Work on Elks Temple.—The great steel girders and rods for the Elks Temple in this city arrived this week after a long delay which has caused a suspension of construction work on the building for the past month or more. Contractor Hunter will now get his force together and prosecute the work with all vigor.

Installation at Oakland.—Wednesday morning a large number of Roseburg Odd Fellows and Rebekahs went to Oakland to conduct the joint installation of the new officers in that city Wednesday evening. The installation was under the directions of Dr. J. C Twitchell, D. D. G. M. and Miss Marie Jones, D D. P. Among the Roseburgers in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Lewis, G. W. Dimmick, Z. N. Agee, Dr. J. C. Twitchell, Wm McGregor, Mrs. D. S. West, Miss Mae Fisher and Miss Marie Jones. A splendid banquet followed the installation and a grand time is reported.

Will Have to Be Shown.—Those who know Henry Booth, Receiver of the Roseburg Land Office, who was removed from his position Monday, at the instance of Mr. Heney, who is investigating the land frauds, will have to be "shown" before they will be ready to believe that gentleman guilty of any criminal or other unworthy conduct in the conduct of his office. Mr. Booth belongs to a family that has been respected in Oregon for a great many years, and one that has been worthy of respect—and he himself has been a clean handed gentleman.—Salem Statesman.

Plaindealer Force Entertained.—Frank H. Rogers, business manager of the Plaindealer and his estimable wife, entertained the Plaindealer force at supper in their cozy home near the high school Wednesday evening. After the sumptuous and appetizing repast the evening sped all too swiftly with music and bunco, flinch and crockonole games, the company disbanding and returning to their respective homes at a late hour, all unanimous in their expressions of appreciation for the generous hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, who proved themselves splendid entertainers.

Whose Is It.—A. B. Mott, agent for the National Art and Crayon Co., of Chicago, in receiving and delivering enlarged pictures in this county, has received a photograph and enlarged portrait minus the local address. On the back of the photo appears the name "Nancy Oliver," and the photo and crayon picture may be secured by calling at the Plaindealer office. tf

A Fine Open Winter.—The sight of a gasolene bicycle spinning down Roseburg's main street in midwinter was somewhat of an unusual sight, but nevertheless was an actual occurance Wednesday Jan. 11, the street being comparatively free of mud. This speaks volumes for Southern Oregon's winter climate. A little later in the day John R. Sutherlin took a spin in his automobile. Great is balmy Oregon.

The New Hospital.—Providence Hospital is the name to be given to the new hospital soon to be erected in West Roseburg. Work will probably commence on the building by the end of February. Those who have generously promised donations are requested to give them as soon as possible.

Wanted.—Partner. $500 will buy one-half interest in the best paying Furniture and Housefurnishing store in Portland, or will sell out entirely for $1000 Have other business to attend to. Address FURNITURE STORE, 530, Washington St., Portland, Oregon.

Strawberry Plants for Sale.—Excelsior and Wilson strawberry plants, 50 cents per hundred, or $2.50 per 1000 f. o. b. Address J. H. Younce, Dillard, Ore. M1

Local and Personal.

The Plaindealer is a real news paper and is generally regarded as such. It is not an editoral nonentity, but has convictions and opinions which it is not afraid to express. Single handed and alone it called attention to Lane county's landgrabbing scheme and advocated action against the movement. A liberal appropriation for the Drain Normal was also exclusively championed by this paper editorally, as is every matter of importance to the people. The Plaindealer is indeed a newspaper, not a nondescript.

An Alabama man has been sent to jail for 30 days because he kissed a girl after she said "Please don't!" That judge must be either ignorant or malicious, or else he would know that when a girl says "please don't" a young man has a right to suppose she means "please do."

J. T. Spaugh an enterprising farmer, of Looking Glass favored the Plaindealer with a pleasant call today while transacting business in town. He is enthusiastic good road advocate and an says that a marked improvement has been made in the road between Roseburg and Looking Glass. He says he has not been a "duck hunting" lately.

The many friends of Mrs. S. M Kelly will be sorry to learn that she will be compelled to enter a hospital again soon for treatment for rheumatism. It is planned for her to go to Portland Saturday to enter the hospital, Dr. J. C. Twitchell to accompany her to that city from which place he will take his departure for the east to enjoy a visit with relatives and friends as well as visit prominent medical institutions.

Horace T. Jones, special agent of the general land office, who was stationed at Roseburg last summer and fall, has returned from the east where he has been enjoying a vacation after fifteen months close application to business He informed the Plaindealer that he visited with interest the burned district in Baltimore in his absence as well as the cities of Boston, Philadelphia, New York and Washington, returning to Oregon by way of New Orleans, Galvaston, over the southern railroad route. He feels and looks much, invigorated by his enjoyable vacation.

A Generous Donation.—The J. G Flook Company generously donated the doors and windows required in the reconstruction of the residence of Lincoln Wright which was totally destroyed by fire lately. Many citizens of Roseburg also donated liberally to a fund to assist Mr. Wright to provide another house for his family which lost everything they possessed in the fire This action is certainly most commendatory on the part of the Roseburg people.

"TWIXT LOVE AND MONEY"

Drama Presented by Local Talent Benenefit of the Roseburg Orchestra, was a Success.

Quite a large and enthusiastic audience greeted the local amateur theatrical company, which under the directions of the Roseburg Orchestra presented the splendid four act comedy drama entitled "Twixt Love and Money," at the Roseburg Theater Monday night. The cast was evenly balanced and the assignment of the various roles were fortunate in that they were sustained by those eminently well equipped and naturally qualified for their creditable interpretation. It seems as if the role of each character had been especially written for his or her special dramatic characteristics for instance the comedy role of Jimmel Briggs, the fluent hotel promoter, was most admirably sustained by Roy Bellows, while the part of leading man, Herbert Van Allen, a young man of wealth, in this difficult play, was very creditably and ably sustained by Sid Steward. Major Warrington, the blind veteran and counselor at law, was most effectively interpreted by Fred Steward, whose free and easy bearing and calm deliberation, won for him just praise. M. F. Wright, was burdened with two difficult roles, first the gallant sea captain and lastly uncle and guardian of Herbert Van Allen, he being decidedly at home and appearing most cleverly in the latter role especially, while his stage scuffle and gun play in the former character with Herbert Van Allen his rival for the hand of Lillian Brough, was most true to life and the subject of much complimentary comment.

Walter Gagnon, as Bill Clench, a fisherman; A. Q Johnson, the bold, bad villian, each proved clever characters. Nelse Osmundson, as the old fisherman Justice and Miss Agnes Pitchford, as his eccentric wife, each played good comedy parts and received the hearty approval of the audience. Miss Eva Messler, as Peggy, the maid, proved herself a charming little soubrette, and sustained this prominent and difficult role with all the vivacity, grace and ease of many similar characters in the road companies which have visited Roseburg this season. She is particularly adapted to the soubrette character and with ordinary advantages would certainly distinguish herself in this particular role. Miss Gertie Rast who sustained the part of "leading lady," though not so well adapted to this emotional role owing to her vivacious and sunny disposition, nevertheless interpreted the difficult part in a most creditable manner and received her full share of approbation As we stated in the beginning the cast was very evenly balanced, and considering the comparatively short time for rehearsals, the play was most creditably and satisfactorally presented. Another commendable feature of the play was the absence of tiresome delays between acts. There was something doing every minute.

Many creditable specialties were introduced, among which was a cornet solo, "The Holy City" with orchestra accompaniment, by I. E Belfils; negro character sketch by Dee Matthews, who for an encore delighted the audience with a characteristic buck and wing dance The "Railroad Quartette," consisting of Messrs. Veatch and Parish in Conductor's uniform, and Forbes and Ross as Engineers, made a great hit and answered hearty encores. The affair added another bright page in the records of local dramatic events The door receipts will be applied on the purchase of new evening dress suits for the orchestra members.

"A Little Outcast."

E. J. Carpenter's great production, "A Little Outcast," which has been the great record breaker of the past two years has begun its third season in a blaze of glory and will be seen at the Roseburg theatre Thursday evening Jan. 12th. Not content with having reached the top notch of perfection in a scenic way Mr Carpenter has gone a step far ther than his fellow managers and has secured the most expensive cast seen in a melo-dramatic production.

The characters are neatly drawn, the dialogue is witty and the entire play passes off to a rippling accompaniment of laughter and tears. "A Little Outcast" the story of a New York waif is a play for all classes, it shows one how the world lives and every scene is true to life, depicting the pleasures, misery and crime in the crowded sections of New York as well as that misery and grief hidden in the mansions of Millionaires Row.

Notice of Construction of Sewer.

Notice is hereby given that the city of Roseburg, Oregon, has by ordinance determined to construct a sewer as follows: Commencing at the south east corner of Oak and Chadwick Streets, running thence westerly along the south side of Oak Street to connect with the sewer on Main Street. That W. S. Hamilton, F. W Haynes and J. F. Barker were appointed as viewers thereof, and have filed their report recommending that the said sewer be constructed. That the said committee reports:

That the following lots, and the owners thereof, are directly benefited by the construction of said sewer:

OUR 1905 New Year's Greetings

To all Our Friends And Customers

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The most satisfactory and successful year in the history of our business has just closed. It has been a busy year and our success has been satisfactory. So it is fitting that we should give thanks to those who have given us success. We wish to assure you of our appreciation as no firm feels more appreciative than we do.

For 1905 we offer you this: We are going to try harder than ever before to merit your trade. We are going to have a better and a larger stock to select from. We will also assure all that prices will be based on small margins. We desire to make this store a shopping home for all.

Again we thank one and all for your liberal patronage—and if through error or omission we have wronged anyone to the amount of anything we sincerely ask you to call and let us know. Asking you to keep in mind.
