she has a desirable position.

Mrs. M. C. Shambrook and daughter, Miss Cecil, went to Portland Wednesday, where they will remain a few days and may then visit the fair at St. Louis. Many friends wish them a pleasant visit and safe return.

Among the many exhibits at the office of the Oakland Real Estate Co., is a cluster of flaming Toka grapes from the farm of J. F. Whitney that again demonstrates the fact that vineyards will pay in Southern Oregon.

Among the products of C. H. Maupin's farm near Kellogg is a well matured sun flower, with a stock 10 feet long, and a squash weighing 78 pounds. And yet "Cap" says he is making no special pretense at fancy farming.

R. L. Stephens returned from Portland Tuesday evening. Mr. Stephens reports that his son Herman is in the Crystal Springs hospital at Mount Tam, improving very rapidly and will perhaps return home completely relieved from an attack of partial facial paralysis in a couple of weeks.

Dave McCollum took a wagon load of provisions to his mill on Hinkle Creek Wednesday. The goods were hauled by two ox teams. Do not infer from this paragraph that Oakland is slow. Dave learned to drive oxen in Missouri years ago and naturally feels at home while going to a mill on a horse, but he is coming to fall in line right away and adopt only up-to-date methods. He now thinks automobiles, electric cars, electric lights and all other modern improvements are none to fool for Oakland.

The Farmers' Institute was called to order Wednesday at 1 p. m. by Chairman A. F. Brown. At his request the audience remained standing and sang the National air, "America." The address of welcome by J. L. Hunt was a masterly effort, clearly showing the speaker has progressive ideas along the lines of modern farming. The speaker said a practical education is required in farming the same as in any other calling. He believes in good roads, rural mail routes, telephones and all other methods calculated to place the tiller of the soil in touch with both the scientific and business world. Mr. Hunt's words of welcome were heartily received by Dr. Withycombe and associate instructors from the Agricultural College at Corvallis.—Owl.

Civil Engineer R. W. Fenn, returned Friday from Elkhon, where he has been looking over the workings of the Umpqua Coal Co. They are now running a second tunnel on the opposite side of the mountain from the former workings. The new tunnel is in a depth of about 70 feet, and they now have a 30-inch vein of high grade coal, and the vein is widening rapidly. The work is progressing in good shape, and Mr. Fenn is much pleased with it.

Mrs. S. C. Bartram will go to Portland tomorrow to attend, as a Douglas County delegate, the Annual State Convention of the W. C. T. U., which convenes in that city Oct. 19, 20 and 21st. Mrs. Bartram, at the close of the Convention, will spend several weeks visiting with friends in the metropolis, and at other northern Oregon points. The general Forest Supervisor will probably proceed to entertain his friends (gentlemen) in regal style at his spacious home in the absence of his better seven-eights.

Concluding a business letter to the PLAIN DEALER Prof. J. B. Horner, Registrar of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, says: The following list of students from your county are already at college here. It affords me pleasure to say that they are all progressing nicely as far as I can learn. We want more of the kind; hence you can be of great value to us by increasing the quantity. The quality is very satisfactory indeed. They are Fred Adams, Roseburg; Kate Delores Adams, Myrtle Creek; William Sylvester Andrews, Gardiner; Clifford Stuart Benson, Roseburg; Henry Ludwig Bergman, Gardiner; Inez Romana Colvig, Canyonville; Finley Imbert, Wheeler; Bert Pilkington, Oakland; Richard Manville Robinson, Riddle; Beattie Hart Wilson, Frank Jackson Wilson, Jessie Agnes Wilson, Canyonville.

City Council Compromises.

At a special meeting of the City Council Thursday evening called for the purpose of perfecting a settlement of an old claim held against the city by the water company, the latter being represented by Governor Chamberlain, the following resolution was adopted:

On motion made by D. S. West and duly seconded by C. W. Parks, it was resolved that if the Roseburg Water and Light Company will give the City Council of the City of Roseburg, as may hereafter be determined upon, an indemnity bond of double the amount agreed upon as a compromise of their claim, the city will pay as a compromise of said claim $100 per month as a reasonable compensation for services rendered in furnishing light to the City between about the spring of 1902 and about the spring of 1904, less deductions for loss to be agreed upon by the city and said company.

Old company's claim—For lighting from March 1902 to March 1904, $2,438.50 from which there is a deduction of about $184 for services not received, leaving a balance of $2,254.50.

City's proposition—To pay the bill at the rate of $100 per month, $25 less than the contract price, giving the city a rebate of $600 on the whole bill and leaving the company a balance of $215.50.

Governor Geo. E. Chamberlain, who was present in behalf of the company, gave the assurance that under a stipulation executed by the attorneys in the injunction suit, the injunction issued by Judge Hanna, of the lower court, and which is now pending before the Supreme Court, would be dismissed by the latter in case an amicable settlement of the case was reached between the opposing parties. As to the City's proposition for a settlement, Governor Chamberlain stated that he would submit it to the company and immediately after their action thereon would communicate with the mayor of Roseburg, who would call a special meeting of the council to authorize payment of the reduced claim, if same is accepted by the company.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The saloon bonds of the following persons were approved: Fred Poquette, C. L. Reed, T. C. Bloomer & Co., Frank Goodman, A. Johnson, J. E. Cochran, C. H. Harmon, Frank Kennedy, S. W. Dugger and Chaddick & Chappell.

Four bids were submitted on the work of furnishing material and building corner walks and gutters around the city hall, as follows: G. Worthington, $533; H. J. Clark, $525; F. F. Patterson, $510; M. W. Aldrich, $635. The smallest of these four bids represented more money than the council thought they should expend at this time, and all four bids were rejected.

A very animated and somewhat acrimonious discussion arose over street improvements between the Mayor and Councilmen Norman and Sykes, the result of the Mayor's refusal to consent to the payment of the bill of Jasper Wilkins for the improvement of the east end of Cass street on the ground that the requirements of the contract had not been carried out.

Toward the close of the day the average business man has met so many grumblers that if a man comes in with the right kind of a smile on his face he can get anything he wants.

I. L. Campbell is Dead.

EDWEN, Or., Oct. 18.—I. L. Campbell, pioneer editor of the Eugene Guard, who was seized with a paralytic stroke yesterday, died at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Assistant Supervisor A. S. Ireland and Forest Rangers G. M. Ingram, R. J. Watson and F. L. Calkins, came in from the mountains on the 15 inst., after a strenuous summer's work. Mr. Ireland reports that they had numerous small fires, no serious or destructive fires prevailed in the Southern Division of the Cascade Forest Reserve this season.

A HARMONIOUS ARRAY.

A rare treat awaits those who will pay a visit to the Barr Music House.

The fall opening sale at Barr's Music House is proving a great success and careful buyers are taking advantage of it. Instruments are leaving the store every day, and why should they not when a few dollars down and 20 cents each day will make the monthly payments on a fine piano.

Think of a fine new piano for $300 or a fine new Needham that usually sells for $350 for $258, and the Kimball which is known all over the world as one of America's best pianos for $325. They are also showing a large stock of other fine pianos such as the Herbert M. Cable, Lester, Victor, Jacob Doll, Bailey, Bone and the Weiser, the many toned piano. They are also showing a fine stock of Kimball, Crown and Burdette organs. All these instruments are to go at the same easy terms and extremely low figures. Don't say you can't afford it for any man with a small salary can own one of these fine pianos or organs and under our easy payment plan will not miss the money he will use in keeping up the payments.

Barr's Music House is also showing a fine line of small instruments, such as graphophones, ranging in price from $4.00 to $40.00; violins, from $2.50 to $35.00; guitars, from $4.00 to $30.00; mandolins, from $2.00 to $25.00, and in fact, we can supply you with anything known to music. Call and make your selections and let us quote you terms and prices, or write for catalogues with particulars. Old instruments taken in exchange.

Apples that bulge with size, glow like the damask of fair maid's cheek and bursting with flavor, are being snugly packed in boxes at the Eugene cannery by deft hands. "Oregon Apples" is the inscription boldly lettered on each box. About one carload of fruit per day is being packed ready for shipment to California. A large force, including 25 girls and women, is employed at the plant.—Register.
